Understanding Your Neighbor's Faith Philip Lazowski, 2004 Understanding Your Neighbor's Faith What Christians and Jews Should Know About Each Other was the brainchild of Rabbi Philip Lazowski of Hartford Connecticut The idea was born several years back after he invited a group of non Jewish clergymen to visit the Holy Land with him Priests ministers and some members of their congregations who wanted a better understanding of Israel and Judaism enthusiastically accepted his gesture of good will Rabbi Lazowski's unique perspective as a Holocaust survivor made him ideally poised to teach others about the historical and philosophical context of Judaism as well as its rich tradition of practice Rabbi Lazowski also learned much from his colleagues of other faith traditions This unprecedented volume gives Rabbi Lazowski and the other clergy the opportunity to explicate their religion using their own language and concepts in responding to the questions of people of goodwill outside their faith Difficult even uncomfortable questions are asked and answered No question is too simple or too complex Every chapter each by an author belonging to a different Christian faith tradition will prove as informative to the co religionist as to the outsider The concise straightforward question and answer style allows the book to be studied in full read casually or consulted for reference

Secular Schooling in the Long Twentieth Century?

Merethe Roos, Johannes Westberg, Henrik Edgren, 2024-09-23 The twentieth century process of secularization does not mean that institutional church and Christian ideas were irrelevant for twentieth century societal projects such as the introduction of democracy the improvement of school and education the framing of national identities or in the establishment of welfare states On the contrary this publication is built on the presupposition that secularization runs parallel with the sacralization of the state It can be argued that Christianity has been decisive for how the modern European society evolved in the twentieth century e g concerning how Christian history and Christian values were a part of the new national and social imaginary where re enchantment and re sacralization of the state were central elements In this publication the aim is to highlight the role of Christianity in the twentieth and twentyfirst century welfare state modernization process with the focus on schooling and education A central perspective is the impact of cultural Protestantism during the twentieth century The publication is comparative and will investigate education in Norway Sweden and the Netherlands via chapters on curriculums textbooks politicians and political debates
