Howe Bartlett, 1882 Art Life of William Rimmer J. H. Bartlett, 1882 The Art Life of William Rimmer Truman Howe Bartlett, 2017-12-25
Excerpt from The Art Life of William Rimmer Sculptor Painter and Physician York as the director of the School of Design for Women at the Cooper Institute Of his origin nothing whatever was learned either by his friends or the public and outside of his family circle little was known of his life or his struggles even by his immediate friends His plaster statue of the falling gladiator when in 1861 it was first shown at his house in East Milton and soon after in Boston was pronounced a remarkable work and its author a modern Michael Angelo But neither this work nor the St Stephen which was produced a year earlier gained at that time the place in public esteem which they merited and after a temporary success both sank into undeserved obscurity About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Art Life of William Rimmer, 1970
