French Crime Fiction Claire Gorrara, 2009. This book is one of the first English language studies to chart the development of crime fiction in French from the mid nineteenth century to the present day. It analyses the distinctive features of a French language tradition and introduces readers to a rich and varied body of work. Each chapter examines a specific period, movement or group of writers as well as engaging with wider debates on the place of crime fiction within contemporary French and European culture. From early twentieth century pioneers such as Gaston Leroux and Maurice Leblanc to the phenomenal success of Georges Simenon from May 68 to the gender politics of crime fiction and postmodern reinventions, this collection approaches crime fiction in an interdisciplinary manner, alive to the innovative and often critically informed perspective it provides on French society and culture. The book also includes short extracts in English translation and an extensive bibliography of critical material for further reading. Such resources are aimed at encouraging the reader to gain a greater appreciation and understanding of this potent and formidable narrative of modern times.

Intercultural Masquerade Regis Machart, Fred Dervin, Minghui Gao, 2015-11-20. This volume revisits the notions of Orientalism, Occidentalism and to a certain extent Reverse Orientalism, Occidentalism in the 21st century, adopting post modern constructionist and potentially non essentialising approaches. The representations of the cultural Other in education, literature and the arts are examined by scholars working in Australia, France, Hong Kong, Japan, Malaysia, Singapore and the USA. Vinyl, compilations, TV series, novels, institutional discourses and surveys amongst others are examined so as to better understand how people construct their identity in relation to an imagined and idealised Other. This book will appeal to all researchers and students interested in cultural identity and stereotypes of the East and the West, in particular in the fields of academic mobility, cultural studies, intercultural education, postcolonial literature and media studies.
