

The background of the entire cover is a solid, vibrant red. In the upper right quadrant, there is a stylized, dark-colored illustration of a hand with the index finger pointing downwards. Below the hand, centered on the cover, is a large, circular, intricate pattern. This pattern consists of a series of interlocking, star-like or floral shapes that create a complex, woven texture. The pattern is rendered in dark, almost black, tones against the red background.

Lambent Traces Stanley Corngold,2009-01-10 On the night of September 22 1912 Franz Kafka wrote his story The Judgment which came out of him like a regular birth This act of creation struck him as an unmistakable sign of his literary destiny Thereafter the search of many of his characters for the Law for a home for artistic fulfillment can be understood as a figure for Kafka's own search to reproduce the ecstasy of a single night In Lambent Traces Franz Kafka the preeminent American critic and translator of Franz Kafka traces the implications of Kafka's literary breakthrough Kafka's first concern was not his responsibility to his culture but to his fate as literature which he pursued by exploring the limits of the human At the same time he kept his transcendental longings sober by noting with incomparable irony their virtual impossibility At times Kafka's passion for personal transcendence as a writer entered into a torturous and witty conflict with his desire for another sort of transcendence one driven by a modern Gnosticism This struggle prompted him continually to scrutinize different kinds of mediation such as confessional writing the dream the media the idea of marriage skepticism asceticism and the imitation of death Lambent Traces Franz Kafka concludes with a reconstruction and critique of the approaches to Kafka

A Study of Visual Performance Using Ophthalmic Filters Merrill J. Allen, 1962 A study of the visual performance through five regularly available ophthalmic filter glasses five identical filter glasses uniformly coated to 10 percent transmission and five other identical filter glasses with a gradient density coating transmitting 10 percent in the center of the lens and about 0.1 percent at the top of the lens was made using a 7 by 8 by 24 foot atmosphere chamber to simulate flight under adverse glare conditions Controlled atmospheric conditions and chamber wall luminances of 7000 foot lamberts and 400 foot lamberts were provided The far point test target was a threshold 1.2 white spot variable in brightness relative to the surround The near target was a randomly presented number target set in a Link Trainer instrument panel Panel luminances ranging from 0.1 to 0.43 percent of fog room wall luminances were provided and the subject's response time to adapt to the near target after adjusting the threshold spot at distance was the measure of visual performance through the specific filter being worn Six subjects were used Approximately 10,000 judgments were recorded and analyzed for this study The average time under average experimental conditions using all subjects required to identify a target on the instrument panel without sunglasses was 0.5994 sec with ordinary sunglasses 0.6093 sec with uniform coating 0.7603 sec and with gradient coating 0.5057 sec These include over 300 findings for the no sunglasses to 1800 findings for the gradient coating Differences in performance could be accounted for on the basis of overall transmission effects without regard to filter color All observers disliked the yellow filters Threshold distant target recognition through gradient density filters was the poorest at low levels but the best at high levels by a narrow margin Vision tended to be as good or better unaided than with most filters for a distant threshold target at about 490 foot lamberts However at about 7000 foot lamberts the gradient density filter was again superior

Lambent Light Ash Adams, 2022-04-19 There was a time when author Ash Adams didn't know God It was a long time more than half of her life In Lambent Light she shares her story showing how blind she was to God She was indifferent to his existence Adams tells how when she became a Christ follower she discovered with hindsight that God had been at work in events she had kept secret because she couldn't explain them She harbored the secrets because she didn't want people to think she was over spiritual or in need of attention Through the years she recognized these secrets need to be told to encourage others to share their experiences In Lambent Light she exposes her God incidences helping others acknowledge and be more aware of God's hand in their lives Through her testimony Adams wants all to see the lambent light that is always around us

The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and suspenseful novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
