an historical approach offers the best answer to the question What is Contemporary Art Smith argues that the most recognizable kind is characterized by a return to mainstream modernism in the work of such artists as Richard Serra and Gerhard Richter as well as the retro sensationalism of figures like Damien Hirst and Takashi Murakami At the same time Smith reveals postcolonial artists are engaged in a different kind of practice one that builds on local concerns and tackles questions of identity history and globalization A younger generation embodies yet a third approach to contemporaneity by investigating time place mediation and ethics through small scale closely connective art making Inviting readers into these diverse yet overlapping art worlds Smith offers a behind the scenes introduction to the institutions the personalities the biennials and of course the works that together are defining the contemporary The resulting map of where art is now illuminates not only where it has been but also where it is going

Time and Presence in Art Armin Bergmeier, Andrew Griebeler, 2022-03-07 This volume explores the relationship between temporality and presence in medieval artworks from the third to the sixteenth centuries It is the first extensive treatment of the interconnections between medieval artworks varied presences and their ever shifting places in time The volume begins with reflections on the study of temporality and presence in medieval and early modern art history A second section presents case studies delving into the different ways medieval artworks once created and transformed their original viewers experience of the present These range from late antique Constantinople early Islamic Jerusalem and medieval Italy to early modern Venice and the Low Countries A final section explores how medieval artworks remain powerful and relevant today This section includes case studies on reconstructing presence in medieval art through embodied experience of pilgrimage art historical research and museum education In doing so the volume provides a first dialog between museum educators and art historians on the presence of medieval artifacts It includes contributions by Hans Belting Keith Moxey Rika Burnham and others

The Ecology of the Performance Art Process Angela Viora, 2025-02-25 This book offers a new dynamic and ecological perspective to analyse the process of performance art namely what occurs during the unfolding of a piece exploring the essence of its happening through the forces at play The author's aim is to provide a deeper understanding of performance art which the existing scholarship acknowledges as an art form that actively engages with the world Much work has been done on the transformative effects of performance art on the artists and the audiences and its impact on society over time The author takes this perspective further by asking how does this transformation happen Little work exists on exploring the forces and dynamics occurring while a performance is developing neither before nor after but during it This is the first and main gap that this book fills given the importance of process and processuality as the characterising features of this art form By filling this gap this book offers a new way to understand performances and their impact in the world and over time as well as providing practitioners with tools for performing and designing their works starting from the process rather than focusing on the outcomes This book studies the matrix of the performance art process by conceiving it as an ecosystem in which all the elements at play
