Mortimer,Michael J. Shanahan,2007-12-14 This comprehensive handbook provides an overview of key theoretical perspectives concepts and methodological approaches that while applied to diverse phenomena are united in their general approach to the study of lives across age phases In surveying the wide terrain of life course studies with dual emphases on theory and empirical research this important reference work presents probative concepts and methods and identifies promising avenues for future research Encyclopedia of Women and Gender ,

Encyclopedia of Women and Gender, Two-Volume Set Judith Worell,2001-10-16 The study of gender differences began in earnest in the 1970s and has since increased dramatically to infiltrate virtually all fields of study in the social and behavioral sciences Along the way it was discovered that while women very often think and behave differently than do men industrialized societies cater to masculine perspectives The Psychology of Women emerged as a field of study focusing on just those areas in which women most often butted against assumed roles And similarly in the 1990s the Psychology of Men emerged to focus on the same issues for men The Encyclopedia of Gender covers all three areas under one cover discussing psychological differences in personality cognition and behavior as well as biologically based differences and how those differences impact behavior Coverage includes studies of these differences in applied settings such as education business the home in politics sports competition etc Key Features Over 100 In depth chapters by leading scholars in the psychology of women and gender Addresses critical questions of similarities and differences in gendering across diverse groups challenging myths about gender polarization and the Venus Mars distinction Broad coverage of topics from theory and method to development personality violence sexuality close relationships work health and social policy Sensitive attention to multicultural and cross cultural research Clearly written readable comprehensive with helpful guides outline glossary reference list Raises difficult questions related to power inequality ethics and social justice Challenges the reader to revise established truths and to seek further information Maintains a feminist and woman centered focus New Teachers for a New Century, 2000 During the reign of the Kingdom of Burgundy at the Rhone River about 443 534 a Burgundian church developed with an Arian homoian profile This led to disputes but also to an intensive theological exchange with the predominantly Nicene Gallo Roman population and with Bishop Avitus of Vienne For the first time this monograph provides selected letters and fragments written by Avitus with German translation and annotation which indicate problems of church organization and refer to discourses on religion and theological discussions in particular on the Holy Spirit filioque in order to clarify more exactly the meaning of Arian at that time

Family Ties and Aging Ingrid Arnet Connidis, 2010 This advanced textbook covers issues of family ties and aging broadly the goal being to provide an integrated and thorough representation of what we know from the current research Whereas books on families and aging have traditionally focused on ties to a spouse and to children and grandchildren Family Ties Aging is more extensive and more reflective of contemporary society The text includes groups and relationships that typically receive short shrift exploring such neglected populations as single divorced and childless older people and their family relationships as well as sibling relationships among the elderly live in partnerships not formalized by marriage and the kinds of family ties forged by gay and lesbian persons over the life course The book weaves the vast range of information we now have about the many facets of family relationships and aging into a critical comprehensive and integrated whole

Close Relationships Clyde Hendrick, 2000 The authors in the volume extend the reach of their comprehensive reviews into theoretically driven and innovating explorations The scope of coverage across and within chapters is striking The developmentalist the methodologist the feminist the contextualist and the cross culturalist alike will find satisfaction in reading the chapters Catherine A Surra The University of Texas at Austin The science of close relationships is relatively new and complex Close Relationships A Sourcebook represents the growing maturity of this multidisciplinary enterprise The volume offers 26 chapters organized into four thematic areas relationship methods forms processes and threats as well as a foreword and an epilogue The volume provides a panoramic view of close relationship research as it enters the 21st century offering highlights from current literature original research practical applications and projections for future research Relationship Methods includes both qualitative and quantitative chapters Relationship Forms includes many of the stages types and roles that characterize intimate relationships In a developmental fashion chapters address social networks children's friendships adolescent relationships adult friendships and friendships in later life Chapters on multicultural and multiracial relationships and gay lesbian and bisexual relationships illustrate the variety of relationship forms that the science of close relationships must consider The alignments and realignments of traditional family structure are considered in terms of contemporary marriage divorce and single parenting and remarried families Relationship Processes includes chapters on emotion attachment romantic love sexuality intimacy communication conflict social support and relational maintenance The important topic of gender concludes the section The shadow side of human nature is explored in the Relationship Threats section with chapters on infidelity and jealousy physical and sexual aggression depression and loss and bereavement A foreword by Ellen Berscheid sets the stage for this broad ranging collection of chapters Steve Duck and Linda Acitelli conclude with an epilogue that provides a new beginning for the science of close relationships

Family Policy and the American Safety Net Janet Zollinger Giele, 2013 Family Policy and the American Safety Net shows how families adapt to economic and demographic change Government programs provide a safety net against the new risks of modern life Family policy includes any public program that helps families perform their four universal obligations of caregiving income provision shelter and transmission of citizenship In America this means that child care health care Social Security unemployment insurance housing the quality of neighborhood schools and anti discrimination and immigration measures are all key elements of a de facto family policy Yet many students and citizens are unaware of the history and importance of these programs This book argues that family policy is as important as economic and defense policy to the future of the nation a message that is relevant to students in the social sciences social policy and social work as well as to the public at large

New Teachers for a New Century Diane Horm-Wingerd, 2001-04

Breaking the Cycles of Hatred Martha Minow, 2009-01-10 Violence so often begets violence Victims respond with revenge only to inspire seemingly endless cycles of retaliation Conflicts between nations between ethnic groups between strangers and between family members differ in so many ways and yet often share this dynamic In this powerful and timely book Martha Minow and others ask What explains these cycles and what can break them What lessons can we draw from one form of violence that might be relevant to other forms Can legal responses to violence provide accountability but avoid escalating vengeance If so what kinds of legal institutions and practices can make a difference What kinds risk failure Breaking the Cycles of Hatred represents a unique blend of political and legal theory one that focuses on the double edged role of memory in fueling cycles of hatred and maintaining justice and personal integrity Its centerpiece comprises three penetrating essays by Minow She argues that innovative legal institutions and practices such as truth commissions and civil damage actions against groups that sponsor hate often work better than more conventional criminal proceedings and sanctions Minow also calls for more sustained attention to the underlying dynamics of violence the connections between intergroup and intrafamily violence and the wide range of possible responses to violence beyond criminalization A vibrant set of freestanding responses from experts in political theory psychology history and law examines past and potential avenues for breaking cycles of violence and for deepening our capacity to avoid becoming what we hate The topics include hate crimes and hate crimes legislation child sexual abuse and the statute of limitations and the American kidnapping and internment of Japanese Latin Americans during World War II Commissioned by Nancy Rosenblum the essays are by Ross E Cheit Marc Galanter Fredrick C Harris Judith Lewis Herman Carey Jaros Frederick M Lawrence Austin Sarat Ayelet Shachar Eric K Yamamoto and Iris Marion Young

All Our Families Mary Ann Mason, Arlene S. Skolnick, Stephen D. Sugarman, 1998 Contributors focus on the many types of contemporary families of today including divorcing families single parent families step families dual income families adolescent parent families adoptive families and gay and lesbian families The book proposes new policies for strengthening all families as we move into the next century

Ordinary Families, Special Children, Third Edition Milton Seligman, Rosalyn Benjamin Darling, 2009-02-23 This popular clinical reference and text provides a multisystems perspective on childhood disability and its effects on family life The volume examines how child family ecological and sociocultural variables intertwine to shape the ways families respond to disability and how professionals can promote coping adaptation and empowerment Accessible and engaging the book integrates theory and research with vignettes and firsthand reflections from family members

Cross Currents Sanford N. Katz, John Eekelaar, Mavis Maclean, 2000 This unique contribution to comparative law brings together dedicated essays on a comprehensive range of issues in family law in the United States and England showing how they stand at the beginning of the new century and how they reached there This provides an unparalleled opportunity to examine how family law has reacted to a period of change in family life widely held to be without precedent The legal analyses are set within critical accounts of wider social and family policy and against a fully explored demographic background provided by leading scholars in these areas Readers will be challenged to understand the nature of contemporary family law and its possible future direction

The Gendered Society Michael S. Kimmel, 2000 They say that we come from different planets men from Mars women from Venus that we have different brain chemistries and hormones and that we listen speak and even define our morals differently How is it then that men and women live together take the same classes in school eat the same food read the same books and receive grades according to the same criteria In The Gendered Society Michael S Kimmel examines our basic beliefs about gender arguing that men and women are more alike than we have ever imagined Kimmel begins his discussion by observing that all cultures share the notion that men and women are different and that the logical extension of this assumption is that gender differences cause the obvious inequalities between the sexes In fact he asserts that the reverse is true gender inequality causes the differences between men and women Gender is not simply a quality inherent in each individual it is deeply embedded in society's fundamental institutions the family school and the workplace The issues surrounding gender are complex and in order to clarify them the author has included a review of the existing literature in related disciplines such as biology anthropology psychology and sociology Finally with an eye towards the future Kimmel offers readers a glimpse at gender relations in the next millennium Well written well reasoned and authoritative The Gendered Society provides a thorough overview of the current thinking about gender while persuasively arguing that it is time to reevaluate what we thought we knew about men and women Childhood in America Paula S. Fass, Mary Ann Mason, 2000 Anthology of fiction and nonfiction works presenting society's views of children and childrearing practices in the United States from Colonial times to the present LGBT Families Nancy J. Mezey, 2015 Part of the Sage Contemporary Family Perspective series this book presents a comprehensive understanding of lesbian gay bisexual and transgender families today by drawing upon and making sense of the burgeoning scholarly literature about LGBT families from the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries Retrospect and Prospect in the Psychological Study of Families James P. McHale, Wendy S. Grolnick, 2001-10 This vol is designed to review the knowledge base of family psychologists from a broader perspective than that of specific research programs Intended readers include family psychologists as well as sociologists anthropologists clinicians and policymakers Stepfamily Relationships Lawrence H. Ganong, Marilyn Coleman, 2011-06-27 This volume focuses on a wide range of behaviors and outcomes in stepfamily relationships both positive and negative The authors use the normative adaptive perspective to seek out and study adaptive well functioning stepfamilies and find how they differ from those who struggle to cope It will be a welcome text and reference for all those who study and work with stepfamilies and families in general
