El arte transpacífico en Nueva España en el siglo XVII Sonia Irene Ocaña Ruiz, El título de este libro La domesticación de Asia El arte transpacífico en Nueva España en el siglo xvii alude a que dicho virreinato fue el primer lugar fuera de Asia donde el arte asiático llegó a ser cotidiano a escala doméstica Hacia 1600 en distintos ámbitos sociales y geográficos había objetos asiáticos de lujo pero también otros más asequibles A partir de una revisión documental se estudia el consumo virreinal de lacas biombo porcelana y marfiles japoneses chinos y filipinos A la vez se analizan biombo enconchados y loza de inspiración asiática que demuestran que el arte novohispano no solo remite a América y Europa sino a menudo también a Asia Columbus's Outpost Among the Taínos Kathleen A. Deagan,José María Cruxent,2008-10-01 In 1493 Christopher Columbus led a fleet of 17 ships and more than 1200 men to found a royal trading colony in America

Columbus had high hopes for his settlement which he named La Isabela after the queen of Spain but just five years later it was in ruins. It remains important however as the first site of European settlement in America and the first place of sustained interaction between Europeans and the indigenous Tainos. Kathleen Deagan and Jose Maria Cruxent tell the story of this historic enterprise. Drawing on their ten year archaeological investigation of the site of La Isabela along with research into Columbus era documents they contrast Spanish expectations of America with the actual events and living conditions at America's first European town. Deagan and Cruxent argue that La Isabela failed not because Columbus was a poor planner but because his vision of America was grounded in European experience and could not be sustained in the face of the realities of American life. Explaining that the original Spanish economic and social frameworks for colonization had to be altered in America in response to the American landscape and the non elite Spanish and Taino people who occupied it they shed light on larger questions of American colonialism and the development of Euro American cultural identity. Art

Organized into five sections an interdisciplinary and international team of twenty scholars scrutinize the nature and character of Mexico City through the study of its history and society religious practices institutions arts and scientific cartographic and environmental endeavors. The Companion ultimately shows how viceregal Mexico City had a deep sense of history drawing from all that the ancient Americas Europe Asia and Africa offered but where history culture and identity twisted and turned in extraordinary fashion to forge a new society. La sociedad de Panamá en el siglo XVI María del Carmen Mena García, 1984 Building Yanhuitlan Alessia Frassani, 2017-10-12 Through years of fieldwork in the state of Oaxaca Mexico art historian and archaeologist Alessia Frassani formulated a compelling question How did Mesoamerican society maintain its distinctive cultural heritage despite colonization by the Spanish In Building Yanhuitlan she focuses on an imposing structure a sixteenth century Dominican monastery complex in the village of Yanhuitlan For centuries the buildings have served a central role in the village landscape and the lives of its people Ostensibly there is nothing indigenous about the complex or the artwork inside So how does such a place fit within the Mixteca where Frassani acknowledges a continuity of indigenous culture in the towns plazas markets churches and rural surroundings To understand the monastery complex and Mesoamerican cultural heritage in the wake of conquest Frassani calls for a shifting definition of indigenous identity one that acknowledges the ways indigenous peoples actively took part in the development of post conquest Mesoamerican culture Frassani relates the history of Yanhuitlan by examining the rich store of art and architecture in the town's church and convent bolstering her account with more than 100 color and black and white illustrations She presents the first two centuries of the church complex's construction works maintenance and decorations as the product of cultural political and economic negotiation between Mixtec caciques Spanish encomenderos and Dominican friars The author then ties the village's present day religious celebrations to the colonial past and traces the cult of specific images through these celebrations history Cultural artifacts Frassani demonstrates do not need pre Hispanic origins to be considered genuinely Mesoamerican the processes attached to their appropriation are more meaningful than their having any pre Hispanic past Based on original and unpublished documents and punctuated with stunning photography Building Yanhuitlan combines archival and ethnographic work with visual analysis to make an innovative statement regarding artistic forms and to tell the story of a remarkable community
