Damien Broderick, 2018-11-30 Science fiction explores the wonderful baffling and wildly entertaining aspects of a universe unimaginably old and vast and with a future even more immense It reaches into that endless cosmos with the tools of rational investigation and storytelling At the core of both science and science fiction is the engaged human mind a consciousness that sees and feels and thinks and loves But what is this mind this aware and self aware consciousness that seems unlike anything else we experience What makes consciousness the Hard Problem of philosophy still unsolved after millennia of probing This book looks into the heart of this mystery at the science and philosophy of consciousness and at many inspiring fictional examples and finds strange challenging answers The book's content and entertaining style will appeal equally to science fiction enthusiasts and scholars including cognitive and neuroscientists as well as philosophers of mind It is a refreshing romp through the science and science fiction of consciousness Small Towns in Recent American Crime Fiction David Geherin, 2014-11-19 Small towns have long been a commonplace setting in cozy mysteries but in recent years writers of realistic crime fiction have discovered fresh possibilities in small town settings There they can take advantage of distinct facets of small town life a sense of community slower pace of life proximity to nature and yet deal with social economic and environmental issues Because crimes in small communities hit closer to home the human element can better be emphasized This book focuses on the work of ten contemporary authors who have placed small towns like Rocksborg Pennsylvania K C Constantine West Table Missouri Daniel Woodrell Niniltna Alaska Dana Stabenow Aurora Minnesota William Kent Krueger Paradise Michigan Steve Hamilton Millersburg Ohio P L Gaus Heartsdale Georgia Karin Slaughter Millers Kill New York Julia Spencer Fleming Durant Wyoming Craig Johnson and a number of national parks Nevada Barr on the map of American crime fiction A Faint Cold Fear Karin Slaughter, 2011 A suicide on a college campus A tragic case with a simple resolution But for medical examiner Sara Linton it just doesn't add up When two more suspicious deaths follow and a young woman is brutally attacked it becomes clear that she's looking for a murderer The college authorities are reluctant to cooperate and Sara isn't any closer to finding the answers she needs With the violence triggering memories of a past she'd rather forget and the clues pointing ever closer to home can she uncover the truth in time to save the next victim Crime and thriller masters know there's nothing better than a little Slaughter I'd follow her anywhere GILLIAN FLYNN One of the boldest thriller writers working today TESS GERRITSEN Her characters plot and pacing are unrivalled MICHAEL CONNELLY Passion intensity and humanity LEE CHILD A writer of extraordinary talents KATHY REICHS Fiction doesn't get any better than this JEFFERY DEEVER A great writer at the peak of her powers PETER JAMES Raw powerful and utterly gripping KATHRYN STOCKETT With heart and skill Karin Slaughter keeps you hooked from the first page until the last CAMILLA LACKBERG Amongst the world's greatest and finest crime writers YRSA SIGURDARDOTTIR The Triumph of the Thriller Patrick Anderson, 2007-02-06 There's been a revolution in American popular fiction The writers who dominated the bestseller lists a generation ago with blockbuster novels about movie stars and exotic foreign lands have been replaced by a new generation writing a new kind of bestseller one that hooks readers with crime suspense and ever increasing violence Patrick Anderson The Washington Post's man on the thriller beat calls this revolution the triumph of the thriller and lists among its stars Thomas Harris Michael Connelly George Pelecanos Dennis Lehane Sue Grafton and Elmore Leonard In his provocative caustic and often hilarious survey of today's popular fiction Anderson shows us who the best thriller writers are and the worst He shows how Michael Connelly was inspired by Raymond Chandler how George Pelecanos toiled in obscurity while he mastered his craft how Sue Grafton created the first great woman private eye and how Thomas Harris transformed an insane cannibal into the charming man of the world who made FBI agent Clarice Starling his lover Anderson shows Scott Turow inventing the modern legal thriller and John Grisham translating it into a stunning series of bestsellers He casts a cold eye on Tom Clancy's militaristic techno thrillers and praises Alan Furst and Robert Littell as world class spy novelists He examines the pioneering role of Lawrence Sanders the offbeat appeal of Dean Koontz the unprecedented success of The Da Vinci Code and the emergence of the literary thriller Most of all Anderson demands that the best of these novelists be given their due not as genre writers but as some of the most talented men and women at work in American fiction Don't trust the literary elites to tell you what to read he warns make up your own minds The Triumph of the Thriller will convince many readers that we've entered an important new era in popular fiction This book can be your guide to it Kisscut Karin Slaughter, 2011 Saturday night dates at the skating rink have been a tradition in the small southern town of Heartsdale for as long as anyone can remember But when a teenage quarrel explodes into a deadly shoot out Sara Linton the town's paediatrician and medical examiner finds herself entangled in a horrific tragedy What seemed at first to be a terrible but individual catastrophe proves to have wider implications The autopsy reveals evidence of long term abuse of ritualistic self mutilation but when Sara and police chief Jeffrey Tolliver start to investigate they are frustrated at every turn The children surrounding the victim close ranks The families turn their backs But when a young girl is abducted it becomes clear that the first death is linked to an even more brutal crime one far more shocking than anyone could have imagined And unless Sara and Jeffrey can uncover the deadly secrets the children hide it's going to happen again

Advances in neuroscience are revolutionizing our society today This book provides the basics to take advantage of the exciting developments at the frontiers of the field while at the same time supplying insight into the wonders of everyday sensory experience Topics discussed here include the senses traumatic brain injuries and diseases like Alzheimer s The book also explores neuroscience from the scale of components of individual cells to the majestic and mysterious organ now contemplating itself Mind in Everyday Life and Cognitive Science Sunny Y. Auyang,2001-03-15 Sunny Auyang tackles what she calls the large pictures of the human mind exploring the relevance of cognitive science findings to everyday mental life Auyang proposes a model of an open mind emerging from the self organization of infrastructures which she opposes to prevalent models that treat mind as a disembodied brain or computer subject to the control of external agents such as neuroscientists and programmers Although cognitive science has obtained abundant data on neural and computational processes it barely explains such ordinary experiences as recognizing faces feeling pain or remembering the past In this book Sunny Auyang tackles what she calls the large pictures of the human mind exploring the relevance of cognitive science findings to everyday mental life Auyang proposes a model of an open mind emerging from the self organization of infrastructures which she opposes to prevalent models that treat mind as a disembodied brain or computer subject to the control of external agents such as neuroscientists and programmers Her model consists of three parts 1 the open mind of our conscious life 2 mind s infrastructure the unconscious processes studied by cognitive science and 3 emergence the relation between the open mind and its infrastructure At the heart of Auyang s model is the mind that opens to the world and makes it intelligible A person with an open mind feels thinks recognizes believes doubts anticipates fears speaks and listens and is aware of I together with it and thou Cognitive scientists refer to the binding problem the question of how myriad unconscious processes combine into the unity of consciousness Auyang approaches the problem from the other end by starting with everyday experience rather than with the mental infrastructure In so doing she shows both how analyses of experiences can help to advance cognitive science and how cognitive science can help us to understand ourselves as autonomous subjects

20/20 Blindsight Busser Howell,2013-02-04 At the age of fifteen Busser Howell lost 98 percent of his vision At the age of forty he lost the remaining 2 percent Were the story to end there you would likely not be entirely shocked as this type of circumstance is not that uncommon But this is not the whole story not by a long shot You see Howell is an artist a painter to be exact And prior to being a professional working artist in New York City he was a partner and worked twenty four years in an interior design and restoration business Possibly even more amazing than his breaking of our stereotypes of the blind is the fact that he is not alone Interviewing other blind artists to discover each person s particular point of view and what kind of descriptions work for them author and blind artist Busser Howell s debut is an extraordinary look into a world never before seen or understood from the point of view of the visually challenged Beginning by examining the concepts of creativity perception touch and accessibility Howell engages the vibrant boundless minds of fifteen visually impaired artists to mine their thoughts feelings and understanding to piece together a common thread of experience It is the artists telling their story their preferences and dislikes and their ability despite their blindness to tap into sight s brain based function to see and comprehend our world and its contents An enlightening and fascinating journey into the artistic process as seen by those whose vision is either severely impaired or altogether absent Howell s impressive collection of writings and interviews is a probing examination of the artistic process and the nature of art itself Evocative and inspiring Blindsight is a deeply moving passage that documents the journey of visual artists as they transition from the visual input of the outside world to the output of their inner vision transcending blindness into the light of creativity A Grant County Collection Karin
