Sculpture and the Museum Christopher R. Marshall, 2017-07-05 Sculpture and the Museum is the first in depth examination of the varying roles and meanings assigned to sculpture in museums and galleries during the modern period from neo classical to contemporary art practice It considers a rich array of curatorial strategies and settings in order to examine the many reasons why sculpture has enjoyed a position of such considerable importance and complexity within the institutional framework of the museum and how changes to the museum have altered in turn the ways that we perceive the sculpture within it In particular the contributors consider the complex issue of how best to display sculpture across different periods and according to varying curatorial philosophies Sculptors discussed include Canova Rodin Henry Moore Flaxman and contemporary artists such as Rebecca Horn Rachel Whiteread Mark Dion and Olafur Eliasson with a variety of museums in America Canada and Europe presented as case studies Underlying all of these discussions is a concern to chart the critical importance of the acquisition placement and display of sculpture in museums and to explore the importance of sculptures as a forum for the expression of programmatic statements of power prestige and the museum s own sense of itself in relation to its audiences and its broader institutional aspirations

Museum Space Kali Tzortzi, 2016-03-09 Museums are among the iconic buildings of the twenty first century as remarkable for their architectural diversity as for the variety of collections they display But how does the architecture of museums affect our experience as visitors This book proposes that by seeing space as common ground between architecture and museology and so between the museum building and its display we can illuminate the individuality of each museum and the distinctive experience it offers for example how some museums create a sense of personal exploration while others are more intensely didactic and how the visit in some cases is transformed into a spatial experience and in other cases into a more social event The book starts with an overview of the history of museum buildings and display strategies and a discussion of theoretical and critical approaches It then focuses on specific museums as in depth case studies and uses methods of spatial analysis to look at the key design choices available to architects and curators and their effects on visitors behaviour Theoretically grounded methodologically original and richly illustrated this book will equip students researchers and professionals in the fields of architecture museum studies curating exhibition design and cultural studies with a guide for studying museums and a theoretical framework for their interpretation

Curating, Interpretation and Museums Sylvia Lahav, 2023-03-09 Following a period of strategic and ideological change in museums this book outlines new attitudes in curating and display education and learning text and interpretation access inclusion participation space and the issues around the sustainability of the encyclopaedic collection Focused on the contemporary period the author questions the extent to which the museum visitor has become reliant on interpretative text and examines the development of new museum spaces where visitor interaction and engagement is welcomed Changes of attitude have transformed our museums into modern spaces that reflect current needs and modern expectations and yet our permanent collections remain relatively unchanged sometimes an uncomfortable reminder of a time when values ethics and attitudes were very different The author will discuss these conflicts of ideology Written by a researcher with expertise in museum practice this shortform book offers a new approach that will be valuable reading for students and scholars of cultural management and policy as well as providing insights for reflective museum practitioners Art spaces ,2006 Urban Mindscapes of Europe ,2016-08-01 Urban mindscapes are structures of thinking about a city built on conceptualisations of the city s physical landscape as well as on its image as transported through cultural representation memory and imagination This book pursues three main strands of inquiry in its exploration of these landscapes of the mind in a European context The first strand concerns the theory and methodology of researching urban mindscapes and urban imaginaries The second strand investigates some of the representations symbols and collective images that feed into our understanding of European cities It discusses representations of the city in literature film television and other cultural forms which in James Donald s phrase constitute archives of urban images The third and last section of the volume concentrates on the relationship between the collective mindscapes of cities urban policy and the practice of city marketing Museum, Place, Architecture and Narrative Annika Bünz,2022-09-13 A characteristic trait of the maritime museums is that they are often located in a contemporary and or historical environment from which the collections and narratives originate The museum can thereby be directly linked to the site and its history It is therefore vital to investigate the maritime museums in terms of relationships between landscape architecture museum and collections This volume unravels the kinds of worlds and realities the Nordic maritime museums stage which identities and national myths they depict and how they make use of both the surrounding maritime environments and the architectural properties of the museum buildings Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,1991 Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications United States. Superintendent of Documents,1995 Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1978 Appletons' General Guide to the United States and Canada ,1893 What Is Contemporary Art? Terry Smith,2012-08-10 Who gets to say what counts as contemporary art Artists critics curators gallerists auctioneers collectors or the public Revealing how all of these groups have shaped today s multifaceted definition Terry Smith brilliantly shows that an historical approach offers the best answer to the question What is Contemporary Art Smith argues that the most recognizable kind is characterized by a return to mainstream modernism in the work of such artists as Richard Serra and Gerhard Richter as well as the retro sensationalism of figures like Damien Hirst and Takashi Murakami At the same time Smith reveals postcolonial artists are engaged in a different kind of practice one that builds on local concerns and tackles questions of identity history and globalization A younger generation embodies yet a third approach to contemporaneity by investigating time place mediation and ethics through small scale closely connective art making Inviting readers into these diverse yet overlapping art worlds Smith offers a behind the scenes introduction to the institutions the personalities the biennials and of course the works that together are defining the contemporary The resulting map of where art is now illuminates not only where it has been but also where it is going
