Symphony of Flavors Edmundo Murray, 2015-09-04 Sound and taste conjugate a special relationship and they are often presented and represented together The linkage between music and food has been a traditional field for artists to suggest among various emotions love and sexual desire happiness fear and rebellion as well as environmental urban ethnic and class values This multi author book explores the interconnectedness of music and food and their meaningful relations With a multicultural approach chapters focus on various historical periods and world cultures Music and food links are explored

Writing* Alice McLean, 2012-05-22 This book explores the aesthetic pleasures of eating and writing in the lives of M F K Fisher 1908 1992 Alice B Toklas 1877 1967 and Elizabeth David 1913 1992 Growing up during a time when women s food writing was largely limited to the domestic cookbook which helped to codify the guidelines of middle class domesticity Fisher Toklas and David claimed the pleasures of gastronomy previously reserved for men Articulating a language through which female desire is artfully and publicly sated Fisher Toklas and David expanded women s food writing beyond the domestic realm by pioneering forms of self expression that celebrate female appetite for pleasure and for culinary adventure In so doing they illuminate the power of genre bending food writing to transgress and reconfigure conventional gender ideologies For these women food encouraged a sensory engagement with their environment and a physical receptivity toward pleasure that engendered their creative aesthetic      The Insider's Guide to Old Books, Magazines, Newspapers, Trade

Dead Meat Elisabeth Abergel, 2024-12-05 As we confront the environmental challenges of the Anthropocene cellular agriculture has emerged as a revolutionary technology promising to reshape global food systems Dead Meat offers a critical examination of this biotechnological shift exploring how cultivated meat production reconfigures the relationship between life death and food in the context of competing ecological social and ethical imperatives Elisabeth Abergel provides a compelling analysis of cultivated meat through the lens of competing vitalities questioning how these new forms of food production are narrated and imagined in the Anthropocene She delves into the sociotechnical imaginaries that promise sustainability animal welfare and climate resilience while probing the tensions between these narratives and the political economy of industrial food production Drawing on interdisciplinary perspectives from the environmental humanities science and technology studies political economy and political ecology Abergel critiques the idea that cultivated meat is a simple technological fix to the climate crisis Instead she exposes how these innovations both challenge and reinforce capitalist logics that dominate agricultural systems Dead Meat is essential reading for scholars and students in environmental sociology food politics science and technology studies environmental humanities and political economy as well as for activists and policymakers interested in sustainable food futures and planetary health
