A history of art in ancient Egypt Vol.1 (of 2) (Illustrations) Georges Perrot,Charles Chipiez,2019-05-19 The successful interpretation of the ancient writings of Egypt Chald a and Persia which has distinguished our times makes it necessary that the history of antiquity should be rewritten Documents that for thousands of years lay hidden beneath the soil and inscriptions which like those of Egypt and Persia long offered themselves to the gaze of man merely to excite his impotent curiosity have now been deciphered and made to render up their secrets for the guidance of the historian By the help of those strings of hieroglyphs and of cuneiform characters illustrated by paintings and sculptured reliefs we are enabled to separate the truth from the falsehood the chaff from the wheat in the narratives of the Greek writers who busied themselves with those nations of Africa and Asia which preceded their own in the ways of civilization Day by day as new monuments have been discovered and more certain methods of reading their inscriptions elaborated we have added to the knowledge left us by Herodotus and Diodorus Siculus to our acquaintance with those empires on the Euphrates and the Nile which were already in old age when the Greeks were yet struggling to emerge from their primitive barbarism Even in the cases of Greece and Rome whose histories are supplied in their main lines by their classic writers the study of hitherto neglected writings discloses many new and curious details The energetic search for ancient inscriptions and the scrupulous and ingenious interpretation of their meaning which we have witnessed and are witnessing have revealed to us many interesting facts of which no trace is to be found in Thucydides or Xenophon in Livy or Tacitus enabling us to enrich with more than one feature the picture of private and public life which they have handed down to us In the effort to embrace the life of ancient times as a whole many attempts have been made to fix the exact place in it occupied by art but those attempts have never been absolutely successful because the comprehension of works of art of plastic creations in the widest significance of that word demands an amount of special knowledge which the great majority of historians are without art has a method and language of its own which obliges those who wish to learn it thoroughly to cultivate their taste by frequenting the principal museums of Europe by visiting distant regions at the cost of considerable trouble and expense by perpetual reference to the great collections of engravings photographs and other reproductions which considerations of space and cost prevent the savant from possessing at home More than one learned author has never visited Italy or Greece or has found no time to examine their museums each of which contains but a small portion of the accumulated remains of antique art Some connoisseurs do not even live in a capital but dwell far from those public libraries which often contain valuable collections and sometimes when they are not packed away in cellars or at the binder's allow them to be studied by the curious 2 The study of art difficult enough in itself is thus rendered still more arduous by the obstacles which are thrown in its way The difficulty of obtaining materials for self improvement in this direction affords the true explanation of the absence in modern histories of antiquity of those laborious researches which have led to such great results since Winckelmann founded the science of archaeology as we know it To be continued in this ebook

Egyptian Art (World of Art) Bill Manley, 2018-01-23 An insightful volume delving into the enduringly compelling art of ancient Egypt from a new historical perspective The art and architecture of Egypt during the age of the pharaohs continue to capture the imagination of the modern world Among the great creative achievements of ancient Egypt are a set of constant forms archetypes in art and architecture in which the origins of concepts such as authority divinity beauty and meaning are readily discernible Whether adapted to fine delicate jewelry or colossal statues these forms maintain a human face with human ideas and emotions These artistic templates and the ideas they articulated were refined and reinvented through dozens of centuries until scenes first created for the earliest kings around 3000 BCE were eventually used to represent Roman emperors and the last officials of pre Christian Egypt Bill Manley's account of the art of ancient Egypt draws on the finest works through more than 3 000 years and places celebrated masterpieces from the Narmer palette to Tutankhamun's gold mask in their original contexts in the tombs temples and palaces of the pharaohs and their citizens

Egyptian art Jean Capart, Elie Faure, Victoria Charles, 2019-12-09 Egyptian art is perhaps the most impersonal that exists The artist effaces himself But he has such an innate sense of life a sense so directly moved and so limpid that everything of life which he describes seems defined by that sense to issue from the natural gesture from the exact attitude in which one no longer sees stiffness His impersonality resembles that of the trees bowing in the wind with a single movement and without resistance or that of the water which wrinkles into equal circles all moving in the same direction From afar Egyptian art seems changeless and forever like itself From nearby it offers like that of all the other peoples the spectacle of great evolutions of progress toward freedom of expression of researches in imposed hieratism Egypt is so far from us that it all seems on the same plane One forgets that there are fifteen or twenty centuries the age of Christianity between the Seated Scribe and the great classic period twentyfive or thirty centuries fifty perhaps twice the time that separates us from Pericles and Phidias between the pyramids and the Saite school the last living manifestation of the Egyptian ideal Egypt died of her need of eternity
