Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, 2006      The Popular Encyclopedia; Or "Conversations Lexicon": Being a General Dictionary of Arts, Science, Literature, Biography, History, Ethics and Political Economy Encyclopaedias, 1841      Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Cataloging Policy and Support Office, 2006      The Routledge Companion to Research in the Arts Michael Biggs, Henrik Karlsson, 2010-10-04 The Routledge Companion to Research in the Arts is a major collection of new writings on research in the creative and performing arts by leading authorities from around the world. It provides theoretical and practical approaches to identifying, structuring and resolving some of the key issues in the debate about the nature of research in the arts which have surfaced during the establishment of this subject over the last decade. Contributions are located in the contemporary intellectual environment of research in the arts and more widely in the universities in the strategic and political environment of national research funding and in the international environment of trans national cooperation and communication. The book is divided into three principal sections: Foundations, Voices and Contexts, each with an introduction from the editors highlighting the main issues, agreements and debates in each section. The Routledge Companion to Research in the Arts addresses a wide variety of concepts and issues including the diversity of views on what constitutes arts based research and scholarship, what it should be and its potential contribution, the trans national communication difficulties arising from terminological and ontological differences in arts based research, traditional and non traditional concepts of knowledge, their relationship to professional practice and their outcomes and audiences, a consideration of the role of written, spoken and artefact based languages in the formation and communication of understandings. This comprehensive collection makes an original and significant contribution to the field of arts based research by setting down a framework for addressing these and other topical issues. It will be essential reading for research managers and policy makers in research councils and universities as well as individual researchers, research supervisors and doctoral candidates.

Strategic Decision Making in the Arts Gary D. Beckman, Karl Androes, 2024-08-26 For entrepreneurs in the creative fields, decision making is both a necessity and an art. Applying creativity to strategic decisions requires skills developed over time. This textbook provides arts entrepreneurship students a series of case studies centering on decision making models applicable to launching and sustaining arts businesses. Each case set in the book focuses on a particular arts entrepreneur within the context of a range of creative businesses from performance to videography. To facilitate classroom adoption, the authors provide expert guidance on getting the most from case study based learning. Additional features include insights into the key decision making models in each case analysis by a leader in the arts entrepreneurship education field on the factors forcing a decision and a broad view on the arts ecologies surrounding each example. Suitable for students in arts management programs as well, this book introduces readers to case based learning via practical examples that give students insight into strategic decision making in the creative industries.

Arts and Cultural Leadership Kenneth Foster, 2022-10-17 This textbook provides an expert overview of the challenge of arts and cultural leadership in the contemporary world Grounded in theories of sustainability and with a renewed global focus for this second edition the author's insights from contemporary arts organizations facilitate meaningful student comprehension Drawing on the work of practitioners and theorists in the fields of philosophy biology and ecology as well as the arts Foster proposes a rethinking of organizational design strategy and structure that is based on ecological concepts and the creative process that is intrinsic to the arts rather than the conventional business model that currently prevails particularly in western arts and culture organizations He contests conventional thinking about arts administration and management and urges arts leaders to foreground innovation as they reimagine their organizations for a world unlike any other New sections include an enhanced theoretical discussion as well as new material on business models strategy and organizational design and practice Applicable to any arts organization the entrepreneurial focus is especially relevant in the aftermath of the global pandemic the ongoing climate crisis and the quest for democracy and social justice This updated edition will be a valuable resource both for present day arts and cultural leaders who are working to adapt to the current environment as well as students and future leaders who aspire to make change in the world through arts and cultural leadership

Narrative Matters in Medical Contexts across Disciplines Franziska Gyga, Miriam A. Locher, 2015-03-13 This collection of original chapters gives center stage to the concept of narrative in medical contexts The contributors come from the disciplines of literary and cultural studies linguistics psychology and medicine and work with texts as diverse as autobiographies graphic novels Renaissance medical treatises and reports short stories reflective writing creative writing and online narratives The interdisciplinary dialogue shows the richness and scope of the concept narrative and demonstrates how crucial it is for practices in the medical context as well as in the contributing disciplines The collection raises awareness of the great variety and multivocality of narratives on the experience of illness besides paying heed to the many different positions and angles from which these narratives can be perceived read and analyzed The wide range of approaches assembled in this collection provides a comprehensive view on illness and health and on the multiple ways in which they are represented in narrative

The Fine Arts Reduced to a Single Principle Charles Batteux, 2015 The Fine Arts Reduced to a Single Principle 1746 by Charles Batteux was arguably the most influential work on aesthetics published in the 18th century James O Young presents the first complete English translation of the work with full annotations and a comprehensive introduction which illuminate Batteux's continuing philosophical interest

The Theory of the Arts Francis Edward Sparshott, 2014-07-14 In a systematic overview of classical and modern contributions to aesthetics Professor Sparshott argues that all four lines of theory and no others are necessary to coherent thinking about art Originally published in 1982 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

The SAGE Guide to

Curriculum in Education Ming Fang He, Brian D. Schultz, William H. Schubert, 2015-06-05 The SAGE Guide to Curriculum in Education integrates, summarizes and explains in highly accessible form foundational knowledge and information about the field of curriculum with brief, simply written overviews for people outside of or new to the field of education. This Guide supports study, research and instruction with content that permits quick access to basic information accompanied by references to more in-depth presentations in other published sources. This Guide lies between the sophistication of a handbook and the brevity of an encyclopedia. It addresses the ties between and controversies over public debate, policy making, university scholarship and school practice. While tracing complex traditions, trajectories and evolutions of curriculum scholarship, the Guide illuminates how curriculum ideas, issues, perspectives and possibilities can be translated into public debate, school practice, policy making and life of the general public, focusing on the aims of education for a better human condition. 55 topical chapters are organized into four parts: Subject Matter as Curriculum, Teachers as Curriculum, Students as Curriculum and Milieu as Curriculum, based upon the conceptualization of curriculum commonplaces by Joseph J. Schwab: subject matter, teachers, learners and milieu. The Guide highlights and explicates how the four commonplaces are interdependent and interconnected in the decision-making processes that involve local and state school boards and government agencies, educational institutions and curriculum stakeholders at all levels that address the central curriculum questions: What is worthwhile? What is worth knowing? Needing, experiencing, doing, being, becoming, overcoming, sharing, contributing, wondering and imagining. The Guide benefits undergraduate and graduate students, curriculum professors, teachers, teacher educators, parents, educational leaders, policy makers, media writers, public intellectuals and other educational workers. Key Features: Each chapter inspires readers to understand why the particular topic is a cutting-edge curriculum topic; what are the pressing issues and contemporary concerns about the topic; what historical, social, political, economic, geographical, cultural, linguistic, ecological, etc. contexts surrounding the topic area; how the topic relevant practical and policy ramifications and contextual embodiment can be understood by theoretical perspectives and how forms of inquiry and modes of representation or expression in the topic area are crucial to develop understanding for and make impact on practice, policy, context and theory. Further readings and resources are provided for readers to explore topics in more details.

Columbia-VLA Journal of Law & the Arts, 1992      Arts, Portraits and Representation in the Reformation Era Patrizio Foresta, Federica Meloni, Zsombor Tóth, Christopher B. Brown, Günter Frank, Bruce Gordon, Barbara Mahlmann-Bauer, Tarald Rasmussen, Violet Soen, Günther Wassilowsky, Siegrid Westphal, 2019-07-15 The role played by artistic, literary, historical and theological representations in the establishment of the European Reformation has attracted scholarly attention over the years. While they were generally regarded as a significant means of conveying the evangelical message, particularly in a society with a low average literacy rate, this scholarly consensus was then seriously challenged by objecting that their meaning must have remained opaque to those who couldn't read and interpret their sometimes multilayered imagery and their verbal and figurative messages This volume which publishes some of the papers delivered at the Fourth Reformation Research Consortium Conference held in Bologna May 15th 17th 2014 is an attempt to examine the visual intelligibility of the European Reformation by a comparative multiconfessional and multidisciplinary analysis of examples taken from both the Catholic and the Protestant world in the Early Modern and Modern Era with particular reference to the figurative arts but also to history and theology All the case studies included here examine their peculiar subjects with regard to their religious and artistic contexts in order to understand their historical significance in a new fashion combining approaches from political history history of arts historiography anthropology philosophy and theology Thus the volume offers a very rich outline of how visual culture and representation through arts was embodied in very different cultural portraits and images      Worship Matters Jane Rogers Vann, 2011-02-01 Sunday worship is the central act of the Christian faith yet few people truly understand what is happening during the service and why and how Based on numerous visits with congregations of many denominations Jane Rogers Vann examines how we can eliminate the barrier between the preacher and the people in the pew and offers practical advice directed not just toward church leaders but to worship committees and church members all who are yearning to be fully engaged in worship Photographs of many of the churches she visited are included      The Art Museum as Educator Council on Museums and Education in the Visual Arts, Barbara Y.
