Art in the Age of Mass Media John A. Walker, 2001-08-20 Can fine art survive in an age of mass media If so in what forms and to what purpose And can radical art still play a critical role in today s divided world These are the questions addressed in the Art in the Age of Mass Media as John Walker examines the fascinating relationship between art and mass media and the myriad interactions between high and low culture in a postmodern culturally pluralistic world Using a range of historic and contemporary works of art Walker explores the variety of ways in which artists have responded to the arrival of new mass media He ranges from the socialist paintings of Courbet to the anti Nazi photomontages of Heartfield from community murals and Keith Haring s use of graffiti to the kitsch self promotion associated with Jeff Koons The new edition describes what happened during the 1990s including Toscani s adverts for Benetton the simulations of Leeds 13 art and cinema Damien Hirst and the cyberart currently being produced for the internet

Art in the Age of the Internet Eva Respini, 2018-01-01 Art in the Age of the Internet 1989 to Today is the first major thematic group exhibition in the United States to examine the radical impact of internet culture on visual art Featuring 60 artists collaborations and collectives the exhibition is comprised of over 70 works across a variety of mediums including painting performance photography sculpture video web based projects and virtual reality The exhibition is divided into five sections that explore themes such as emergent ideas of the body and notions of human enhancement the internet as a site of both surveillance and resistance the circulation and control of images and information the possibilities for exploring identity and community afforded by virtual domains and new economies of visibility accelerated by social media Throughout the work in the exhibition addresses the internet age democratization of culture that comprises our current moment The earliest work in the exhibition is from 1989 the year that Tim Berners Lee invented the World Wide Web This development and others that followed in quick succession modernized the internet and in the process radically changed our way of life from how we access and generate information make friends and share experiences to how we imagine our future bodies and how nations police national security 1989 also marked a watershed moment across the globe with significant shifts in politics geographies and economies Events such as the fall of the Berlin Wall and protests in Tiananmen Square signaled the beginning of our current globalized age which cannot be imagined without the internet

The Work of Art in a Digital Age: Art, Technology and Globalisation Melissa Langdon, 2014-08-20 This book explores digital artists' articulations of globalization. Digital artworks from around the world are examined in terms of how they both express and simulate globalization's impacts through immersive participatory and interactive technologies. The author highlights some of the problems with macro and categorical approaches to the study of globalization and presents new ways of seeing the phenomenon as a series of processes and flows that are individually experienced and expressed. Instead of providing a macro analysis of large scale political and economic processes, the book offers imaginative new ways of knowing and understanding globalization as a series of micro affects. Digital art is explored in terms of how it re-centers articulations of globalization around individual experiences and offers new ways of accessing a complex topic often expressed in general and intangible terms. The Work of Art in a Digital Age: Art Technology and Globalization is analytic and accessible with material that is of interest to a range of researchers from different disciplines. Students studying digital art, film, globalization, cultural studies, or digital media trends will also find the content fascinating.

Art in the Age of Machine Learning Sofian Audry, 2021-11-23 An examination of machine learning art and its practice in new media art and music. Over the past decade, an artistic movement has emerged that draws on machine learning as both inspiration and medium. In this book, transdisciplinary artist-researcher Sofian Audry examines artistic practices at the intersection of machine learning and new media art, providing conceptual tools and historical perspectives for new media artists, musicians, composers, writers, curators, and theorists. Audry looks at works from a broad range of practices, including new media, installation, robotic art, visual art, electronic music, and sound, and electronic literature, connecting machine learning art to such earlier artistic practices as cybernetics, art, artificial life, art, and evolutionary art. Machine learning underlies computational systems that are biologically inspired, statistically driven, agent-based, networked entities that program themselves. Audry explains the fundamental design of machine learning algorithmic structures in terms accessible to the nonspecialist while framing these technologies within larger historical and conceptual spaces. Audry debunks myths about machine learning art, including the ideas that machine learning can create art without artists and that machine learning will soon bring about superhuman intelligence and creativity. Audry considers learning procedures, describing how artists hijack the training process by playing with evaluative functions, discusses trainable machines and models, explaining how different types of machine learning systems enable different kinds of artistic practices, and reviews the role of data in machine learning art, showing how artists use data as a raw material to steer learning systems and arguing that machine learning allows for novel forms of algorithmic remixes.

The Arts in the Age of Soma Andrew Young (Real name Jacob East), 2025-05-15 This passionate book explores the decline of music and cinema as art forms in the past 25 years, suggesting a new cultural revolution is actually anti-culture. Music and cinema have been suffocated in a cultural environment devoid of creativity and critical thought to numb the public and ensure the people uphold the status quo

Culture in the Age of Three Worlds Michael Denning, 2020-05-05 Over the last half of the twentieth century culture moved to the foreground of political and intellectual life Suddenly everyone discovered that culture had been mass produced like Ford's cars the masses had culture and culture had a mass Culture was everywhere no longer the property of the cultured or the cultivated Radical social movements around the globe invented a politics of culture Culture In the Age of Three Worlds is a reflection on this cultural turn which was a fundamental aspect of the age of three worlds that short half century between 1945 and 1989 when it was imagined that the world was divided into three the capitalist first world the communist second world and the decolonizing third world Recasting the legacies of British cultural studies and the radical traditions of the American studies movement in a global context Michael Denning explores the political and intellectual battles over the meanings of culture addresses the rise of a distinctive American ideology and charts the lineaments of the global cultures that emerged as three worlds gave way to one

An Analysis of Walter Benjamin's The Work of Art in the Age of Mechanical Reproduction Rachele Dini, 2018-02-21 The Work of Art in the Age of Mechanical Reproduction combats traditional art criticism's treatment of artworks as fixed unchanging mystical objects For Walter Benjamin the consequences of addressing a work of art in this manner have a wider resonance closed off from any active visual or tactile engagement the work of art becomes an object of passive contemplation and a potential tool of oppression Benjamin argues that technology has fundamentally altered the way art is experienced Potentially open to interpretation and accessible to many art in the age of mechanical reproduction has the potential to be mobilized for radical purposes While ostensibly addressing the artistic consequences of technical reproducibility on art Benjamin also addresses the wider political consequences of this shift
