Washington and Baltimore Art Deco Richard Striner, Melissa Blair, 2014-04-30 Art Deco buildings still lift their modernist principles and streamlined chrome into the skies of Baltimore and Washington D C Second Place Winner of the Design and Effectiveness Award of the Washington Publishers The bold lines and decorative details of Art Deco have stood the test of time since one of its first appearances in the International Exhibition of Modern Decorative and Industrial Arts in Paris in 1925 Reflecting the confidence of modern mentality streamlined chrome and glossy black along with simple elegance sharp lines and cosmopolitan aspirations Art Deco carried surprises juxtaposing designs growing out of speed racecars and airplanes with ancient Egyptian and Mexican details visual references to Russian ballet and allusions to Asian art While most often associated with such masterworks as New York's Chrysler Building Art Deco is evident in the architecture of many U S cities including Washington and Baltimore By updating the findings of two regional studies from the 1980s with new research Richard Striner and Melissa Blair explore the most significant Art Deco buildings still standing and mourn those that have been lost This comparative study illuminates contrasts between the white collar New Deal capital and the blue collar industrial port city while noting such striking commonalities as the regional patterns of Baltimore's John Jacob Zinc who designed Art Deco cinemas in both cities Uneven preservation efforts have allowed significant losses but surviving examples of Art Deco architecture include the Bank of America building in Baltimore now better known as 10 Light Street and the Uptown Theater on Connecticut Avenue NW in Washington Although possibly less glamorous or flamboyant than exemplars in New York or Miami the authors find these structures along with apartment houses and government buildings typical of the Deco architecture found throughout the United States and well worth preserving Demonstrating how an international design movement found its way into ordinary places this study will appeal to architectural historians as well as regional residents interested in developing a greater appreciation of Art Deco architecture in the mid Atlantic region San

Francisco Art Deco Michael F. Crowe, Robert W. Bowen, 2007 The famed period of architecture design and style known as

Art Deco began in the mid 1920s and lasted for a good 20 years. The movement left an indelible stamp all around the Bay Area but nowhere more so than in style-conscious San Francisco. The city's 1925 Diamond Jubilee coinciding with the Exposition Internationale des Arts Decoratifs et Industriels Modernes in France ushered in the Art Deco age to the city by the bay. The Roaring Twenties created a need for thousands of new commercial and residential buildings and many of these such as Timothy Pflueger's Pacific Telephone and Telegraph building were Art Deco masterpieces that embodied the new moderne styling sweeping the country. Using a variety of building materials including terracotta Vitrolux and neon many of the city's graceful and dramatic buildings turned heads 70 years ago just as they do today.

The Architecture of Francis Palmer Smith, Atlanta's Scholar-architect Robert Michael Craig, 2012 Francis Palmer Smith was the principal designer of Atlanta-based Pringle and Smith one of the leading firms of the early twentieth century South. Smith was an academic eclectic who created traditional history-based architecture grounded in the teachings of the cole des Beaux Arts. As The Architecture of Francis Palmer Smith shows Smith was central to the establishment of the Beaux Arts perspective in the South through his academic and professional career. After studying with Paul Philippe Cret at the University of Pennsylvania Smith moved to Atlanta in 1909 to head the new architecture program at the Georgia Institute of Technology. He would go on to train some of the South's most significant architects including Philip Trammell Shutze, Flippen Burge, Preston Stevens, Ed Ivey and Lewis E. Crook Jr. In 1922 Smith formed a partnership with Robert S. Pringle. In Atlanta, Savannah, Chattanooga, Jacksonville, Sarasota, Miami and elsewhere Smith built office buildings, hotels and Art Deco skyscrapers, buildings at Georgia Tech, the Baylor School in Chattanooga and the Darlington School in Rome, Georgia. Gothic Revival churches, standardized bottling plants for Coca-Cola and houses in a range of traditional period styles in the suburbs. Smith's love of medieval architecture culminated with his 1962 masterwork the Cathedral of St. Philip in Atlanta. As his career drew to a close Modernism was establishing itself in America. Smith's own modern aesthetic was evidenced in the more populist modern of Art Deco but he never embraced the abstract machine aesthetic of high Modern. Robert M. Craig details the role of history in design for Smith and his generation who believed that architecture is an art and that ornament, cultural reference, symbolism and tradition communicate to clients and observers and enrich the lives of both. This book was supported in part by generous grants from the Graham Foundation for Advanced Studies in the Fine Arts and the Georgia Tech Foundation Inc. The Grove
