and artists who use maps as the basis for their art or who incorporate place and space in their expressions. The outcome of bringing together these like minds culminated in a wonderful event spanning three evenings and two days in the Austrian capital. Papers, exhibitions and installations provided a forum for appreciating the endeavors of artists and cartographers and their representations of geography. As well as indulging in an expansive and expressive occasion, attendees were able to reflect on their own work and discuss similar elements in each other's work. It also allowed cartographers and artists to discuss the potential for collaboration in future research and development. To recognise the significance of this event, paper authors were invited to further develop their work and contribute chapters to this book. We believe that this book marks both a significant occasion in Vienna and a starting point for future collaborative efforts between artists and cartographers. The editors would like to acknowledge the work of Manuela Schmidt and Felix Ortig who undertook the task of the design and layout of the chapters.

The Marvel of Maps Francesca Fiorani, 2005. Among the most beautiful and compelling works of Renaissance art, painted maps adorned the halls and galleries of princely palaces. This book is the first to discuss in detail the three-dimensional display of these painted map cycles and their full meaning in Renaissance culture. Art historian Francesca Fiorani focuses on two of the most significant and marvelous surviving Italian map murals: the Guardaroba Nuova of the Palazzo Vecchio, Florence, commissioned by Duke Cosimo de' Medici, and the Gallery of Maps in the Vatican, commissioned by Pope Gregory XIII. Both cycles were not only pioneering cartographic enterprises but also powerful political and religious images. Presenting an original interpretation of the interaction between art, science, politics and religion in Renaissance culture, the book also offers fresh insights into the Medici and papal courts. Publisher's description.

The Routledge Handbook of Cartographic Humanities Tania Rossetto, Laura Lo Presti, 2024-06-03. The Routledge Handbook of Cartographic Humanities offers a vibrant exploration of the intersection and convergence between map studies and the humanities through the multifaceted traditions and inclinations from different disciplinary, geographical and cultural contexts. With 42 chapters from leading scholars, this book provides an intellectual infrastructure to navigate core theories, critical concepts, phenomenologies and ecologies of mapping, while also providing insights into exciting new directions for future scholarship. It is organised into seven parts. Part 1 moves from the depths of the human's map relation to the posthuman dimension, from antiquity to the future of humanity, presenting a multidisciplinary perspective that bridges chronological distances, introspective instances and social engagements. Part 2 draws on ancient archaeological, historical and literary sources to consider the materialities and textures embedded in such texts. Fictional and non-fictional cartographies are explored, including layers of time, mobile historical phenomena, unmappable terrain features and even animal perspectives. Part 3 examines maps and mappings from a medial perspective, offering theoretical insight into cartographic mediality as well as studies of its intermedial relations with other media. Part 4 explores how a cultural cartographic perspective can be productive in researching the digital as a human experience, considering the development of a cultural attentiveness to a wide range of map related phenomena that interweave human subjectivities and nonhuman entities in a digital ecology Part 5 addresses a range of issues and urgencies that have been and still are at the centre of critical cartographic thinking from politics inequalities and discrimination Part 6 considers the growing amount of literature and creative experimentation that involve mapping in practices of eliciting individual life histories collective identities and self accounts Part 7 examines the variety of ways in which we can think of maps in the public realm This innovative and expansive Handbook will appeal to those in the fields of geography art philosophy media and visual studies anthropology history digital humanities and cultural studies as well as industry professionals

The Art of Cartographics Jasmine Desclaux-Salachas,2017 A celebration of the modern map in all imaginable forms in a beautifully packaged volume Fundamentals of Cartography (Second Revised and Enlarged Edition) R.P.

Misra,2014-01-01 The first edition of Fundamentals of Cartography was published in 1969 by Prasara University of Mysore It was reprinted by the Concept Publishing Company New Delhi in While the book remained in currency the cartographic processes changed drastically when information technology brought a sea of change in the sources of information drafting of maps and printing processes Drawing maps by hand became obsolete surveying whether ground or aerial was no longer the only major source of information In view of these changes it became necessary to bring out a new edition Realising that unless one knows directions scales projections coordinates ground and air surveys one would fail to understand the proper use of modern information technology in the drawing the maps Thus the contents of 1969 edition are retained and new chapters have been added to update the book In Part II of the book a chapter on Remote Sensing and Satellite Imagery has been added and Part V contains chapters on Computer Aided Cartography Geographic Information System GIS Land Information System LIS and Global Positioning System GPS Maps Herbert George Fordham,2014-07-24 First published in 1927 this book provides an overview of the history and techniques of map production The text is illustrated with examples of several different types of maps and discusses cartographical points such as panoramas the way in which surfaces are expressed graphically and the incorporation of art into older maps Cartographic Perspectives ,2011

Mapping Beyond Measure Simon Ferdinand,2019-12-01 Over the last century a growing number of visual artists have been captivated by the entwined beauty and power truth and artifice and the fantasy and functionality they perceive in geographical mapmaking This field of map art has moved into increasing prominence in recent years yet critical writing on the topic has been largely confined to general overviews of the field In Mapping Beyond Measure Simon Ferdinand analyzes diverse map based works of painting collage film walking performance and digital drawing made in Britain Japan the Netherlands Ukraine the United States and the former Soviet Union arguing that together they challenge the dominant modern view of the world as a measurable and malleable geometrical space This challenge has strong political ramifications for it is on the basis of modernity s geometrical worldview that states have legislated over social space that capital has coordinated global markets and exploited distant environments and that powerful cartographic institutions have claimed exclusive authority in mapmaking Mapping Beyond Measure breaks fresh ground in undertaking a series of close readings of significant map artworks in sustained dialogue with spatial theorists including Peter Sloterdijk Zygmunt Bauman and Michel de Certeau In so doing Ferdinand reveals how map art calls into question some of the central myths and narratives of rupture through which modern space has traditionally been imagined and establishes map art s distinct value amid broader contemporary shifts toward digital mapping
