Wintz, Paul Finkelman, 2012-12-06 From the music of Louis Armstrong to the portraits by Beauford Delaney the writings of Langston Hughes to the debut of the musical Show Boat the Harlem Renaissance is one of the most significant developments in African American history in the twentieth century The Encyclopedia of the Harlem Renaissance in two volumes and over 635 entries is the first comprehensive compilation of information on all aspects of this creative dynamic period For a full list of entries contributors and more visit the Encyclopedia of Harlem Renaissance website Archibald Motley Richard Powell, 2015-10-02 Featuring more than 200 color illustrations the catalogue Archibald Motley Jazz Age Modernist accompanies the first full scale survey of the work of Archibald Motley on view at the Nasher Museum of Art at Duke University from January 30 2014 through May 11 2014 Archibald John Motley Jr was an American painter master colorist and radical interpreter of urban culture Among twentieth century American artists Motley is surely one of the most important and paradoxically also one of the most enigmatic Born in New Orleans in 1891 Motley spent the first half of the twentieth century living and working in a predominately white neighborhood on Chicago s South Side just blocks away from the city s burgeoning black community During his formative years Chicago s African American population increased dramatically and he was both a witness to and a visual chronicler of that expansion In 1929 he won a Guggenheim Fellowship which funded a critical year of study in France where he painted Blues and other memorable pictures of Paris In the 1950s Motley made several lengthy visits to Mexico where his nephew the well known novelist Willard F Motley lived While there Motley created vivid depictions of Mexican life and landscapes He died in Chicago in 1981 Motley s brilliant yet idiosyncratic paintings simultaneously expressionist and social realist have captured worldwide attention with their rainbow hued syncopated compositions The exhibition includes the artist s depictions of African American life in early twentieth century Chicago as well as his portraits and archetypes portrayals of African American life in Jazz Age Paris and renderings of 1950s Mexico The catalogue includes an essay by Richard J Powell organizer and curator of Archibald Motley Jazz Age Modernist as well as contributions from other scholars examining the life work and legacy of one of twentieth century America s most significant artists African Americans in the Visual Arts Steven Otfinoski, 2014-05-14 While social concerns have been central to the work of many African American visual artists painters African-American Art Sharon F. Patton, 1998 Discusses African American folk art decorative art photography and fine arts The Negro Genius Benjamin Brawley, 1966 The Muse in Bronzeville Robert Bone, Richard A. Courage, 2011-08-27 The Muse in Bronzeville a dynamic reappraisal of a neglected period in African American cultural history is the first comprehensive critical study of the creative awakening that occurred on Chicago's South Side from the early 1930s to the cold war. Coming of age during the hard Depression years and in the wake of the Great Migration, this generation of Black creative artists produced works of literature, music, and visual art fully comparable in distinction and scope to the achievements of the Harlem Renaissance. This highly informative and accessible work, enhanced with reproductions of paintings of the same period, examines Black Chicago's Renaissance through richly anecdotal profiles of such figures as Richard Wright, Gwendolyn Brooks, Margaret Walker, Charles White, Gordon Parks, Horace Cayton, Muddy Waters, Mahalia Jackson, and Katherine Dunham. Robert Bone and Richard A. Courage make a powerful case for moving Chicago's Bronzeville long overshadowed by New York's Harlem from a peripheral to a central position within African American and American studies.

Jazz Age Chicago: Crucible of Modern America Joseph Gustaitis, 2022

When people imagine 1920s Chicago, they usually and justifiably think of Al Capone, speakeasies, gang wars, flappers, and flivvers. Yet this narrative overlooks the crucial role the Windy City played in the modernization of America. The city's incredible ethnic variety and massive building boom gave it unparalleled creative space, as design trends from Art Deco skyscrapers to streamlined household appliances reflected Chicago's unmistakable style. The emergence of mass media in the 1920s helped make professional sports a national obsession, even as Chicago radio stations were inventing the sitcom and the soap opera. Join Joseph Gustaitis as he chases the beat of America's Jazz Age back to its jazz capital.

Barthé Margaret Rose Vendryes, 2008. A celebration of the acclaimed African American modern sculptor Charles Burchfield's Seasons. Guy Davenport, 1994. Charles Burchfield, one of the finest American watercolorists of the 20th century and perhaps our greatest visionary, used watercolors with weight, power, and flexibility to achieve a variety of effects unprecedented in scale and technique for the medium. Working out of the 19th-century Romantic tradition in which nature's primordial energy is revealed through the drama of human emotions, Burchfield makes the commonplace extraordinary, the everyday miraculous.

From ballet to burlesque, from the frontier jig to the jitterbug, Americans have always loved watching dance, whether in grand ballrooms, on Mississippi riverboats, or in the streets. Dance and American Art is an innovative look at the elusive, evocative nature of dance and the American visual artists who captured it through their paintings, sculpture, photography, and prints from the early nineteenth century through the mid-twentieth century. The Harlem Renaissance and Transatlantic Modernism Denise Murrell,2024-02-25 Beginning in the 1920s Upper Manhattan became the center of an explosion of art writing and ideas that has since become legendary But what we now know as the Harlem Renaissance the first movement of international modern art led by African Americans extended far beyond New York City This volume reexamines the Harlem Renaissance as part of a global flowering of Black creativity with roots in the New Negro theories and aesthetics of Alain Locke its founding philosopher as well as the writings of W E B Du Bois Langston Hughes and Zora Neale Hurston Featuring artists such as Aaron Douglas Charles Henry Alston Augusta Savage and William H Johnson who synthesized the expressive figuration of the European avant garde with the aesthetics of African sculpture and folk art to render all aspects of African American city life this publication also includes works by lesser known contributors including Laura Wheeler Waring and Samuel Joseph Brown Jr who took a more classical approach to depicting Black subjects with dignity interiority and gravitas The works of New Negro artists active abroad are also examined in juxtaposition with those of their European and international African diasporan peers from Germaine Casse and Ronald Moody to Henri Matisse Edvard Munch and Pablo Picasso This reframing of a celebrated cultural phenomenon shows how the flow of ideas through Black artistic communities on both sides of the Atlantic contributed to international conversations around art race and identity while helping to define our notion of modernism The Black Chicago

Renaissance Darlene Clark Hine,John McCluskey,2012-06-25 The New Negro consciousness with its roots in the generation born in the last and opening decades of the 19th and 20th centuries replenished and nurtured by migration resulted in the Harlem Renaissance in the 1920s then reemerged transformed in the 1930s as the Black Chicago Renaissance The authors in this volume argue that beginning in the 1930s and lasting into the 1950s Black Chicago experienced a cultural renaissance that rivaled the cultural outpouring in Harlem The Black Chicago Renaissance however has not received its full due This book addresses that neglect Like Harlem Chicago had become a major destination for black southern migrants Unlike Harlem it was also an urban industrial center that gave a unique working class and internationalist perspective to the cultural work that took place here The contributors to Black Chicago Renaissance analyze a prolific period of African American creativity in music performance art social science scholarship and visual and literary artistic expression Each author discusses forces that distinguished and link the Black Chicago Renaissance to the Harlem Renaissance as well as placing the development of black culture in a national and international context by probing the histories of multiple sequential and overlapping Philadelphia Cleveland Detroit Los Angeles Memphis black renaissances Among the topics discussed in this volume are Chicago writers Gwendolyn Brooks and Richard Wright The Chicago Defender and Tivoli Theater African American music and visual arts as well as the American Negro Exposition of 1940 Making Race Jacqueline Francis,2012-01-15 Malvin Gray Johnson Yasuo Kuniyoshi and Max Weber were three New York City artists whose work was popularly assigned to the category of racial art in the interwar years of the twentieth century The term was widely used by critics and the public at the time and was an unexamined unquestioned category for the work of non whites such as Johnson an African American non Westerners such as Kuniyoshi a Japanese born American and ethnicized non Christians such as Weber a Russian born Jewish American The discourse on racial art is a troubling chapter in the history of early American modernism that has not until now been sufficiently documented Jacqueline Francis juxtaposes the work of these three artists in order to consider their understanding of the category and their stylistic responses to the expectations created by it in the process revealing much about the nature of modernist art practices Most American audiences in the interwar period disapproved of figural abstraction and held modernist painting in contempt yet the critics who first expressed appreciation for Johnson Kuniyoshi and Weber praised their bright palettes and energetic pictures and expected to find the residue of the minority artist s heritage in the work itself Francis explores the flowering of racial art rhetoric in criticism and history published in the 1920s and 1930s and analyzes its underlying presence in contemporary discussions of artists of color Making Race is a history of a past phenomenon which has ramifications for the present The International Review of African American Art ,2002 The Routledge Companion to African American Art History Eddie Chambers,2019-11-12 This Companion authoritatively points to the main areas of enquiry within the subject of African American art history The first section examines how African American art has been constructed over the course of a century of published scholarship The second section studies how African American art is and has been taught and researched in academia The third part focuses on how African American art has been reflected in art galleries and museums The final section opens up understandings of what we mean when we speak of African American art This book will be of interest to graduate students researchers and professors and may be used in American art African American art visual culture and culture classes
