Bulhof, 2012-12-06 Philosophy originates in man's amazement over the richness and complexity of reality It attempts to articulate in words and concepts what reality is Starting from the recognition that this reality is experienced by all humans but experienced in many different ways the philosopher tries to find reality's heart its center its hidden treasure the tree in the middle connecting heaven and earth the central point from which the stupendous intricacy of experience begins to make sense and from which order can become visible To ask what is reality is indeed to recognize that we have entered a maze The hermeneutic philosophy of

Wilhelm Dilthey 1833 1911 is the fruit of his own wanderings in this maze Like many intellectuals of his age he had lost faith in the Christian religion in which he was raised In his college years he turned from theology to philosophy in particular the history of philosophy and of human thought in general wondering about the origin and value of the astounding variety of past belief systems At the center of reality's maze he found the insight that reality as faced by man is comparable to a literary text it means something to us Reality is not a mute object but an autonomous source of meaning an act of self disclosure knowledge of reality is therefore not the product of actions performed by an active subject upon a passive object but a communicative interaction between two Subjects Resources in Education ,1997 A Commerce of Knowledge Simon Mills,2020 A Commerce of Knowledge tells the story of three generations of Church of England chaplains who worked in Ottoman Aleppo during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries By reconstructing their careers Simon Mills shows the links between English commercial and diplomatic expansion and English scholarly and missionary interests Museum of Foreign Literature, Science and Art ,1830 The Appreciation of Music Series, Vol. IV Daniel Gregory Mason,1921

The Athenaeum ,1853 The Good Enough Life Daniel Miller,2023-11-08 This book is a highly original exploration of what life could and should be It juxtaposes a philosophical enquiry into the nature of the good life with an ethnography of people living in a small Irish town Attending carefully to the everyday lives of these people the ethnographic chapters examine topics ranging from freedom and inequality to the creation of community and the purpose of life These chapters alternate with discussions of similar topics by a wide range of philosophers in the Western tradition from Socrates and the Stoics through Kant Hegel and Heidegger to Adorno Rawls MacIntyre and Nussbaum As an ethnography this book reveals just how much we can learn from a respectful acknowledgement of what ordinary modest people have achieved By creating community as a deliberate and social project that provides the foundation for a more fulfilling life where affluence has not led to an increase in individualism the people in this town have found a way to live the good enough life The book also shows how anthropology and philosophy can complement and enrich one another in an enquiry into what we might accomplish in our lives The Cyclopædia; Or, Universal Dictionary of Arts, Sciences, and Literature.
