Art De Lire:

Essai Sur L'art de Lire [and Other Works.] [By Pierre Marie, Marquis de Grave.] ESSAI., Pierre Marie de Marquis GRAVE, 1816 Nouvelles lettres familières et autres missives, ou L'art de bien vivre, de bien parler, d'écrire & négocier, entremêlées de détails curieux, d'histoire, de géographie, de physique; suivies d'un petit traité sur le commerce ... Nouvelle édition exactement revue, corrig. & augmentée d'un abrégé de l'histoire de Liege Dehos (Sr., Jean-Joseph), 1792 Rational Method Claude Marcel, 1886 Bulletin, 1877 Un Art de Lire Adrien Jans, 1950 , Repair the World Alexandre Gefen, 2024-08-19

Talk of repair has become ubiquitous in recent years. In the age of trauma culture, art and literature have a new purpose: to do justice, to console, comfort, and heal. Drawing on works of twenty-first century French language literature, this monograph shows how literature can not only serve as a means of personal development but expand our capacity for empathy, help repair the brokenness implied in victimhood, and redress individual and collective traumas. Centered on a critical reflection on discourses of repair and reparations, it questions the canonical theories on the functions of literature and proposes a new way of writing and reading literary history. Praise: Repair the World is an invigorating and essential call to arms. The modern category of the literary it declares is being outpaced by the contemporary uses of literature as a medium of exorcism, empathy, reparation, testimony, commemoration, existential renewal, and ethical or political connectivity. Neither celebrating nor condemning such uses, Gefen models a much-needed style of criticism: interdisciplinary, pragmatic, relational, that comes to grips with their importance. Rita Felski, the John Stewart Bryan Professor and Professor of English at the University of Virginia, USA. In an era where self-help memoir and autobiography command more than their fair share of publisher's lists in France, it's tempting, some fifty years after post-structuralism's heyday, to ascribe an impending death of literature to a taste for narcissistic exhibitionism in French literary culture. But why bemoan the waning relevance of the question what is literature, asks Alexandre Gefen, when evidence abounds in the new century that literary writing increasingly posits itself as a restorative, reparative act. In the best instances, authors who give form to embodied experience imaginatively forge with their readers empathetic bonds of the sort that secular and religious institutions long sustained. Repair the World is not only a capacious study of writers who hail from surprisingly broad sectors of French society, from health and social workers to skilled laborers, journalists, and educators; it's a situated call for a pragmatics of reading that makes of each book an intervention into the fabric of the real. Harnessing sources in affect theory, trauma studies, ethics, and cognitive science, Alexandre Gefen performs a critically reparative act all his own, reminding us that the notion of literature as an autonomous object was itself a historical construct. In short, an ideology. Reading and writing have always conjoined care for the self and care for others, and it's upon that reciprocity that the communities of sense of tomorrow can flourish in a spirit of reparative humanism. Derek Schilling, Professor of French, Director of the Centre Louis Marin, Department of Modern Languages and Literatures, Johns Hopkins University, USA. Alexandre Gefen's wide-ranging, thought-provoking study takes stock of a paradigm shift in contemporary French literature away from a model of autonomy and intransitivity to ways of writing and reading that seek to repair restore reassure and rebuild From the varied forms of expressivity found in self narratives to the empathetic projections of fiction Repair the World maps out an expanding literary territory that seeks not critical negativity but rather the power to intervene for good in individual and collective life While reserving judgment on the actual extent of literature s effects Gefen demonstrates that contemporary projects and discourses undeniably center the therapeutic and remediative uses of literature With its nuanced readings and keen insights Repair the World has been rightly influential in France its powerful diagnosis of contemporary sensibilities resonates far beyond revealing both the promises and predicaments of literature in the twenty first century Alison James Professor of French and Chair of the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures at the University of Chicago USA What would it mean to ask Sartre s post war question What is literature in the 21st century In this wonderful essay Alexandre Gefen argues convincingly that the main purpose of literature today is to repair a broken world and memorialise forgotten lives Taking examples from predominantly contemporary French literature he proposes that literature as therapy has replaced religions of salvation a politics of emancipation and formal experimentation Today literature s mission is to heal traumatised individuals and communities resurrect the lives of the vulnerable and commemorate their deeds in the face of the forces of oblivion For Gefen Patrick Modiano s Dora Bruder 1997 is the contemporary literary archetype of these lost identities to be rehabilitated and reinhabited Gefen describes this new role for literature without taking sides the writing is lucid compelling and non partisan In an age of victimhood testimony empathy self expression and identity Gefen s reparative paradigm is as persuasive as Sartre s political version in the age of ideology Max Silverman Professor of Modern French Studies University of Leeds UK

Paul Delaroche Patricia Smyth, 2022-06-15 Paul Delaroche Painting and Popular Spectacle explores the connections between painting and an emergent popular visual culture in the early nineteenth century which included new forms of optical entertainment such as Panoramas and Dioramas and innovation in fields such as illustration art reproduction and stage decor Delaroche s paintings caused a sensation at the Paris Salon with critics comparing the emotional response they elicited to that of popular melodrama Yet his appeal to a certain type of spectator lay behind the increasingly hostile criticism to which his works were subjected and has in our own time led to his uncertain status in the art historical canon This book focuses on Delaroche s popularity with a newly expanded audience Lacking in specialist knowledge but nevertheless keen to engage with and deeply affected by art the behaviour of this new public prompted lively discussions about who has the right to judge art and on what grounds Working across disciplinary boundaries this book proposes a new reading both of Delaroche and of the connections between the arts in this period The artist emerges as a figure at the cutting edge of an emergent trans medial popular visual culture in which we see the formation of modern spectatorship The Works of Jeremy Bentham Jeremy Bentham, 1843 Catalogue of the London Library London Library, Robert Harrison, 1875 Catalogue of the

Anne-Marie Picard, 2016-08-05 From Illiteracy to Literature presents innovative material based on research with non reading children and re examines the complex relationship between psychoanalysis and literature through the lens of the psychical significance of reading the forgotten adventure of our coming to reading Anne Marie Picard draws on two specific fields of interest firstly the wish to understand the nature of literariness or the literary effect i e the pleasures and frustrations we derive from reading secondly research on reading pathologies carried out at St Anne s Hospital Paris The author uses clinical observations of non reading children to answer literary questions about the reading experience using psychoanalytic theory as a conceptual framework The notion that reading difficulties or phobias should be seen as a symptom in the psychoanalytic sense allows Picard to shed light on both clinical vignettes taken from children s case histories and reading scenes from literary texts Children experiencing difficulties in learning to read highlight the imaginary stakes of the confrontation with the arbitrary nature of the letter and the price to pay for one s entrance into the Symbolic Picard applies the lesson taught by these children to a series of key literary texts featuring at their very core this confrontation with the signifier with the written code itself This book argues that there is something in literature that drives us back again and again to the loss we have suffered as human beings to what we had to undergo to become human our subjection to the common place of language Picard shows complex Lacanian concepts at work in the field of reading pathologies emphasizing close reading and a clinical attention to the letter of the texts far from the psychobiographical attempts at psychologizing literary authors From Illiteracy to Literature presents a novel psychodynamic approach that will be of great interest to psychotherapists and language pathologists appealing to literary scholars and those interested in the process of reading and literariness The Artist and
