Mandalas: Mapping the Buddhist Art of Tibet Kurt Behrendt,2024-09-16 A mandala is a diagram of the universe a map of true reality intended to provide a focus for Buddhist religious practice and inspire the devout This book highlights the distinctive Tibetan approach to creating mandalas exploring how it crossed over from India into Tibet and how continuous exchanges of art and ideas between the two cultures led by monks and spiritual teachers gave rise to a uniquely Tibetan style of Buddhist imagery Featuring more than one hundred paintings sculptures and ritual objects this superbly illustrated volume reflects the dazzling complexities of the Tibetan imagery that has provided a foundation for mandalas through the centuries Most notably a mesmerizing installation by the Tibetan American artist Tenzing Rigdol b 1982 specially created for the accompanying exhibition and published here for the first time offers contemporary audiences a way of interrogating and understanding their world and underscores how this ancient tradition remains a vibrant living practice The Circle of Bliss John C. legends and artistic portrayals of nineteen goddesses and several related human figures and texts Drawing on a sweeping range of material from devotional poetry and meditation manuals to rituals and artistic images Shaw reveals the character powers and practice traditions of the female divinities Interpretations of intriguing traits such as body color stance hairstyle clothing jewelry hand gestures and handheld objects lend deep insight into the symbolism and roles of each goddess In addition to being a comprehensive reference this book traces the fascinating history of these goddesses as they evolved through the early Mahayana and Tantric movements in India and found a place in the pantheons of Tibet and Nepal Publisher's website
