Poetry and Music in Medieval France Ardis Butterfield, 2002 In Poetry and Music in Medieval France first published in 2003 Ardis Butterfield examines vernacular song in medieval France She begins with the moment when French song first survives in writing in the early thirteenth century and examines a large corpus of works which combine elements of narrative and song as well as a range of genres which cross between different musical and literary categories Emphasising the cosmopolitan artistic milieu of Arras Butterfield describes the wide range of contexts in which secular songs were quoted and copied including narrative romances satires and love poems She uses manuscript evidence to shed light on medieval perceptions of how music and poetry were composed and interpreted The volume is well illustrated to demonstrate the rich visual culture of medieval French writing and music This interdisciplinary study will be of interest to both literary and musical scholars of late medieval culture

A Companion to Marguerite Porete and The Mirror of Simple Souls Robert Stauffer, Wendy R. Terry, 2017-04-11 Even with growing popularity in the United States there existed no English language scholarly introduction to Marguerite Porete or her sole surviving work Mirror of Simple Souls until now The study of Marguerite and her work touches on so many disciplines from religious and secular histories to theological and literary readings of her book that the scholarship had often been lost in the divides between the disciplines Our contributors are chosen from both sides of the Atlantic and from an array of disciplines in order to bridge this geographical and linguistic divide The interdisciplinary nature of the interest in Marguerite and the Mirror and the implications her book has on medieval scholarship make a collection such as this companion ideal Contributors are Marleen Cr Imke De Gier David Falvey Sean Field Genevieve Hasenohr with Zan Kocher

The Carole: A Study of a Medieval Dance Robert Mullally, 2017-07-05 The carole was the principal social dance in France and England from c 1100 to c 1400 and was frequently mentioned in French and English medieval literature However it has been widely misunderstood by contributors in recent citations in dictionaries and reference books both linguistic and musical The carole was performed by all classes of society kings and nobles shepherds and servant girls It is described as taking place both indoors and outdoors Its central position in the life of the people is underlined by references not only in what we might call fictional texts but also in historical or quasi historical writings in moral treatises and even in a work on astronomy Dr Robert Mullally s focus is very much on details relevant to the history choreography and performance of the dance as revealed in the primary sources This methodology involves attempting to isolate the term carole from other dance terms not only in French but also in other languages Mullally s groundbreaking study establishes all the characteristics of this dance etymological choreographical lyrical musical and iconographical Prosimetrum Joseph Harris, Karl Reichl, 1997 In virtually all the literary traditions of the world there are works of verbal art that depend for part of their effect on the juxtaposition of prose and verse This volume takes the first step towards a comparative study of prosimetrum the mixture of prose and verse with essays by leading linguists and literary scholars of a selection of prosimetrical traditions The nature of what constitutes verse or prose is one underlying question addressed An outline of historical developments emerges especially for Europe and the Near East with articles on classical medieval and nineteenth century literatures Oriental prosimetrical literatures discussed include that of Vedic India and the old literary cultures of China and Japan also represented are oral and oral derived folk literatures of recent centuries in Africa the West and Inner Asia This volume takes the first step towards a comparative study of prosimetrum the mixture of prose and verse in a wide range of literary cultures An outline of historical developments emerges especially for Europe and the Near East with articles on classical medieval and nineteenth century literatures Oriental prosimetrical literatures discussed include that of Vedic India and the old literary cultures of China and Japan also represented are oral and oral derived folk literatures of recent centuries in Africa the West and Inner Asia Professor KARL REICHL teaches in the English Department at the University of Bonn Professor JOSEPH HARRIS teaches in the English Department at Harvard University Contributors KRISTIN HANSON PAUL KIPARSKY JAN ZIOLKOWSKI ARDIS BUTTERFIELD PROINSIAS Mac CANA JOSEPH HARRIS JUDITH RYAN W F H NICOLAISEN LEE HARING STEVEN WEITZMAN WOLFHART HEINRICHS DWIGHT REYNOLDS JULIE SCOTT MEISAMI KARL REICHL WALTHER HEISSIG The Malmariée in the Thirteenth-Century Motet Dolores Pesce, 2023-02-08 This monograph offers a comprehensive study of the topos of the malmari e or the unhappily married woman within the thirteenth century motet repertory a vocal genre characterized by several different texts sounding simultaneously over a foundational Latin chant Part I examines the malmari e motets from three vantage points 1 in light of contemporaneous canonist views on marriage 2 to what degree the French malmari e texts in the upper voices treat the messages inherent in the underlying Latin chant through parody and or allegory and 3 interactions among upper voice texts that invite additional interpretations focused on gender issues Part II investigates the transmission profile of the motets as well as of their refrains revealing not only intertextual refrain usage between the motets and other genres but also a significant number of shared refrains between malmari e motets and other motets Part II furthermore offers insights on the chronology of composition within a given intertextual refrain nexus and examines how a refrain s meaning can change in a new context Finally based on the transmission profile Part II argues for a lively interest in the topos in the 1270s and 1280s both through composition of new motets and compilation of earlier ones with Paris and Arras playing a prominent role

Onomastics of the "Chanson de Roland" Gustav A. Beckmann, 2023-03-20 This ambitious study of all proper names in the Chanson de Roland is based for the first time on a systematic survey of the whole geographical and historical literature from antiquity to after 1100 for the Geographica and on working through almost the entire documentary tradition of France and its neighbouring regions from 778 to the early 12th century for the personal names The overall result is clear the surviving song is more tightly and profoundly structured even in smaller scenes than generally assumed it is also richer in depicting reality and it has a very long prehistory which can be traced in outline albeit with decreasing certainty almost back to the Frankish defeat of 778 Here are some individual results for the first time a detailed and ultimately simple explanation not only of the pagan catalogue of peoples but also of the overarching structure of Baligant's empire the organisation of North Africa the corpus of the Twelve Anti Pairs as well as the pagan gods are given and individual names such as Bramimunde and Jurfaret toponyms such as Marbrise and Marbrose are explained From Roland's Spanish conquests v 196-200 the course of the elapsé set anz toz plains is reconstructed Even the names of the weapons prove to be a small structured group in that they are very discreetly adapted to their respective pagan or Christian owner On the Christian side the small list of relics in Roland's sword is also carefully devised not least in what is left out a relic of the Lord this is reserved for Charlemagne's Joiuse The author explains for example why from the archangel triad only Michael and Gabriel descend to the dying Roland whereas the angel Cherubin descends in Rafael's place Munjoie requires extensive discussion because here a hitherto insufficiently recorded toponym has been secondarily charged by the poet with traditional theological associations The term Ter e major is attested for the first time in reality namely in the late 11th century in Norman usage For the core of France the fourth cornerstone along with Besançon, Wisant and Mont Saint Michel is Xanten and its centre is Aachen The poet's artful equilibration of Charles's ten eschieles and their leaders is traced The Capetian barrier emerges as a basic fact of epic geography Approximately the last quarter of the study is devoted to the prehistory of the song going backwards in time still quite clearly visible is an Angevin Song of Roland from around 1050 in which Marsile, Olivier, Roland, Ganelon, Turpin and Naimes already have roles similar to those in the preserved Song Behind it between about 970 and shortly after 1000 is the Girart de Vienne from the Middle Rhine already recognised by Aebischer with the newly invented Olivier contra Roland Finally in faint outlines an oldest attainable also Middle Rhine adaptation of the Roland material from shortly after 870 emerges For the Chanson de Roland Gaston Paris and Joseph Bédier were thus each right on the main point that was close to their hearts the surviving song has both the thoroughly sophisticated structure of great art that Bédier recognised in it and the imposingly long prehistory that Paris conjectured
