Arqueologia Da Regiao De Lagoa Santa:

Archaeological and Paleontological Research in Lagoa Santa Pedro Da-Gloria, Walter A. Neves, Mark Hubbe, 2017-06-19 This groundbreaking volume presents for the first time in English a broad historical review of the researches carried out over 170 years in the region of Lagoa Santa Brazil one of the most important archaeological regions in the Americas From the pioneering work of the Danish naturalist Peter Lund in the XIX century to the recent research on the dispersion of early humans across South America led by Walter A Neves and colleagues Lagoa Santa has offered remarkable findings the largest collections of early human skeletons in the Americas and has contributed to the overall discussions about the settlement of the Americas This edited volume aims to fill the lack of publications in English about Lagoa Santa and gathers representatives of all the main Brazilian institutions directly involved in the archaeological and paleontological investigations in the region in order to provide the international scientific community a comprehensive and complete account of the researches that contributed to rewrite the history of the peopling of the Americas The book is organized in two parts The first consists of chapters describing each of the interventions in the region beginning with the pioneering work of Peter Lund and culminating with the latest intervention led by Walter A Neves and his team The second part of the book consists of reviews of current relevant research foci in the region such as migrations health mortuary rituals paleontology rock art and technology

Lagoa Santa Karst: Brazil's Iconic Karst Region Augusto S. Auler, Paulo Pessoa, 2020-01-22 This book discusses the Lagoa Santa Karst which has been internationally known since the pioneering studies of the Danish naturalist Peter Lund in the early 1800s It covers the speleogenesis geology vegetation fauna hydrogeology geomorphology and anthropogenic use of the Lagoa Santa Karst and is the first English language book on this major karst area The area which has been at the heart of the debate on the origin and age of human colonization in the Americas is characterized by a classical and scenic karst landscape with limestone cliffs karst lakes and karst plains in addition to numerous solution dolines More than 1 000 caves have been documented in the area many with significant archeological and paleontological value Despite its great importance the Lagoa Santa Karst faces severe environmental threats due to limestone mining and the expansion of the metropolis of Belo Horizonte and its surrounding towns The growing recognition of the area s remarkable significance has led to increasing concern and a number of protected areas have now been established improving the conservation status of this landmark karst area

Pleistocene Archaeology Rintaro Ono, Alfred Pawlik, 2020-12 This book presents an overview of recent research in the field of Pleistocene Archaeology around the world The main topics of this book are 1 human migrations particularly by Homo sapiens who have migrated into most regions of the world and settled in different environments 2 the development of human technology from early to archaic hominins and Homo sapiens and 3 human adaptation to new environments and responses to environmental changes caused by climate changes during the Pleistocene With such perspectives in mind this book contains a total of nine insightful and stimulating chapters on these topics in which human history during the time of the Pleistocene is reviewed and discussed Hunter-Gatherer Adaptation and Resilience Daniel H. Temple, Christopher M. Stojanowski, 2019 Explores the variety of ways in which hunter gatherer societies have responded to external stressors while maintaining their core identity Historical Ecology and Landscape Archaeology in Lowland South America André Carlo Colonese, Rafael Guedes Milheira, 2023-06-22 This edited volume scrutinizes how pre Columbian human societies have shaped and transformed lowland South America contributing to biological and landscape diversity This geographic area has supported human populations since at least the transition from the Pleistocene to Holocene but the nature and scale of these interactions are matters of debate and their legacy to modern lowland environments is not fully understood This book brings together works from distinct disciplines including theoretical and methodological approaches on single case studies or broad regional syntheses with no chronological constraint The editors aim to generate a novel contribution reporting the most recent and ground breaking research on human interactions with past environments and resources in lowland South America from pre Columbian to Colonial times The volume also discusses the legacy of these past interactions and their potential contribution to informing current conservation and development agendas providing examples of how archaeology and paleoecology can fill gaps in conservation and developmental policy This volume will be of interest to students archaeologists and readers of Latin American studies

Handbook of Latin American Studies, 1978 Contains records describing books book chapters articles and conference papers published in the field of Latin American studies Coverage includes relevant books as well as over 800 social science and 550 humanities journals and volumes of conference proceedings Most records include abstracts with evaluations

Remains Barra O'Donnabhain, María Cecilia Lozada, 2014-06-10 This volume addresses the directions that studies of archaeological human remains have taken in a number of different countries where attitudes range from widespread support to prohibition. Overlooked in many previous publications, this diversity in attitudes is examined through a variety of lenses including academic origins, national identities, supporting institutions, archaeological context, and globalization. The volume situates this diversity of attitudes by examining past and current tendencies in studies of archaeologically retrieved human remains across a range of geopolitical settings. In a context where methodological approaches have been increasingly standardized in recent decades, the volume poses the question if this standardization has led to a convergence in approaches to archaeological human remains or if significant differences remain between practitioners in different countries. The volume also explores the future trajectories of the study of skeletal remains in the different jurisdictions under scrutiny.

Arqueologia do Povoamento Americano: Contribuições a Partir do Contexto Brasileiro Lucas Bueno, Adriana Schmidt Dias, 2025-04-07 Povoamento da América: um dos temas mais debatidos no âmbito da arqueologia americana. Perguntas sobre quando o ser humano deu seus primeiros passos neste continente, quais foram seus caminhos, como se deslocou por áreas antes não conhecidas, são perguntas tão antigas quanto o próprio processo estudado. Estudar o povoamento americano envolve discutir a forma da biodiversidade através das dinâmicas de interação entre pessoas, plantas e animais que se constituíram ao longo de milênios nesta parte do planeta. Envolve sobretudo construir uma história profunda sobre as sociedades ameríndias, discutir as formulações construídas a respeito dessa história e certamente se posicionar frente a elas no presente. Este livro tem o intuito de contribuir para esta discussão apresentando sugestões de novos caminhos teóricos e metodológicos para uma arqueologia do povoamento global a partir de uma arqueologia desenvolvida no Brasil, com destaque para sínteses em escala regional e diversos estudos de caso. Actes, 1964 Archaeologies of Smoking, Pipes and Transatlantic Connections Sarah de Barros Viana Hissa, 2024-10-23 This volume presents a global study of the economic and cultural systems in which smoking materials, practices, and ideas circulate, intertwine, and transform. This book compiles original work authored by researchers from the Americas, Africa, and Europe to elicit a comparative archaeology of smoking and pipes through histories and case studies from localities and regions on both sides of the Atlantic. Consequently, the book is divided into four sections divided by region. The first chapters focus on Amerindian pipes and smoking, and these are followed by research on smoking and clay pipe use in post-17th century Europe. Chapters on the production and use of clay smoking pipes in Brazil and a reflection on the influence of pipes and smoking in Senegambia comprise the final two sections.

respectively Taken together this volume explores a wide range of issues such as economic and cultural relations between old and new worlds the effects of colonization in different parts of the globe circulation of ideas practices and objects in hegemonic and non hegemonic transatlantic connections techniques and styles of making and decorating pipes materialization and expression of ethnicities and of their blurred frontiers changes and continuities observed in smoking materials and their inferred meanings The book compiles fresh insights on the complex and diverse history of smoking and transatlantic economic and cultural interactions associated with it It is of interest to both historical and pre historical archaeologists researching material culture in several regions of the world but also historians and anthropologists interested in material culture and global cultural systems Pré-história do Nordeste do Brasil Gabriela Martin,1997*
