A Chinese Biogas Manual Popularizing Technology In The Countryside:

Biogas ,2006 A CHINESE BIOGAS MANUAL : POPULARISING TECHNOLOGY IN THE COUNTRYSIDE.
EDITED BY ARIANE VAN BUREN FROM THE ORIGINAL BY THE OFFICE OF THE LEADING GROUP FOR THE PROPAGATION OF MARSHGAS, SICHUAN (SZECHUAN) PROVINCE, PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA ; TECHNICAL EDITOR LEO PYLE ; TRANSLATOR FROM THE CHINESE MICHAEL CROOK. ,1979 A Chinese
Biogas Manual Ariane Van Buren,1979 The production of biogas which is regarded in many countries as a by product of an efficient system of energy production has become in China a comprehensive controlled method of waste disposal recycling resources supplying energy and fertilizer and improving rural health as the digesting of wastes in a closed container kills many of the pathogens responsible for common human diseases There are already approximately seven million biogas pits in operation with Sichuan Szechuan province leading the country in a movement to extend the practice throughout the countryside This manual describes in detail how to build the pit and covers a full range of designs to suit various soils from sandstone to sheer rock It also includes a description of how the original manual was used Rural Energy Development in China Robert P. Taylor,2016-03-17 In this title originally published in 1981 author Robert P Taylor calls for a greater understanding of rural energy supply and consumption patterns in the developing countries Here Taylor specifically examines the rural energy development in China as it is the world s largest developing country in terms of population and it has encountered many of the rural energy problems common in other developing countries This study provides an analysis of China s rural energy economy from before 1949 to a general discussion of achievements in rural energy development and the rural energy economy in 1981 This is an ideal title for students interested in environmental studies and development studies

Biogas Technology, Transfer and Diffusion Mahmoud M. El-Halwagi,2012-12-06 The International Conference on the State of the Art on Biogas Technology Transfer and Diffusion was held in Cairo Egypt from 17 to 24 November 1984 The Conference was organized by the Egyptian Academy of Scientific Research and Technology ASR T the Egyptian National Research Centre NRC the Bioenergy Systems and Technology project BST of the US Agency for International Development US AID Office of Energy and the National Academy of Sciences NAS A number of international organizations and agencies co sponsored the Conference More than 100 participants from 40 countries attended The purpose of the Conference was to assess the viability of biogas technology BGT and propose future courses of action for exploiting BGT prospects to the fullest extent The Conference emphasized a balanced coverage of technical environmental social economic and organizational aspects relevant to biogas systems design operation and diffusion It was organized to incorporate experiences that are pertinent for the most part to developing countries In addition to the wide spectrum of presentations and country programs structured and non structured discussions among the participants were strongly encouraged in thematic sessions at round table discussions and through personal contacts during poster sessions and field trips It was clear from the enthusiastic response of most participants that the Conference in large measure succeeded in fulfilling its mission Although draft papers were distributed to all participants it was felt that the results obtained were worthy of organized and refined documentation And this is precisely what this book intends to do Routledge Library Editions: Development Mini-Set E: Development and the Environment Various,2022-07-30 Routledge Library Editions Development will re issue works which address economic political and social aspects of development Published over more than four decades these books trace the emergence of development as one of the most important contemporary issues and one of the key areas of study for modern social science The books cover the most important themes within development and include studies of Latin America Africa and Asia Authors include Sir Alexander Cairncross W Arthur Lewis Lord Peter Bauer and Cristobal Kay An extensive collection of previously hard to access or out of print books this set presents an unrivalled opportunity to build up a wealth of material in the field of development studies with a particular focus upon economic and political concerns The volumes in the collection offer both a global overview of the history of development in the twentieth century and a huge variety of case studies on the development of individual nations Rockets Deborah A. Shearer,1999 Learning From China? Bernhard Glaeser,2013-09-05 First published in 1987 this volume was written to shed some light upon the nature and environmental consequences and wider relevance of development strategies in the Peoples Republic of China It covers industrialisation food production energy use and landscape and settlement planning The Chinese autocentred strategy is assessed from both the developmental and the environmental viewpoints Decision making processes and the opportunities to implement environmental policy in other parts of the developing world are analysed and the volume concludes with the view that benefits to other countries are likely to arise out of increased co operation and exchange with China although the Chinese model is by no means a panacea All students and researchers interested in either environmental or developmental issues will find this book to be a substantial and enlightening contribution to literature Alternative energy sources to combat climate change: Biogas production using cost effective material Bezabih Yimer,2014-02-01 The shortage of energy in rural areas and the pollution of the environment from animal wastes due to lack of appropriate technology in Africa motivated the author to conduct research and write this book In this research book an economically feasible technically acceptable and environmentally friendly biogas plant is designed by using low cost plastic materials This book is an essential reference for chemical engineering environmental engineering and agricultural students The concept solves global environmental pollution and the problem of lack of energy and organic fertilizer in rural communities at once Moreover this book plays an important role for agricultural researchers working in rural energy and environmental protection World Bank Staff Working Papers ,1982 World Bank Staff Working Paper ,1982 Decentralized Renewable Energy Development in China Robert Prescott Taylor,1982 Green Energy Dustin Mulvaney,2011-06-28 Colorful bracelets funky brooches and beautiful handmade beads young crafters learn to make all these and much more with this fantastic step by step guide In 12 exciting

Emerging Energy Alternatives for Sustainable Environment D. P. Singh, Richa Kothari, V. V. Tyagi, 2019-02-14 Sustainability of environment is an emerging global issue at present Unsustainable or deteriorating environment is a matter of concern as it has threatened the survival of living creatures Recently climate change has been a matter of great concern at a global platform owing to imbalances in natural environment Increasing population has increased the demand for energy which has ultimately put pressure on natural resources and caused a paradigm shift from resource generation to exploitation Emerging Energy Alternatives for Sustainable Environment aims to address the role of sustainable technologies in energy generation options for clean environment It covers a wide spectrum of energy generation approaches with an emphasis on five key topics i renewable energy sources and recent advances ii emerging green technologies for sustainable development iii assessment of biomass for sustainable bioenergy production iv solid waste management and its potential for energy generation and v solar energy applications storage system and heat transfer This book provides essential and comprehensive knowledge of green energy technologies with different aspects for engineers technocrats and researchers working in the industry universities and research institutions The book is also very useful for undergraduate and graduate students of science and engineering who are keen to know about the development of renewable energy products and their corresponding processes Please note This volume is Co published with The Energy and Resources Institute Press New Delhi Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka

Chinese Biogas Digester Charles H. Nakagawa, 1981 The Global Framework Brian Nolan, 1982 Intl Biosystems Donald L. Wise, 1989 Animal Manure Shubhangi Mahajan, Ajit Varma, 2022-05-17 This book covers the basics of animal manure or animal dung and highlights its applications in agriculture and biotechnology The reader is given a comprehensive overview of the different types of animal manure Although animal manure can cause environmental problems e g when slurry pollutes rivers or burnt dung pollutes air the book emphasizes the fact that animal dung is by no means a waste product Animal manure is a valuable organic fertilizer that has a positive impact on soil conditions and helps save on chemical fertilizers It is also a source of energy and can be either be used as fuel or converted into biogas through methanization Old age practices such as the use of dried dung as insulating material or burnt dung as mosquito repellent are also taken up With the increasing focus on the UN Sustainable Development Goals SDGs this book offers ideas and solutions related to SDG 2 Zero Hunger and SDG 15 Life on Land The book will not only be an interesting read for students and researchers in the field of agriculture but will also appeal to scientists working on waste management organic manure production or in the paper industry

Socioeconomic Aspects of Renewable Energy Technologies Ramesh Bhatia, Armand Pereira, Madhura Swaminathan, 1988-03-08 Major changes have occurred in both the composition of energy supply and the choice of technology especially in activities in which energy intensity has a significant bearing on the costs and competitiveness of goods and services Presented here in the context of these changes are case studies on the macroeconomic evaluation of ethylalcohol programs and the microeconomic evaluation of technologies for irrigation pumping Environment and Resource Conservation During the last decade a large volume of literature has addressed the two major policy issues concerning energy programs in developing countries overall energy conservation and provision of energy for rural development needs Yet many of these works have been supply sided without adequate analysis of users needs and the different option to meet them Ex post evaluations of existing field experiences with renewable technologies are still scarce and many of those which have appeared provide limited insights for planning and implementation in different countries Socioeconomic Aspects of Renewable Energy Technologies addresses these oversights A selected number of technologies and topics concerning renewable energy sources for developing countries are discussed including ethanol and the macro economic evaluation of ethanol programs various renewable energy technologies for end use such was water pumping for irrigation and the micro economic evaluation of these additional technologies
