Dreams Sarah Duff, 2025-09-12 Our world is a turbulent and uncertain place, and many of us are seeking answers, but reading all the self-help books and going on the many retreats in an attempt to find inner peace doesn't always give us what we are seeking. If this sounds like something you have been struggling with, then know you are not alone. My journey has had its ups and downs, and a whole lot in between, and sometimes all we truly need is someone to explain their experiences to help us navigate our own path. I won't pretend I am morally perfect; I am a sinner in a broken world. Where I have been exposed to darkness, I have used my own inner light to battle it, and I now find myself in a place where I want to help you make sense of this world gone mad, giving you inspiration on how to flourish during this thing called life. I am a butterfly woman; I have changed and grown and become something so beautiful that I'm not sure the old me would recognise anymore. I will continue to lead my simple and peaceful life, knowing that I am enough, dropping into my intuitive, intelligent heart, and spreading my wings to fly. Delve in and accompany me on this ride, cosmic womb man. Trauma Informed Placemaking Cara

Courage, Anita McKeown, 2024-04-16 Trauma Informed Placemaking offers an introduction to understanding trauma and healing in place. It offers insights that researchers and practitioners can apply to their place-based practice, learning from a global cohort of place leaders and communities. The book introduces the ethos and application of the trauma-informed approach to working in place, with references to historical and contemporary trauma, including trauma caused by placemakers. It introduces the potential of place and of place practitioners to heal. Offering 20 original frameworks, toolkits, and learning exercises across 33 first and third person chapters, multi-disciplinary insights are presented throughout. These are organised into four sections that lead the reader to an awareness of how trauma and healing operate in place. The book offers a first gathering of the current praxis in the field, how we can move from trauma in place to healing in place, and concludes with calls to action for the trauma-informed placemaking approach to be adopted. This book will be essential reading for students, researchers, and practitioners interested in people and places, from artists and architects to policy makers.
