MY AUTOBIOGRAPHY

I am Alea Mae D. Benitez, I was born on May 7, 2000 in Pasay City, Philippines. We are two siblings in the family, I am the second child. My mother's name is Divina D. Benitez from Sorsogon, Bicol. My father's name is Nelson D. Benitez. And he is from Camarines Sur, Bicol.

During weekends, we usually spend our days in the family. We always go to church. We helped each other in our activities. My family was a happy and loving family. I had a happy childhood living with my parents and my siblings. I completed my elementary education at Don Carlos Velez Elementary School. During my junior high school, I completed my junior high school at President Corazon Aquino National High School and I usually spend my time with my friends. Since the lockdown, I have a daily routine with my friend for a Google meet until dawn, and we do various things when we do, such as talk about what is going on in our lives and watch movies that have been shown several times. We have been watched pitch perfect all seasons. I finished it several times. When I am not with them, I watch shows like Mr. Queen and Ghost Doctor. And I am a senior at Pasay City South High School, I will do everything I can to get into a good university where I can go to college.

William Seward, 1891 UP FROM SLAVERY (An Autobiography) Booker T. Washington, 2024-01-15 In Up From Slavery Booker T Washington presents a powerful autobiographical account detailing his journey from the bonds of slavery to becoming a leading educator and civil rights advocate in post Civil War America The text exhibits a candid narrative style that intertwines personal anecdotes with broader social commentary reflecting the prevailing thought of the late 19th century on race relations and African American education Washington s articulate engagement with the challenges faced by former slaves provides a nuanced perspective on the socio economic landscape of his era particularly his emphasis on vocational training as an essential pathway to self sufficiency and empowerment As a former slave who experienced the hardships and limitations of oppressive systems firsthand Washington's life shaped his philosophy and advocacy for African American advancement His tenure as the founder of the Tuskegee Institute and his role as a prominent spokesperson for the African American community reveal an individual dedicated to fostering progress through education and practical skills Washington's experiences and reflections are crucial for understanding the complexities of race dignity and economic development in the United States Up From Slavery is not only a significant historical document but also a source of inspiration for readers seeking resilience in the face of adversity Washington's insights into perseverance and self improvement make this work a must read for anyone interested in the struggle for equality and the transformative power of education in shaping individual destinies
