Amalia Mesa-Bains Laura E. Pérez, Maria Esther Fernández, 2023-01-24 Amalia Mesa Bains Archaeology of Memory is the first retrospective exhibition of the work of longtime Bay Area artist Mesa Bains Presenting work from the entirety of her career for the first time this exhibition which features nearly 60 works in a range of media including fourteen major installations celebrates Mesa Bains's important contributions to the field of contemporary art locally and globally. For over forty-five years, Mesa Bains has worked to bring Chicana art into the broader American field of contemporary art through innovations of sacred forms such as altares (home altars), ofrendas (offerings to the dead), descansos (roadside resting places), and capillas (home yard shrines). She expanded her installations from domestic spaces to include laboratories, library forms, gardens, and landscapes, focusing attention on the politics of space to highlight colonial erasure of the preexisting and still surviving cultural differences in colonized Indigenous and Mexican American communities. Many of these works offer a feminist perspective on the domestic life of immigrant and Mexican American women across different historical periods, most notably the four-part installation series Venus Envy, which was created over multiple decades and will be displayed in its entirety for the first time at BAMPPFA. Standing at the juncture of cultural diversity, environmentally centered spirituality, culled from ancestral non-Western worldviews, and intersectional feminism, Mesa Bains has been heralded as one of the most prominent voices in feminist Chicana art of her generation.

The Most Typical Avant-Garde

David James, 2005-05-30. Los Angeles has nourished a dazzling array of independent cinemas: avant-garde and art cinema, ethnic and industrial films, pornography, documentaries, and many other far-flung corners of film culture. This glorious panoramic history of film production outside the commercial studio system reconfigures Los Angeles rather than New York as the true center of avant-garde cinema in the United States. As he brilliantly delineates the cultural perimeter of the film business from the earliest days of cinema to the contemporary scene, David James argues that avant-garde and minority filmmaking in Los Angeles has in fact been the prototypical attempt to create emancipatory and progressive culture. Drawing from urban history and geography, local news reporting, and a wide range of film criticism, James gives astute analyses of scores of films, many of which are to be found only in archives. He also looks at some of the most innovative moments in Hollywood, revealing the full extent of the cross-fertilization that occurred between the studio system and films created outside it. Throughout, he demonstrates that Los Angeles has been in the aesthetic and social vanguard in all cinematic periods: from the Socialist cinemas of the early teens and 1930s to the personal cinemas of psychic self-investigation in the 1940s to attempts in the 1960s to revitalize the industry with the counterculture's utopian visions, and to the 1970s when African Americans, Asian Americans, Latinos, women, gays, and lesbians worked to create cinemas of their own. James takes us up to the 1990s and beyond to explore new forms of art cinema that are now transforming the representation of Southern California's geography.

Ruth Asawa and the Artist-Mother at Midcentury

Jordan Troeller, 2025-07-01. How a group of artist mothers in postwar San Francisco refused the centuries-old belief that a woman could not make art while also raising children. For most of modern history, to be an artist and a mother was to embody a contradiction in terms. This awful dichotomy, as painter Alice Neel put it, pitted artmaking against caretaking, and argued that the best art was made at the expense of family and futurity. But in San Francisco in the 1950s and 1960s, a group of artists gathered around Ruth Asawa

1926 2013 began to reject this dominant narrative In Ruth Asawa and the Artist Mother at Midcentury Jordan Troeller analyzes this remarkable moment Insisting that their labor as mothers fueled their labor as artists these women redefined key aesthetic concerns of their era including autonomy medium specificity and originality Delving into the archive where the traces of motherhood have not yet been erased from official history Troeller reveals Ruth Asawa s personal and professional dialogue with several other artist mothers including Merry Renk Imogen Cunningham and Sally Woodbridge For these women motherhood was not an essentialized identity but rather a means to reimagine the terms of artmaking outside of the patriarchal policing of reproduction This project unfolded in three broad areas which also structure the book s chapters domesticity and decoration metaphors for creativity and maternal labor in the public sphere especially in the public schools Drawing on queer theory and feminist writings Troeller argues that in belatedly accounting for the figure of the artist mother art history must reckon with an emergent paradigm of artmaking one predicated on reciprocity caretaking and futurity and political legacies of early Chicana feminism The Black Female Body in American Literature and Art Caroline Brown, 2013-02-28 This book examines how African American writers and visual artists interweave icon and inscription in order to re-present the black female body traditionally rendered alien and inarticulate within Western discursive and visual systems Brown considers how the writings of Toni Morrison Gayl Jones Paule Marshall Edwidge Danticat Jamaica Kincaid Andrea Lee Gloria Naylor and Martha Southgate are bound to such contemporary postmodern visual artists as Lorna Simpson Carrie Mae Weems Kara Walker Betye Saar and Faith Ringgold While the artists and authors rely on radically different media photos collage video and assembled objects as opposed to words and rhythm both sets of intellectual activists insist on the primacy of the black aesthetic Both assert artistic agency and cultural continuity in the face of the oppression social transformation and cultural multiplicity of the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries This book examines how African American performative practices mediate the tension between the ostensibly de-racialized body politic and the hyper-racialized black female body reimagining the cultural and political ground that guides various articulations of American national belonging Brown shows how and why black women writers and artists matter as agents of change how and why the form and content of their works must be recognized and reconsidered in the increasingly frenzied arena of cultural production and political debate African American Art and Artists Samella S. Lewis, 2003 Examines the lives and works of African American artists from the eighteenth century to the present with biographical and critical text and illustrated examples of their work A Companion to Contemporary Art Since 1945 Amelia Jones, 2009-02-09 A Companion to Contemporary Art is a major survey covering the major works and movements the most important theoretical developments and the historical social political and aesthetic issues in contemporary art since 1945 primarily in the Euro American context Collects 27 original essays by expert scholars describing the current state of scholarship in art history and visual studies and pointing to future directions in the field Contains dual chronological and thematic coverage of the major themes in the art of our time politics culture wars public space diaspora the artist identity politics the body and visual culture Offers synthetic analysis as well as new approaches to debates central to the visual arts since 1945 such as those addressing formalism the avant garde the role of the artist technology and art and the society of the spectacle Postborder City Michael Dear, Gustavo Leclerc, 2013-11-12 The postborder metropolis of Baja California stretches from Los Angeles in the north to Tijuana and Mexicali in the south Immigrants from all over the globe flock to Southern California while corporations are drawn to the low wage industry of the Mexican border towns echoing developments in other rapid growth areas such as Phoenix El Paso and San Antonio This incredibly diverse transnational megacity is giving birth to new cultural and artistic forms as it rapidly evolves into something unique in the world Postborder City is a genuinely interdisciplinary investigation of the hybrid culture on both sides of the increasingly fluid U S Mexico border spanning the disciplines of art and art history urban planning geography Latina/o studies and American studies Art and Dance in Dialogue Sarah Whatley, Imogen

Racz, Katerina Paramana, Marie-Louise Crawley, 2020-11-07 This interdisciplinary book brings together essays that consider how the body enacts social and cultural rituals in relation to objects spaces and the everyday and how these are questioned explored and problematised through and translated into dance art and performance The chapters are written by significant artists and scholars and consider practices from various locations including Central and Western Europe Mexico and the United States The authors build on dialogues between for example philosophy and museum studies and memory studies and post humanism and engage with a wide range of theory from phenomenology to relational aesthetics to New Materialism Thus this book represents a unique collection that together considers the continuum between everyday and cultural life and how rituals and memories are inscribed onto our being It will be of interest to scholars and practitioners students and teachers and particularly those who are curious about the intersections between arts disciplines Pictures of Belonging

ShiPu Wang, 2023-12-05 Pictures of Belonging showcases more than one hundred objects created by Miki Hayakawa Hisako Hibi and Min Okubo These trailblazing American women of Japanese descent part of the pre World War II generation of artists in California were committed to exploring art as a productive means of storytelling but their achievements are rarely recognized in the pages of American history The book puts the artists works in dialogue with one another for the first time creating new conversations on citizenship community and agency in the historical record during an era of exclusion for Japanese Americans in particular and Asian Americans as a whole Black Arts West
