Baugh, 2008-12-18 Mediating Chicana o Culture Multicultural American Vernacular covers an unconventional array of topics from handkerchiefs votives and graffiti to food f tbol and the Internet as well as cutting edge literature cinema photography and more In its cross disciplinary approach this collection makes an invaluable contribution to the scholarship on Chicana and Chicano culture and provides engaging readings for courses in race ethnic studies media studies and American studies Collected chapters critically interrogate the underlying tensions between personal expressions and public demonstrations in their on going negotiation of Chicana and Chicano identity Drawing on the revolutionary work of Gloria Anzald a T mas Ybarra Frausto Emma P rez Alfred Arteaga Chela Sandoval Julia Watson and Sidonie Smith the Latina Feminist Group among others chapters in this collection closely read the processes that seem built into the actions and behaviors the products the art the literature and the discourse surrounding the search for identity in the rush of our diverse 21st century existence Mediating Chicana o Culture lays bare the methods by which we define ourselves as individuals and as members of communities examining not only the message but also the medium and the methods of mediating identity and culture Baking as Biography Diane Tye, 2010-08-10 A daughter s exploration of her mother s life as revealed through her baking Rethinking Halal , 2021-03-22 This book invites to rethink certain aspects of halal and in particular the issue of the halal market and halal certification in Muslim minority contexts Rather than limiting itself to elucidating the doctrinal traditions relating to halal haram or on the contrary focusing only on the external economic financial political or demographic factors that explain the changes taking place Rethinking Halal shows the need to underline the points of balance between the aspects of religious doctrine on the one hand and the economic or political contextual aspects on the other hand Through the study of various countries Rethinking Halal demonstrates that Islam underwent a process of positivisation that is a kind of reframing of its rules and principles through the lens of a characteristically modern standardising scientificising and systematising mind Contributors are Ayang Utriza Yakin Louis L on Christians Baudouin Dupret Jajat Burhanudin Syafiq Hasyim Zaynab El Bernoussi En Chieh Chao Rossella Bottoni Lauren Crossland Marr Konrad P dziwiatr Matteo Benussi Harun Sencal and Mehmet Asutay Sheltering Women Sonja Plesset, 2006-10-11 Residents of Parma Italy pride themselves on their sophistication and connection to European modernity But despite a reputation for civility intimate partner violence continues to take place largely hidden from public view Offering a detailed ethnography of two women s shelters one leftist the other Catholic this book provides the political cultural and legal contexts of competing explanations for intimate partner violence Some contend that violence against women reflects the cultural and historical gender inequalities embedded in Italian society including old fashioned or traditional understandings of masculinity Others argue that it stems from confusion and ambivalence over new or modern forms of gender relations While the first explanation places the blame on tradition and the second cites the transition to modernity both emphasize societal understandings of gender and point to collective rather than individual responsibility Through an intimate portrayal of everyday life Sheltering Women reveals how violence against women can be studied as one part of a continuum of locally relevant understandings of gender relations and gender change

Porta Palazzo Rachel E. Black, 2012-04-16 Porta Palazzo arguably Western Europe s largest open air market is a central economic social and cultural hub for Italians and migrants in the city of Turin Open air markets like Porta Palazzo have existed for centuries in Europe although their function has changed over time traditional markets are no longer the primary place to buy food they remain popular destinations In an age of supermarkets and online commerce markets offer unique social and cultural opportunities and bring together urban and rural worldviews These factors are often overlooked in traditional economic studies of food distribution but anthropologist Rachel E Black contends that social relations are essential for building and maintaining valuable links between production and consumption From the history of Porta Palazzo to the current growing pains of the market this book concentrates on points where trade meets cultural identities and cuisine Its detailed and perceptive portraits of the market bring into relief the lives of the vendors shoppers and passersby Black s ethnography illuminates the daily work of market going and the anxieties of shoppers as they navigate the market It examines migration the link between cuisine and cultural identity culinary tourism the connection between the farmers market and the production of local food and the urban planning issues negotiated by the city of Turin and market users during a recent renovation This vibrant study featuring a foreword by Slow Food Movement founder Carlo Petrini makes a strong case for why markets like Porta Palazzo are critical for fostering culinary culture and social life in cities

Communicating Food to Children Daniela Cesiri, 2025-09-29 This book offers a systematic account of communication on food aimed at children investigating verbal and visual strategies used in food media in English from synchronic and diachronic perspectives While there is a wide body of research on food discourse there has been little to date on children as a particular category of actors within food related communication Cesiri integrates work from corpus linguistics genre analysis and multimodality to analyze verbal and visual components in media that transmit specialist knowledge and familiarize children with foundational food concepts the extra linguistic factors that shape food related communication and the ways in which different genres represent culinary traditions to children The volume features an extensive corpus of technical products such as cookbooks commercial products such as advertisements and institutional products such as leaflets from international institutions In applying a multi layered perspective to a diverse range of food related communication materials Cesiri seeks to unpack whether potential differences in communicative strategies can be attributed to the source culture of interactants or those shared by a specific community of actors and in turn further insights into the nature of domain specific discourse This volume will appeal to scholars in discourse analysis multimodality corpus linguistics and childhood studies

Taking Food Public Psyche Williams Forson, Carole Counihan, 2013-09-13 The field of food studies has been growing rapidly over the last thirty years and has exploded since the turn of the millennium Scholars from an array of disciplines have trained fresh theoretical and methodological approaches onto new dimensions of the human relationship to food This anthology capitalizes on this particular cultural moment to bring to the fore recent scholarship that focuses on innovative ways people are recasting food in public spaces to challenge hegemonic practices and meanings Organized into five interrelated sections on food production consumption performance Diasporas and activism articles aim to provide new perspectives on the changing meanings and uses of food in the twenty first century Consuming the Inedible Jeremy MacClancy, C. J. K. Henry, Helen M. Macbeth, 2007 Everyday millions of people eat earth clay nasal mucus and similar substances Yet food practices like these are strikingly understudied in a sustained interdisciplinary manner This book aims to correct this neglect Contributors utilizing anthropological nutritional biochemical psychological and health related perspectives examine in a rigorously comparative manner the consumption of foods conventionally regarded as inedible by most Westerners This book is both timely and significant because nutritionists and health care professionals are seldom aware of anthropological information on these food practices and vice versa Ranging across diversity of disciplines Consuming the Inedible surveys scientific and local views about the consequences biological mineral social or spiritual of these food practices and probes to what extent we can generalize about them The Routledge Handbook of Heritage and Gender Jenna C. Ashton, 2025-05-30 The Routledge Handbook of Heritage and Gender offers an exceptional range of international contributions that interrogate and analyse the interactions within and between heritage and gender Taking an intersectional and global approach the Handbook opens up space for a more critical and situated consideration of how gender comes into contact with heritage as a concept and practice The volume considers heritage in the broadest sense as a concept performance and materialisation The contributions also consider how heritage impacts identity power people values politics and ethics as well as processes and sites across material culture nature and intangible practices The volume and its contributions are inclusive of cisgender trans non binary agender and intersex identities Reflecting the multidisciplinary and transnational voices of its authors the collection challenges readers to consider what a focused analysis of heritage and gender can offer heritage studies as an evolving discipline and field of study The Routledge Handbook of Heritage and Gender will be of interest to academics and students working in Heritage Studies Museum Studies Art History History Anthropology Gender and Women s Studies and International Development Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies Ken Albala, 2013-05-07 Over the past decade there has been a remarkable flowering of interest in food and nutrition both within the popular media and in academia Scholars are increasingly using foodways food systems and eating habits as a new unit of analysis within their own disciplines and students are rushing into classes and formal degree programs focused on food Introduced by the editor and including original articles by over thirty leading food scholars from around the world the Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies offers students scholars and all those interested in food related research a one stop easy to use reference guide Each article includes a brief history of food research within a discipline or on a particular topic a discussion of research methodologies and ideological or theoretical positions resources for research including archives grants and fellowship opportunities as well as suggestions for further study Each entry also explains the logistics of succeeding as a student and professional in food studies This clear direct Handbook will appeal to those hoping to start a career in academic food studies as well as those hoping to shift their research to a food related project

Strongly interdisciplinary this work will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the social sciences and humanities

Recipes and Songs Razia Parveen, 2017-02-04 This book presents a systematic approach to the literary analysis of cultural practices Based on a postcolonial framework of diaspora the book utilizes literary theory to investigate cultural phenomena such as food preparation and song Razia Parveen explores various diverse themes including the female voice genealogy space time and diaspora and applies them to the analysis of community identity This volume also demonstrates how a literary analysis of oral texts helps to provide insight into women's lived narratives For example Parveen discusses how the notion of the third space creates a distinctly feminine spatiality

Local Foods Meet Global Foodways Benjamin Lawrance, Carolyn de la Peña, 2013-09-13 This book explores the intersection of food and foodways from global and local perspectives The collection contributes to interdisciplinary debates about the role and movement of commodities in the historical and contemporary world The expert contributions collectively address a fundamental tension in the emerging scholarly terrain of food studies namely theorizing the relationship between foodstuff production and cuisine patterns They explore a wide variety of topics including curry bread sugar coffee milk pulque Virginia ham fast food obesity and US ethnic restaurants Local Foods Meet Global Foodways considers movements in context and in doing so complicates the notions that food shapes culture as it crosses borders or that culture adapts foods to its neo local or global contexts By analysing the dynamics of contact between mobile foods and or people and the specific cultures of consumption they provoke these case studies reveal the process whereby local foods become global or global foods become local to be a dynamic co creative development jointly facilitated by humans and nature This volume explores a vast expanse of global regions such as North and Central America Europe China East Asia and the Pacific India sub Saharan Africa the Atlantic Ocean and the USSR Russia It includes a foreword by the eminent food scholar Carole Counihan and an afterword by noted theorist of cuisine Rachel Laudan and will be of great interest to students and researchers of history anthropology geography cultural studies and American studies

This book is based on a special issue of Food and Foodways

The Metamorphosis of Greek Cuisine Nafsika Papacharalampous, 2023-11-10 This book is an ethnography of the metamorphosis of rural foods and traditional dishes and of the making of cuisine and identity in contemporary Athens In the wake of the financial crisis in Athens in the mid 2010s forgotten rural foods of the past are transformed into luxurious artisanal foods while traditional dishes appear reinvented in fine dining restaurants after decades of darkness How and why is this all happening in a city of poverty hardship and economic crisis Through sensory descriptions and thick ethnographic material it follows the Athenian affluent middle class in upscale delis and goes inside fine dining restaurant kitchens discussing the complex combination of cuisine tradition memory and identity revealing the cultural logic and social aspects of cuisine It demonstrates how cuisine emerges from very different often contradictory social spaces not only as an intellectual and aesthetic endeavour of chefs or as a revival of foods and foodways that link the country and the city but also as interlinked with embodied memories and embedded in social relations and commensality This book will be of great interest to scholars and students in Anthropology and Food Studies

Slow Living Geoffrey Craig, Wendy Parkins, 2006-02-01 Speed is the essence of the modern era but our faster more frenetic lives often trouble us and leave us wondering how we are meant to live in today s world Slow Living explores the philosophy and politics of slowness as it investigates the growth of Slow Food into a worldwide eco gastronomic movement Originating in Italy Slow Food is not only committed to the preservation of traditional cuisines and sustainable agriculture but also the pleasures of the table and a slower approach to life in general Craig and Parkins argue that slow living is a complex response to processes of globalization It connects ethics and pleasure the global and the local as part of a new emphasis on everyday life in contemporary culture and politics The global everyday is not a simple tale of speed and geographical dislocation Instead we all negotiate different times and spaces that make our quality of life and an ethics of living more pressing concerns This innovative book shows how slow living is about the challenges of living a more mindful and pleasurable life
