Big Fiction

Dan Sinykin, 2023-10-24 Shortlisted 2024 SHARP Book History Book Prize Society for the History of Authorship Reading and Publishing In the late 1950s Random House editor Jason Epstein would talk jazz with Ralph Ellison or chat with Andy Warhol while pouring drinks in his office By the 1970s editors were poring over profit and loss statements The electronics company

RCA bought Random House in 1965 and then other large corporations purchased other formerly independent publishers. As multinational conglomerates consolidated the industry, the business of literature and literature itself transformed. Dan Sinykin explores how changes in the publishing industry have affected fiction, literary form, and what it means to be an author. Giving an inside look at the industry's daily routines, personal dramas, and institutional crises, he reveals how conglomeration has shaped what kinds of books and writers are published. Sinykin examines four different sectors of the publishing industry: mass market books by brand name authors like Danielle Steel; trade publishers that encouraged genre elements in literary fiction; nonprofits such as Graywolf that aspired to protect literature from market pressures; and the distinctive niche of employee-owned W.W. Norton. He emphasizes how women and people of color navigated shifts in publishing, arguing that writers such as Toni Morrison allegorized their experiences in their fiction. Big Fiction features dazzling readings of a vast range of novelists including E.L. Doctorow, Judith Krantz, Renata Adler, Stephen King, Joan Didion, Cormac McCarthy, Chuck Palahniuk, Patrick O'Brian, and Walter Mosley, as well as vivid portraits of industry figures. Written in gripping and lively prose, this deeply original book recasts the past six decades of American fiction. Breaking the Pendulum Philip Russell Goodman, Joshua Page, Michelle Phelps, 2017. In Breaking the Pendulum, Philip Goodman, Joshua Page, and Michelle Phelps debunk the pendulum model of American criminal justice, arguing that it distorts how and why punishment changes. From the birth of the penitentiary through recent reforms, the authors show how the struggle of players in the penal field shapes punishment. The Blockbuster Entertainment Guide to Movies and Videos, 1998. From Blockbuster Video, America's number one video source, comes the ultimate film guide. Each entry provides a clear, unbiased plot summary, MPAA ratings, extensive indices, and quality ratings on a one to five star system. This one-stop reference is the handiest and most complete video authority on new releases, classics made for TV, children's, and foreign films. Blockbuster Video Guide to Movies and Videos 1995. Blockbuster Entertainment, 1994-09. The respected expert in video sales and rentals offers an extensive reference guide of every film available on video, from new releases, classics, and golden oldies to made-for-TV and foreign films. More than 20,000 entries, cross-indexed by title, director, celebrity, category, and more. The Cinematic Mode of Production Jonathan Beller, 2006. Through an examination of cinema over the course of the twentieth century, the author establishes the process of the emergent capitalization of perception. By exploring a set of films made since the late 1920s, he argues that, through cinema, capital first posits and then presupposes looking as a value-productive activity. Cinema brings the industrial revolution to the eye, writes Jonathan Beller, and engages spectators in increasingly dematerialized processes of social production. In his ground-breaking critical study, cinema is the paradigmatic example of how the act of looking has been construed by capital as productive labor. Through an examination of cinema over the course of the twentieth century, Beller establishes, on both theoretical and historical grounds, the process of the emergent capitalization of perception. This process, he says, underpins the current global economy. By exploring a set of films made since the late 1920s, Beller argues that through cinema capital first posits and then presupposes looking as a value productive activity He argues that cinema as the first crystallization of a new order of media is itself an abstraction of assembly line processes and that the contemporary image is a politico economic interface between the body and capitalized social machinery Billboard ,1995-05-06 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world s premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music video gaming media digital and mobile entertainment issues and trends Radar Riders Christine Lawrie,2003 Property developers who want to build houses on our local hill Westridge have said we can still race there but we ve got to make a new course So we make a really tough one Suggested level primary Gone Green Christine Lawrie,2004 The Chain Gang is a series of books that introduces a group of mountain bikers to younger readers Each book follows the adventures of the central character Slam Duncan and his daredevil companions Aline MacMahon John Stangeland,2022-11-08 American actress Aline MacMahon s youth was spent honing her talents while performing at local events in New York City After popular stage success on Broadway she headlined a touring company in Los Angeles where she was discovered by legendary Hollywood director Mervyn LeRoy and put under contract to Warner Brothers During the 1930s and 1940s MacMahon starred in countless films and was among the most influential actors of the era her talent revered as highly as peers Katherine Hepburn Paul Muni and Bette Davis Her pioneering use of a new acting style brought to America from Russia by Konstantin Stanislavsky now widely known as the Method began a revolution on the screen and made her an industry darling Although popular with audiences and widely lauded for her versatile naturalistic style MacMahon s despair at the lack of challenging roles and fallout from her political activism would soon dim her star in the most tragic of ways Blacklisted during the Communist Red Scare of the 1950 s she became the subject of covert FBI surveillance and was denied work for many years John Stangeland s biography of this unique actress Aline MacMahon offers an insightful look into the life and oeuvre of this largely overlooked talent and how the atmosphere of Hollywood s golden age created an inescapable blueprint for a career nearly destroyed by politics and fear
