The Craft of Research, 2nd edition Wayne C. Booth, Gregory G. Colomb, Joseph M. Williams, 2008-04-15 Since 1995 more than 150 000 students and researchers have turned to The Craft of Research for clear and helpful guidance on how to conduct research and report it effectively Now master teachers Wayne C Booth Gregory G Colomb and Joseph M Williams present a completely revised and updated version of their classic handbook Like its predecessor this new edition reflects the way researchers actually work in a complex circuit of thinking writing revising and rethinking It shows how each part of this process influences the others and how a successful research report is an orchestrated conversation between a researcher and a reader. Along with many other topics, The Craft of Research explains how to build an argument that motivates readers to accept a claim, how to anticipate the reservations of thoughtful yet critical readers, and to respond to them appropriately, and how to create introductions and conclusions that answer that most demanding question: So what? Celebrated by reviewers for its logic and clarity, this popular book retains its five-part structure. Part 1 provides an orientation to the research process and begins the discussion of what motivates researchers and their readers. Part 2 focuses on finding a topic, planning the project, and locating appropriate sources. This section is brought up to date with new information on the role of the Internet in research, including how to find and evaluate sources, avoid their misuse, and test their reliability. Part 3 explains the art of making an argument and supporting it. The authors have extensively revised this section to present the structure of an argument in clearer and more accessible terms than in the first edition. New distinctions are made among reasons, evidence, and reports of evidence. The concepts of qualifications and rebuttals are recast as acknowledgment and response. Part 4 covers drafting and revising and offers new information on the visual representation of data. Part 5 concludes the book with an updated discussion of the ethics of research as well as an expanded bibliography that includes many electronic sources. The new edition retains the accessibility, insights, and directness that have made The Craft of Research an indispensable guide for anyone doing research, from students in high school through advanced graduate study to businesspeople and government employees. The authors demonstrate convincingly that researching and reporting skills can be learned and used by all who undertake research projects.

New to this edition:

- Extensive coverage of how to do research on the Internet, including how to evaluate and test the reliability of sources.
- New information on the visual representation of data.
- Expanded bibliography with many electronic sources.

Testing the Canon of Ancient Near Eastern Art and Archaeology Amy Rebecca Gansell, Ann Shafer, 2020. This volume addresses and problematizes the formation and transformation of the ancient Near Eastern art historical and archaeological canon. The canon is defined as an established list of objects, monuments, buildings, and sites that are considered to be most representative of the ancient Near East. In testing this canon, this project takes stock of the current canon, its origins, endurance, and prospects. Boundaries and typologies are examined; technologies of canon production are investigated; and heritage perspectives on contemporary culture offer a key to the future.

Modernism and the Art of Muslim South Asia Iftikhar Dadi, 2010-05-15 This pioneering work traces the emergence of the modern and contemporary art of Muslim South Asia in relation to transnational modernism and in light of the region's intellectual cultural and political developments Art historian Iftikhar Dadi here explores the art and writings of major artists men and women ranging from the late colonial period to the era of independence and beyond He looks at the stunningly diverse artistic production of key artists associated with Pakistan including Abdur Rahman Chughtai Zainul Abedin Shakir Ali Zubeida Agha Sadequain Rasheed Araeen and Naiza Khan Dadi shows how beginning in the 1920s these artists addressed the challenges of modernity by translating historical and contemporary intellectual conceptions into their work reworking traditional approaches to the classical Islamic arts and engaging the modernist approach towards subjective individuality in artistic expression In the process they dramatically reconfigured the visual arts of the region By the 1930s these artists had embarked on a sustained engagement with international modernism in a context of dizzying social and political change that included decolonization the rise of mass media and developments following the national independence of India and Pakistan in 1947 Bringing new insights to such concepts as nationalism modernism cosmopolitanism and tradition Dadi underscores the powerful impact of transnationalism during this period and highlights the artists' growing embrace of modernist and contemporary artistic practice in order to address the challenges of the present era Evolution and Empathy Milton E. Brener, 2015-05-12 This book applies new scientific research in the fields of biology and genetics to an empirical study of the Greco Roman civilizations and the European Renaissance These two periods were remarkable in part because of the dominance of empathy and humanism in the philosophical thought of each era Both periods were preceded by the influx of many populations and genetic lines a circumstance this book treats as not coincidental but probably causative The author cites the expression of new genetic combinations in these periods as evidence that genetic evolution can play a large part in the development of new philosophical concepts as manifested in these two periods The author explains that humanistic traits seem to rise and fall in lockstep throughout human history directly or indirectly correlating with changing genetic underpinnings Cross-Cultural Issues in Art Steven Leuthold, 2010-12-16 This book provides an engaging introduction to aesthetic concepts expanding the discussion beyond the usual Western theorists and Western examples Class List of the Books in the Reference Library Nottingham (England).
