The Wonder of Their Voices Alan Rosen, 2010-10-18 Over the last several decades video testimony with aging Holocaust survivors has brought these witnesses into the limelight Yet the success of these projects has made it seem that little survivor testimony took place in earlier years In truth thousands of survivors began to recount their experience at the earliest opportunity This book provides the first full length case study of early postwar Holocaust testimony focusing on David Boder's 1946 displaced persons interview project In July 1946 Boder a psychologist traveled to Europe to interview victims of the Holocaust who were in the Displaced Persons DP camps and what he called shelter houses During his nine weeks in Europe Boder carried out approximately 130 interviews in nine languages and recorded them on a wire recorder Likely the earliest audio recorded testimony of Holocaust survivors the interviews are valuable today for the spoken word that of the DP narrators and of Boder himself and also for the song sessions and religious services that Boder recorded Eighty sessions were eventually transcribed into English most of which were included in a self published manuscript Alan Rosen sets Boder's project in the context of the postwar response to displaced persons sketches the dramatic background of his previous life and work chronicles in detail the evolving process of interviewing both Jewish and non Jewish DPs and examines from several angles the implications for the history of Holocaust testimony Such early postwar testimony Rosen avers deserves to be taken on its own terms rather than to be enfolded into earlier or later schemas of testimony Moreover Boder's efforts and the support he was given for them demonstrate that American postwar response to the Holocaust was not universally indifferent but rather often engaged concerned and resourceful

Wonder in Contemporary Artistic Practice Christian Mieves, Irene Brown, 2017-01-12 Wonder has an established link to the history and philosophy of science However there is little acknowledgement of the relationship between the visual arts and wonder This book presents a new perspective on this overlooked connection allowing a unique insight into the role of wonder in contemporary visual practice Artists curators and art theorists give accounts of their approach to wonder through the use of materials objects and ways of exhibiting These accounts not only raise issues of a particular relevance to the way in which we encounter our reality today but ask to what extent artists utilize the function of wonder purposely in their work

Devices of Wonder Barbara Maria Stafford, Frances Terpak, J. Paul Getty Museum, 2001 Exhibition held at the J Paul Getty Museum Los Angeles 13 November 2001 to 3 February 2002

Mark Dion Ruth Erickson, 2017-01-01 A comprehensive survey of American artist Mark Dion examining three decades of his critically engaged practice interrogating our relationship with nature The first book in two decades to consider the entire oeuvre of Mark Dion b 1961 this volume examines thirty years of the American artist's pioneering inquiries into how we collect, interpret and display nature. Part of a generation of artists expanding institutional critique in the 1990s, Dion adopted the methods of the archaeologist or the natural history museum, juxtaposing natural objects, taxidermy books and more to reorganize the natural and the manmade in poetic, witty ways. These sculptures, installations and interventions offer novel approaches to questioning institutional power, which he sees as connected to the control and representation of nature. Generously illustrated, this publication introduces new insights and features more than seventy-five artworks. Essays address topics ranging from Dion's ecological activism to his loving critique of museums. A diverse group of contributors explores his work as a teacher, his public artworks such as Neukom Vivarium in Seattle and his intricate curiosity cabinets installed throughout the world. They reveal how Dion's practice and formal investigations, which are rooted in history, connect to contemporary questions of disciplinary boundaries and the acquisition of knowledge in the age of the Anthropocene.

Wonder Confronts Certainty Gary Saul Morson, 2023-05-16 A noted literary scholar traverses the Russian canon exploring how realists, idealists and revolutionaries debated good and evil, moral responsibility and freedom. Since the age of Tolstoy, Dostoevsky and Chekhov, Russian literature has posed questions about good and evil, moral responsibility and human freedom with a clarity and intensity found nowhere else. In this wide-ranging meditation, Gary Saul Morson delineates intellectual debates that have coursed through two centuries of Russian writing as the greatest thinkers of the empire and then the Soviet Union enchanted readers with their idealism, philosophical insight and revolutionary fervor. Morson describes the Russian literary tradition as an argument between a radical intelligentsia that uncompromisingly followed ideology down the paths of revolution and violence and writers who probed ever more deeply into the human condition. The debate concerned what Russians called the accursed questions: If there is no God, are good and evil merely human constructs? Should we look for life's essence in ordinary or extreme conditions? Are individual minds best understood in terms of an overarching theory or as Tolstoy thought, by tracing the tiny alternations of consciousness? Exploring apologia for bloodshed, Morson adapts Mikhail Bakhtin's concept of the non-alibi, the idea that one cannot escape or displace responsibility for one's actions. And throughout, Morson isolates a characteristic theme of Russian culture: how the aspiration to relieve profound suffering can lead to either heartfelt empathy or bloodthirsty tyranny. What emerges is a contest between unyielding dogmatism and open-minded dialogue between heady certainty and a humble sense of wonder at the world's elusive complexity, a thought-provoking journey into inescapable questions.
