Consuming Architecture Daniel Maudlin, Marcel Vellinga, 2014-03-05 Projecting forward in time from the processes of design and construction that are so often the focus of architectural discourse Consuming Architecture examines the variety of ways in which buildings are consumed after they have been produced focusing in particular on processes of occupation appropriation and interpretation Drawing on contributions by architects historians anthropologists literary critics artists film makers photographers and journalists it shows how the consumption of architecture is a dynamic and creative act that involves the creation and negotiation of meanings and values by different stakeholders and that can be expressed in different voices In so doing it challenges ideas of what constitutes architecture architectural discourse and architectural education how we understand and think about it and who can claim ownership of it Consuming Architecture is aimed at students in architectural education and will also be of interest to students and researchers from disciplines that deal with architecture in terms of consumption and material culture The Photographic Art Market, 2007 Building with Light Robert

Elwall, 2004 Ever since its invention photography has enjoyed a close and mutually stimulating relationship with architecture an association underlined by one description of photography as building with light So well established is this link that photography is now regarded as the easiest and most reliable means of making architecture and its ideas accessible to a wider public Our first sometimes our only impression of a building often comes from a photograph and the skilled photographer can help us to see even the most familiar structures with a fresh eye This book offers a lively exploration of the development of architectural photography and some of its key themes From the earliest examples of the genre in the nineteenth century to today's digital revolution Robert Elwall skilfully focuses on the changing aesthetic of the medium worldwide Included are such topics as the early influence of architectural drawing the growth of specialist photographic firms documenting the nineteenth century building boom the influence of photography on both architectural practice and history the invention of half tone reproduction the role of photography in the spread of Modernism the impact of colour photography during the 1970s and 1980s and the increasing use of computers to shape a new direction Authoritatively written by a world renowned expert and illustrated with arresting images from collections throughout the world this study is essential reading for anyone interested in architecture photography and the history of their special relationship Book jacket

International Chemical Engineering, 1990 History of Photography Laurent Roosens, Luc Salu, 1989-01-01 The fourth volume in a history of photography this is a bibliography of books on the subject Lina Wertmüller Josette Déléas, Josette Dlas, 2009-07-30 Anecdotes savoureuses témoignages passionnés révélations intimes la vie de Lina dramaturge cinéaste se dessine et son œuvre vertigineux tourbillon de paradoxes confond les critiques Attention ses propos sont crus son humour irresistible The Rise of the Therapeutic Museum Janet Kraynak, 2025-09-30 This book considers how and why respite rooms emotional support brochures well being guides psychological consultants and care days are becoming common features in the museum of art Kraynak poses and answers this question arguing that under its rightful ambition to decolonize i.e. to rectify past and present inequalities the museum of the Global North is gradually replacing a commitment to knowledge teaching and learning with a focus upon care healing and well being the therapeutic While this transformation might appear on the surface benign culturally familiar and politically desirable the author counters these presumptions probing the history and implications of the therapeutic museum Here curatorial attention shifts away from the art on view and onto the spectator whom the museum imagines as a precarious psychological subject and primary source of meaning External forces new forms of knowledge encounters with difficulty even an engagement with art are treated as a potential threat As a result the therapeutic museum not only encourages the beholder to turn inward but in so doing deflects attention from or scrutiny of its own practices and systems that perpetuate inequality Among these are the ongoing legacies colonialism's epistemic violence which elevated the knowledge and aesthetic traditions of the Global North while suppressing those of the Global South In contrast the book proposes a pluriversal versus universal museum that maintains the political necessity of knowledge and views pedagogy as a path to emancipation Emphasizing epistemic justice and the moral right to learn during a time when such freedoms are increasingly under attack the book makes a powerful case for questioning rather than romanticizing the therapeutic museum which it ultimately reveals to reinforce rather than challenge dominant power This is an important intervention that is essential reading for researchers and scholars in Art History Visual Studies Museum Studies and Cultural Studies

New Europe Donald McNeill, 2014-05-12 New Europe Imagined Spaces traces the radical transformation of European places and spaces over the last two decades Instead of the familiar schoolbook map of a Europe of nation states the book unpacks the differing imaginations of European identity in recent years Taking as its central problem the fluid nature of cultural and political identity it moves firmly away from and calls into question the perspective of the nation state as the primary source of imagined identity for Europeans The book contributes to key debates such as the emerging Europe of the Regions and the return of the city state examines the rebranding of the nation state and explores the impact of Europeanisation on existing place identity Emphasising mobility and movement the chapters explore borderlands and travel and also include a detailed discussion of the everyday life of Europeans Throughout iconic images of contemporary Europe are invoked Eurodisney the Reichstag Barcelona's Ramblas and the Bilbao Guggenheim and the way in which mundane artefacts and practices such as football walking cars food passports and the Euro help construct identity is considered New Europe Imagined Spaces adopts a multidisciplinary approach to studying Europe providing students with an exploration of contemporary European space and place identity
