Optimizing Project Work, Management, and Delivery Gary L. Richardson,Brad M. Jackson,2023-09-19 Thousands of project management related books have been written Why is Optimizing Project Work Management and Delivery different This book represents the authors experiences gained from looking at the problem of project management for 50 years and wondering why projects cannot be more successful Experience from various management models and techniques has helped but still does not fit reality or provide accurate forecasts Industry surveys have compiled the root causes of project failure and yet they persist Is there no answer to this problem As the book explains the management solution is not in the models or the theory but is found in how they are mapped against the actual target project characteristics This is the book s unique strength There are major coverage gaps in current project management models that also need to be recognized All of the existing models are correct in some ways and yet each is also wrong The book starts by reviewing popular models and related topics that help construct the building blocks of an integrated model structure which is at the core of this book The integrated model described here is meant to be a decision oriented view related to the project life cycle rather than a cookbook of success steps Project management is too complex for a cookbook approach This text helps managers find that right path

Delivery As Dispossession Zachary Levenson, 2022 A sweeping historical and political analysis with detailed ethnographic fieldwork of the politics of everyday life in postcolonial Africa In post apartheid South Africa nearly a fifth of the urban population lives in shacks Unable to wait any longer for government housing people occupy land typically seeking to fly under the state's radar Yet in most cases occupiers wind up in dialogue with the state In Delivery as Dispossession Zachary Levenson follows this journey from avoidance to incorporation explaining how the post apartheid Constitution shifts squatters' struggles onto the judicial register Providing a comparative ethnographic account of two land occupations in Cape Town and highlighting occupiers' struggles Levenson further demonstrates why it is that housing officials seek the eviction of all new occupations they view these unsanctioned settlements as a threat to the order they believe is required for delivery Yet in evicting occupiers he argues they reproduce the problem anew with subsequent rounds of land occupation as the inevitable consequence Offering a unique framework for thinking about local states this book proposes a novel theory of the state that will change the way ethnographers think about politics
