Country Women Cope with Hard Times Melissa A. Walker, 2012-10-15 Rare glimpses into the hardscrabble lives of rural Southern women and a model for oral history practice It was hard times French Carpenter Clark recalls a sentiment unanimously echoed by the sixteen other women who talk about their lives in Country Women Cope with Hard Times Born between 1890 and 1940 in eastern Tennessee and western South Carolina these women grew up on farms in labor camps and in remote towns during an era when the region's agricultural system changed dramatically As daughters and wives they milked cows raised livestock planted and harvested crops worked in textile mills sold butter and eggs preserved food made cloth sewed clothes and practiced remarkable resourcefulness Their recollections paint a vivid picture of rural life in the first half of the twentieth century for a class of women underrepresented in historical accounts Through her edited interviews with these women Melissa Walker provides firsthand descriptions of the influence of modernization on ordinary people struggling through the agricultural depression of the 1920s and 1930s and its aftermath Their oral histories make plain the challenges such women faced and the self sacrificing ways they found to confront hardship While the women detail the difficulties of their existence the drought years early freezes low crop prices and tenant farming they also recall the good times and the neighborly assistance of well developed mutual aid networks of which women were the primary participants

The Countrywoman, 1999 The Earth Has Given Birth to the Sky Kornélia Buday, 2004 This book explores gender issues in the images of God in folk religious traditions From such an exploration we are able to form conclusions about the everyday life of the faith community dominant family structures relationships between man and woman gender roles and the division of labor within the family At the same time the oral tradition reflects the influence of ecclesiastical and social expectations even if in a negative way resulting in negative attitudes toward the contemporary power politics Texts relating to religion demonstrate clear gender based characteristics All these obvious or hidden expressions of convictions can be explored in the pictorial descriptions of oral tradition The derogatory female images in biblical stories interpreted and enforced from a typical point of view of rural story telling men inform us unambiguously about male self preservation and hidden fears of women The prayers and biographies of peasant women on the other hand do not concentrate on men but rather avoid male elements and contradicting the everyday experiences of male oppression they visualize the absolute female power Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress.
