Badiou, Poem and Subject Tom Betteridge, Thomas Betteridge, 2020-01-23 Reinterpreting Badiou's philosophy in light of both his persistent reverent invocations of the German Jewish poet Paul Celan and his long term engagement with Samuel Beckett Badiou Poem and Subject fundamentally reassesses Badiou's radical departure from the legacy of Martin Heidegger and his wholesale rejection of philosophies that would in the wake of twentieth century violence and beyond proclaim their own end or completion For Badiou both writers from the terminus of Literary Modernism affirm novel conceptions of subjectivity capable of transcending the historical conditions of their presentation Celan's collective and ephemeral subject of anabasis and Beckett's disjunctive Two of love Blending close textual analyses with critical reflections on Heidegger Lacoue Labarthe and Adorno among others Tom Betteridge argues that Badiou's innovative readings of both Celan's poetry and the latent poem in Beckett's late prose are crucial to understanding his significance in the history of twentieth century French philosophy and its German heritage offering a significant contribution to a growing field of interest in Badiou's philosophical encounter with poetry and its political ramifications
