A Complete Identity Rachel E. Johnson, 2014-05-28 This book offers an examination of the hero figure in the work of G A Henty 1832 1902 and George MacDonald 1824 1905 and a reassessment of oppositional critiques of their writing It demonstrates the complementary characteristics of the hero figure which construct a complete identity commensurate with the Victorian ideal hero The relationship between the expansion of the British Empire and youthful heroism is established through investigation of the Victorian political social and religious milieu the construct of the child and the construct of the hero A connection between the exotic geographical space of empire and the unknown psychological space is drawn through examination of representation of the other in the work of Henty and MacDonald This book demonstrates that Henty's work is more complex than the stereotypically linear masculine imperialistic critique of his stories as historical realism allows and that MacDonald's work displays more evidence of historical embedding and ideological interpellation than the critical focus on his work as fantasy and fairy tale considers Greater understanding of the effect of this heroic ideal on nineteenth century society leads to a greater understanding of the implications for subsequent children's literature and Western cultures including that of the twenty first century
