All The Strange Hours The Excavation Of A Life:

All the Strange Hours Loren C. Eiseley, 2000-01-01 A native of Lincoln Nebraska Loren Eiseley began his lifelong exploration of nature in the salt flats and ponds around his hometown and in the mammoth bone collection hoarded in the old red brick museum at the University of Nebraska where he conducted his studies in anthropology It was in pursuit of this interest and in the expression of his natural curiosity and wonder that Eiseley sprang to national fame with the publication of such works as The Immense Journey and The Firmament of Time In All the Strange Hours Eiseley turns his considerable powers of reflection and discovery on his own life to weave a compelling story related with the modesty grace and keen eye for a telling anecdote that distinguish his work His story begins with his childhood experiences as a sickly afterthought weighed down by the loveless union of his parents From there he traces the odyssey that led to his search for early postglacial man and into inspiring philosophical territory culminating in his uneasy achievement of world renown Eiseley crafts an absorbing self portrait of a man who has thought deeply about his place in society as well as humanity's place in the natural world

Rebellion James Brody, 2008-03 tiny differences in the nature of individuals require that each of us discovers, arranges and sustains his or her unique partnerships and territories Because of this uniqueness you must actively steer your life rather than just letting it happen None of us is mere clay for environment's thumbs and even the youngest of ten children is a one off architect who renovates his parents Using clarity humor and personal examples Dr James Brody shows why you simplify or complicate your life form partnerships and social networks and sometimes conform or not He also explains why certain aspects of physics are your best friends why your commonsense handles them so well why women displace men and why you shouldn't believe bell curves To illustrate Brody includes stories from his clients as well as from biologists Charles and Erasmus Darwin authors William and Henry James anthropologists Mary Leakey and Loren Eiseley and Nobel winners Richard Feynman and Rita Levi Montalcini a rich tapestry of human behavior but done in a way that gives significance to individualism using models that physics and mathematics offer Phase transitions emergent networks condensates swarming and other models are in the arsenal that he develops in the first half of the book and applies in its second half to evolution and behavior genetics conflict and suicide and resilience and personal will This is serious work yet it is not difficult to read I highly recommend it Bryen Lorenz Ph D Professor of Electrical Engineering Widener University
