A Brief History Of Male Nudes In America:

A Brief History of Male Nudes in America Dianne Nelson Oberhansly, 2011-10-01 In these stories Dianne Nelson illuminates that vast territory of pleasure and pain created within modern families Whether it is a father trying to kidnap his young son from his estranged ex wife or a woman celebrating her ability to produce babies without any help from men Nelson s characters reveal the dark haunting and sometimes comic dilemmas of kinship In the title story seventeen year old April is an involuntary witness to the seemingly endless parade of lovers who frequent her mother s bed I don t know why my mother finds no lasting peace she muses Opening a book and trying to find her peace in facts dates the pure honesty of numbers April is overwhelmed finally by the sounds of lovemaking from the adjoining room The walls of this house aren t thick enough to keep that kind of sadness contained In The Uses of Memory Netta and Carlene are engaged in a different sort of mother daughter drama The issue at hand is the fate of Franklin their husband and father who lies in bed in a near comatose state oblivious to the nurturings or pleadings of either woman The past with its countless repercussion on the present tugs relentlessly at many of the characters In Chocolate the lingering pain of an impoverished childhood plagues Janice she recalls in particular the birthday and Christmas celebrations the meager gifts wrapped in the same brown twine that was used to hold the door shut Hillary the narrator of Dixon is spurred into action by the memory of her dead brother When a local barfly with silt for brains persists in telling outlandish lies about Dixon Hillary takes up karate training with an eye to defending her brother s name the truth of what she knew him to be Dee in Paperweight can pinpoint the exact moment at which she came to think of the body as an earthbound trap a hopeless house with the doors all locked she traces it back to a grade school theatrical performance and a classmate s luckless efforts to open the cumbersome stage curtains If it weren t for my body she laments I could fly I could go anywhere I could be anything Ranging in setting from a restaurant in St Louis to the rain soaked streets of San Francisco from a boisterous family reunion beneath the broad Kansas sky to a ranch in Utah where a young father dreams of becoming a movie star these fifteen stories show men and women pondering and often struggling against the mysteries of their own circumstances especially the bonds of flesh and blood Short Story Index

,1994 Once Removed Colette Sartor,2019 The women in the linked short story collection Once Removed carry the burdens imposed in the name of intimacy the secrets kept the lies told the disputes initiated as well as the joy that can still manage to triumph A singer with a damaged voice and an assumed identity befriends a silent troubled child an infertile law professor covets a tenant s daughterly affection a new mother tries to shield her infant from her estranged mother s surprise Easter visit an aging shopkeeper hides her husband s decline and a decades old lie to keep her best friends from moving away With depth and an acute sense of the fragility of intimate connection Colette Sartor creates stories of women that resonate with emotional complexity Some of these women possess the fierce natures and long vengeful memories of expert grudge holders Others avoid conflict at every turn or so they tell themselves For all of them grief lies at the core of love

Hold that Knowledge Ethan Laughman, 2019 Love in some of the infinite ways we may know it is the shared concern of these stories which have been chosen from among the hundreds that have appeared in the prestigious Flannery O'Connor Award for Short Fiction series More than seventy volumes which include approximately eight hundred stories have won the Flannery O'Connor Award This stunning trove of always engaging often groundbreaking short fiction is the common source for this anthology on love and for planned anthologies on such topics as work family animals children and more Emerging love or love on its way out the door Love that transcends or love that just stubbornly hangs on These fourteen stories give us at least that many new ways of looking at a state of mind that can send us either soaring or plummeting all in a heartbeat

Evening Out David Walton, 2010-03-01 David Walton's collection of eight stories five of which are set in Pittsburgh offers darkly humorous meditations on modern life In Skin and Bone an unexpected strange and ultimately tragic encounter between a karate student and his instructor raises questions about guilt and responsibility The Sundeck touches on sex loneliness and the difficulty for people to meaningfully connect In the title story a dinner party attended by a struggling academic begins with the toast No more angst or ennui only to end in hostility and disaster Evening Out was the first book to win the Flannery O'Connor Award for Short Fiction

Better Than War Iamak Vossoughi, 2015-09-15 The stories in Better Than War encompass narratives from a diverse set of Iranian immigrants many searching for a balance between memories of their homeland and their new American culture The everyday life of each character subtly reflects viewpoints that are simultaneously Iranian and American of all ages and circumstances These stories deal with family friends relationships urban life prison school and adolescence They also contain powerful messages about what people want need and deserve as citizens and human beings For instance in the story Better Than War a young Iranian boy must overcome the fear of asking an American girl on a date His friend tells him there is no shame in pouring your heart out to someone you like The boy must realize that expressing emotion and sorrow is worth the embarrassment because it shows loved ones that you are better than hatred and especially better than war All Iranian immigrants young or old carry with them a vivid past in their contemporary life These histories help provide perspective thankfulness and virtue to their families and friends Vossoughi's Better Than War is about growing up coming of age and raising children in America while still remembering the importance of retaining Iranian pride

Bad Kansas Becky Mandelbaum, 2017 Kansas boys The golden state A million and one Marthas Go on eat your heart out The house on Alabama Street Night of indulgences Stupid girls Thousand dollar decoy First love Queen of England Bald bear Acknowledgment

Mad Prairie Kate McIntyre, 2021-10-01 In this scary funny and slyly political short story collection Kate McIntyre conjures a fever dream of contemporary Kansas Boundaries between fantasy and reality blur and grotesque acts birth strange progeny A mother must choose between her children and her personal safety when her husband steadily excavates a moat around their country home his very own little border wall A Kansas politician grapples with international notoriety after an accident traps salt miners hundreds of feet underground in the same salt mine where his brother was murdered A bigot s newly transplanted liver gives him a taste for upbeat 1980s dance tracks while nudging him toward darker plans And across several stories we follow Miriam a young overachiever hell bent on leaving her home state who is lured back after college to teach elementary school in a rural community In Culvert Kansas Miriam finds closed mouths and big secrets the toxic waste storage for the battery factory leaches into the soil the hog farm waste lagoons have sprung leaks and her students at turns psychic lethargic and aggressive might not be human Japa and Other Stories Iheoma Nwachukwu,2024-09 These eight brutally beautiful stories are struck full of fragmented dreams with highly developed thieves misadventurers and displaced characters all heaving through a human struggle to anchor themselves in a new home or sometimes a new reality This book is about young Nigerian immigrants who bilocate trek through the desert become temporary Mormons sneak through Russia and yearn for new life in strange new territories that force them to confront what it means to search for a connection far from home Japa and Other Stories came out of a struggle Iheoma Nwachukwu faced when trying to orient himself in the United States of 2017 to 2021 when attitudes toward immigrants suddenly shifted The Japa characters explored in this book are immigrants who have no plans to return to their home country for voluntary reasons although they retain a strong connection to home Light Skin Gone to Waste Toni Ann Johnson,2022-10-15 A 2023 NAACP Image Award Nominee Shortlisted for the Saroyan Prize in fiction 2024 In 1962 Philip Arrington a psychologist with a PhD from Yeshiva arrives in the small mostly blue collar town of Monroe New York to rent a house for himself and his new wife They re Black something the man about to show him the house doesn t know With that we re introduced to the Arringtons Phil Velma his daughter Livia from a previous marriage and his youngest Madeline soon to be born They re cosmopolitan Sophisticated They re also troubled arrogant and throughout the linked stories falling apart We follow the family as Phil begins his private practice as Velma opens her antiques shop and as they buy new homes collect art go skiing and have overseas adventures It seems they ve made it in the white world However young Maddie one of the only Black children in town bears the brunt of the racism and the invisible barriers her family s money education and determination can t free her from As she grows up and realizes her father is sleeping with white women her mother is violently mercurial and her half sister resents her Maddie must decide who she is despite or perhaps precisely because of her family A Perfect Souvenir Ethan Laughman,2020-09-15 Travel and the exhilarating experiences it offers us is the shared concern of these stories which have been chosen from among the hundreds that have appeared in the prestigious Flannery O Connor Award for Short Fiction series More than seventy volumes which include approximately eight hundred stories have won the Flannery O Connor Award This stunning trove of always engaging often groundbreaking short fiction is the common source for this anthology on childhood and for planned anthologies on such topics as family gender and sexuality animals and more Travel can whisk us away to craggy mountainsides and sunny coastlines or bustling cities and mysterious jungles Travel can excite and rejuvenate or intimidate and overwhelm These sixteen stories reflect upon our immense intriguing world and our explorations of it whether you choose to follow the beaten path or abandon it Evening Street Review Number 38

Growing Up Ethan Laughman, 2021-03 A Day's Pay Ethan Laughman, 2020-09-15 Work and the coffee fueled day to day grind is the shared concern of these stories which have been chosen from among the hundreds that have appeared in the prestigious Flannery O'Connor Award for Short Fiction series More than seventy volumes which include approximately eight hundred stories have won the Flannery O'Connor Award This stunning trove of always engaging often groundbreaking short fiction is the common source for this anthology on work and for planned anthologies on such topics as family gender and sexuality animals and more Sometimes work is rewarding and sometimes it's just demanding From the cubicle to the courtroom from the stage to the station These fifteen stories reflect upon the time we dedicate to the jobs we do from the moment we begin our commute to the second we return home and every hardworking hour in between Rituals to Observe Ethan Laughman, 2019-09 These stories amount to something more than a celebration of the holidays dotting our calendars from month to month Even though holidays can occasion a return to the familiar these stories challenge traditional associations Each story serves to complicate how we observe the human observation of holidays and offers a nuanced understanding of related themes such as family and motherhood travel grief and mourning processes and memory More generally holidays are days of observance and that aspect alone offers a lot to unpack Changes Ethan Laughman, 2021-03-01 These stories are enveloped by change and the changes that shift the trajectories of our lives change that shatters us change that opens the world and change from which we can never come back These fourteen stories tell us about extensive and inevitable changes and how we realign ourselves and our lives if we can Ice Age Robert Anderson, 2010-03-01 The ten stories in Robert Anderson's debut collection are an inventive and daring foray into the world of the absurd Leading us across a wide range of settings from rural Texas to 1930s Spain to a Gulf War field hospital Anderson shifts our view of the world to incorporate a set of characters slightly off center and intriguing in their eccentricity As we are tossed from one bizarre circumstance to the next Anderson's sophisticated sometimes playful prose combines the concrete with the surreal to convince us that we know very little about the world we complacently inhabit Nervous Dancer Carol Lee Lorenzo, 2011-10-01 The lives on view in Nervous Dancer are complex and precarious Speaking their familial idioms in tones and cadences determined well before they ever appeared in these stories Carol Lee Lorenzo's characters surge into moments of change for reasons initially not apparent In the quirky hard edged ways in which they stumble beg come of age fall apart and reunite they reveal no simple notions about life The way women and children see men is often the focus of these stories and female voices are the most numerous in Nervous Dancer Singularity of character can be found in anyone however such as the nameless father in Unconfirmed Invitations whose guilt over his drinking and marital infidelities leads to a bizarre hunter gatherer compulsion Lorenzo's women are often mothers like LuAnn Wilson Hunter in Something Almost Invisible who says of herself and her son that they are divorced from everything we are all living in slow motion not at home anywhere Others find themselves in double binds with generational friction compounding their troubles such as Eulene in Nervous Dancer who informs her mother Just because I'm in your house doesn't mean I've lost the right to fight with my husband Lorenzo says that her characters are in the throes of love with its impurities or as sterling as it comes and sometimes they trip the spring and the hard face of hate appears She believes that it's not always the outside force someone else's doing that changes things or brings confrontation It's our stranger within our unspoken self that frightens and engages us That's what story allows us to see

Close-ups Sandra Thompson, 2011 Short Stories A deft and vivid account of the emotional stages in a woman's life All in all a strong sometimes devastating but ultimately hopeful collection by an exciting and gifted writer

Break Any Woman Down Dana Johnson, 2012-10-15 In Break Any Woman Down Dana Johnson explores race identity and alienation with unflinching honesty and vibrant language Hip and seductive her stories often feature women discovering their identities through sexual and emotional intimacy with the men in their lives In the title story La Donna is a black stripper whose white boyfriend an actor in adult movies insists that she stop stripping In Melvin in the Sixth Grade eleven year old Avery has a crush on a white boy from Oklahoma who like Avery is an outsider in their suburban Los Angeles school Markers is as much about a woman's relationship with her mother as it is about the dissolution of her relationship with an older Italian man Dana Johnson has an intuitive sense of character and a gift for creating authentic voices She effortlessly captures the rhythmic vernaculars of Los Angeles the American South and various immigrant communities as she brings to life the sometimes heavyhearted but always persevering souls who live there
