A Celebration Of American Dolls From The Collections Of Strong Museum:

A Celebration of American Dolls Dorothy A. McGonagle, 1997 Featuring a premiere collection of dolls from the Strong Museum this volume describes the evolution of American dolls from colonial to contemporary dolls Focusing on dolls which were actually made in America and made to be played with the book paints a lively picture of American life Divided into sections by media the book features dolls of wood papier mache rubber leather china and bisque cloth composition plastic and vinyl and paper as well as a sample of artist dolls American Heritage Society's Americana ,1991 Merry Christmas! Karal Ann Marling, 2001-12-20 Christmas wouldn't be the same without the things This book examines why the trees cards wrapping paper toy villages and Macy's holiday parade play such an important role in the festivities Through the medium of mass culture Christmas is here primarily defined as a secular celebration American Book Publishing Record ,2000 Playing Place Chad Randl, D. Medina Lasansky, 2023-08-15 An essay collection exploring the board game's relationship to the built environment revealing the unexpected ways that play reflects perceptions of space Board games harness the creation of entirely new worlds From the medieval warlord to the modern urban planner players are permitted to inhabit a staggering variety of roles and are prompted to incorporate preexisting notions of placemaking into their decisions To what extent do board games represent the social context of their production How might they reinforce or subvert normative ideas of community and fulfillment In Playing Place Chad Randl and D Medina Lasansky have curated a collection of thirty seven fascinating essays supplemented by a rich trove of photo illustrations that unpack these questions with breadth and care Although board games are often recreational objects their mythologies and infrastructure do not exist in a vacuum rather they echo and reproduce prevalent cultural landscapes This thesis forms the throughline of pieces reflecting on subjects as diverse as the rigidly gendered fantasies of classic mass market games the imperial convictions embedded in games that position player protagonists as conquerors establishing dominion over their discoveries and even the uncanny prescience of games that have players responding to a global pandemic Representing a thrilling convergence of historiography architectural history and media studies scholarship Playing Place suggests not only that tabletop games should be taken seriously but also that the medium itself is uniquely capable of facilitating our critical consideration of structures that are often taken for granted Handbook of American Popular Culture M. Thomas Inge, 1978 Library has Volumes 1 and 2 100 Years of Teddy Bears Dee Hockenberry, 2002 Celebrate the origins of the delightful toy bears that have charmed adults and children around the world for more than a century Here are stories and over 350 color photographs of some of the most important people events and bears that have contributed to Teddy's enormous popularity Theodore Roosevelt Seymour Eaton Margarete Steiff Peter Bull and many others are featured with historical information about their importance to the bears The Magazine Antiques ,2002 America the Complete Story Anna Cheifetz, 2011-09 New York Magazine ,1989-07-31 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea

Unpacking the Collection Sarah Byrne, Anne Clarke, Rodney Harrison, Robin Torrence, 2011-06-27 Museum collections are often perceived as static entities hidden away in storerooms or trapped behind glass cases By focusing on the dynamic histories of museum collections new research reveals their pivotal role in shaping a wide range of social relations Over time and across space the interactions between these artefacts and the people and institutions who made traded collected researched and exhibited them have generated complex networks of material and social agency In this innovative volume the contributors draw on a broad range of source materials to explore the cross cultural interactions which have created museum collections These case studies contribute significantly to the development of new theoretical frameworks to examine broader questions of materiality agency and identity in the past and present Grounded in case studies from individual objects and museum collections from North America Europe Africa the Pacific Islands and Australia this truly international volume juxtaposes historical geographical and cross cultural studies This work will be of great interest to archaeologists and anthropologists studying material culture as well as researchers in museum studies and cultural heritage management
