A. Mohamed Salih, 2003-02-20 This book interrogates the political health of African political parties and evaluates the theory and practice of party functions ideology and structure Through fresh analysis using a variety of case studies the authors question the democratic credentials of African political parties and propose new methods for achieving inclusive broad based representation Themes include the evolution and institutionalisation of African political parties the unique historical political and social circumstances that shaped their structures and functions In the governance trajectory the authors question the relationship between African political parties and government political parties and representation political parties and electoral systems and political parties and parliament Case studies include Ethiopia Ghana Kenya Botswana Namibia South Africa Tanzania Zambia Zimbabwe and many others The French Army and Its African Soldiers Ruth Ginio, 2017 As part of France s opposition to the independence of its former colonies in the years following World War II its army remained deeply invested in preventing the decolonization of the territories comprising French West Africa FWA Even as late as the 1950s the French Army clung to the hope that it was possible to retain FWA as a colony believing that its relations with African soldiers could offer the perfect model for continued ties between France and its West African territories In The French Army and Its African Soldiers Ruth Ginio examines the French Army s attempts to win the hearts and souls of the local population at a time of turbulence and uncertainty regarding future relations between the colonizer and colony Through the prism of the army s relationship with its African soldiers Ginio considers how the army s activities and political position during FWA s decolonization laid the foundation for France s continued active presence in some of these territories after independence This project is the first thorough examination of the French Army s involvement in West Africa before independence and provides the essential historical background to understanding France s complex postcolonial military relations with its former territories in Africa State Formation and the Structure of Politics in Mamluk Syro-Egypt, 648-741 A.H./1250-1340 C.E. Winslow Williams Clifford, 2013 Winslow Williams Clifford is one of the few historians so far who have addressed the history and culture of the so called Mamluk Sultanate 1250 1517 on the basis of theoretical models This volume is a posthumous publication of his doctoral thesis submitted in 1995 at the University of Chicago Through his skillful application of social theory Clifford succeeded in providing highly convincing evidence that the Mamluk rulers did not as was maintained for a long time constitute a static form of oriental despotism but was rather a highly differentiated society It was primarily based on compliance with a complex system of order that had established itself during the rule of the first sultans The Military Intervenes Henry Bienen, 1968-12-31 Explores the mechanisms of military intervention and its consequences The contributors examine a succession of coups attempted coups and established military regimes with a view to evaluate the role of the military as a ruling group and an organization fostering political development These studies cast strong doubt on the abilities of the military as a modernizing and stabilizing agent raising important questions about our policies on military assistance and arms sales Bienen makes an especially strong plea for a reassessment of our military and economic political policies in order to determine whether both are working toward the same goals

Armed Forces, Conflict, And Change In Africa Henry S. Bienen, 2019-03-04 Nigeria has not evolved political formulas that explicitly allow religion or religious authorities to define legitimacy There have however been struggles carried out in religious terms over constitutional mechanisms for adjudicating conflict Religion also has been an element in the conflict between ethnic language groups Finally religion provides a language a set of values and institutions through which groups struggle and over which groups contend both within and between religious communities It has been necessary for northern leaders to stress Islam in order to maintain northern unity However Islam itself has worked to intensify fissures opened up by social and economic change in Nigeria Islam in Nigeria continues to be contentious in both domestic and foreign policy
