Mixed Legal Systems, East and West Vernon Valentine Palmer, Mohamed Y. Mattar, 2016-07-22 Advancing legal scholarship in the area of mixed legal systems as well as comparative law more generally this book expands the comparative study of the world's legal families to those of jurisdictions containing not only mixtures of common and civil law but also to those mixing Islamic and/or traditional legal systems with those derived from common and/or civil law traditions. With contributions from leading experts in their fields the book takes us far beyond the usual focus of comparative law with analysis of a broad range of countries including relatively neglected and under researched areas. The discussion is situated within the broader context of the ongoing development and evolution of mixed legal systems against the continuing tides of globalization on the one hand and on the other hand the emergence of Islamic governments in some parts of the Middle East, the calls for a legal status for Islamic law in some European countries and the increasing focus on traditional and customary norms of governance in post colonial contexts. This book will be an invaluable source for students and researchers working in the areas of comparative law, legal pluralism, the evolution of mixed legal systems and the impact of colonialism on contemporary legal systems. It will also be an important resource for policy makers and analysts.

Writing London and the Thames Estuary Len Platt, 2017-07-20 Writing London and the Thames Estuary is an ambitious study of place and identity which resonates deeply against the troubled politics of contemporaneity. Drawing on a broad range of cultural materials including novels, film, theatre, tourist literature, topography, chorology and sociological writing, Len Platt traces the making of the estuary as margin by a metropolis that has been dependent on this region, sometimes for its very survival. Drawing on writers and artists ranging from Middleton Defoe, Pepys, Dickens, Conrad and T. S. Eliot through to such contemporary figures as Iain Sinclair, Nicola Barker, Tracy Emin and Billy Childish, Platt offers a fascinating insight into the formation of estuary grotesque, the social dismissal out of which post-Brexit politics have emerged to such controversy.

Bloodland Alan Glynn, 2011-09-01 A private security contractor loses it in the Congo with deadly consequences while in Ireland the ex-prime minister struggles to write his memoir. A tabloid star is killed in a helicopter crash and three years later a young journalist is warned off the story. As a news story breaks in Paris a US senator prepares his campaign to run for office. What links these things and who controls what we know? With echoes of John Le Carr, 24 and James Ellroy, Alan Glynn has written another crime novel of and for our times, a ferocious thriller that moves from Dublin to New York via West Africa and thrillingly explores the legacy of corruption in big business, the West's fear of China, the fate of ex-military, the role of back room political players and the quick fix of online news.
