Art Of The South Sea Islands:

Arts of the South Sea Islands in British and Continental Museums Terence Barrow, 1959 Arts of the South Seas Musée Barbier-Mueller, 1999 Drawing on the famous collections of the Musée Barbier Mueller this unusual and beautifully illustrated book brings together these cultures to demonstrate the astonishing aesthetic similarities between civilizations located far apart in both space and time While the arts of the Easter Islands and Maori civilizations have been well known for some years the creativity of the inhabitants of Borneo Sulawesi and Sumatra is less familiar and is scarcely represented in the major public collections On the basis of the linguistic consonance between the thousand or more modern languages spoken in Oceania anthropologists and archaeologists have begun to trace the cultural links throughout this area in particular through the rituals and beliefs which are often the inspiration for the forms and functions of the artifacts Masks in human or animal form made of tortoiseshell wood dried leaves or clay drums shields and batons multicolored clothing for war and peace intricate jewelry as well as a wide variety of everyday containers and implements all the treasures in this collection display a sophistication of ornament and technical expertise which rival the products of ancient European civilizations Scholarly essays by over thirty international experts focus on each island or civilization and form a fascinating study which will certainly become the standard work in this field of interest to both students and the general reader Art Of The South Sea Islands Alfred Grether Buehler, 1968 The Art of the South Sea Islands, Including Australia and New Zealand Alfred Bühler, 1962 Includes The Aboriginal Art of Australia by C P Mountford which has been annotated separately Journal of the Royal Society of Arts Royal Society of Arts (Great Britain), 1861 The Art of Persistence Charlotte Eubanks, 2019-12-31 The Art of Persistence examines the relations between art and politics in transwar Japan exploring these via a microhistory of the artist memoirist and activist Akamatsu Toshiko also known as Maruki Toshi 1912 2000 Scaling up from the details of Akamatsu's lived experience the book addresses major events in modern Japanese history including colonization and empire war the nuclear bombings and the transwar proletarian movement More broadly it outlines an ethical position known as persistence which occupies the grey area between complicity and resistance Like resilience persistence signals a commitment to not disappearing a fierce act of taking up space but often from a position of privilege among the classes and people in power Akamatsu grew up in a settler colonial family in rural Hokkaido before attending arts college in Tokyo and becoming one of the first women to receive formal training as an oil painter in Japan She later worked as a governess in the home of a Moscow diplomat and traveled to the Japanese Mandate in Micronesia before returning home to write and illustrate children's books set in the Pacific She married the surrealist poet and painter Maruki Iri 1901 1995 and together in 1948 and in defiance of Occupation censorship they began creating and exhibiting the Nuclear Series some of the most influential and powerful artwork depicting the aftermath of the Hiroshima bombing For the next forty or more years the couple toured the world to protest war and nuclear proliferation and were nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize in 1995 With abundant excerpts and drawings from Akamatsu's journals and sketchbooks The Art of Persistence offers a bridge between scholarship on imperial Japan and postwar memory cultures arguing for the importance of each individual's historical agency While uncovering the longue durée of Japan's visual cultures of war it charts the development of the nationalist literature for little citizens movement and Japan's postwar reorientation toward global multiculturalism Finally the work proposes ways to enlist artwork generally and the museum specifically as a site of ethical engagement Journal of the Royal Society of Arts Royal Society for the Encouragement of Arts, Manufactures and Commerce, 1860 Arts of Vanuatu Joël Bonnemaison, 1996-01-01 This prodigiously diverse and living culture has for its spiritual source a single traditional vision central to which is the fact that the world belongs not to the living but to the ancestors In Vanuatu art we have the construction of canoes and of standing slit drums the inventiveness apparent in the masks and mats the aesthetics of dress the raising of tusker pigs the sharing out of sea turtle meat the symbol of the hawk representing the outward sign of the possession of the world through the eyes of the departed This art sacred in inspiration takes root in the magic of each place and shore Arts of Vanuatu is the first major contemporary anthropology work covering such a range of topics It is also the first work covering the traditional art of the former South Pacific island colony of the New Hebrides Journal of the Society of Arts, 1878 The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature, Science, and Art, 1879 Cradle-land of Arts and Creeds Charles John Stone, 1880 The Art Journal, 1848 Vol for 1867 includes Illustrated catalogue of the Paris Universal Exhibition American Anthropology in Micronesia Robert C. Kiste, Mac Marshall, 1999-01-01 American Anthropology in Micronesia An Assessment evaluates how anthropological research in the Trust Territory has affected the Micronesian people the U S colonial administration and the discipline of anthropology itself Contributors analyze the interplay between anthropology and history in particular how American colonialism affected anthropologists' use of history and examine the research that has been conducted by American anthropologists in specific topical areas of socio cultural anthropology Although concentrating largely on disciplinary concerns the authors consider the connections between work done in the era of applied anthropology and that completed later when anthropology was pursued mainly for its own sake The focus then returns to applied concerns in more recent years and issues pertaining to the relevance of anthropology for the world of practical affairs It will be of essential interest to students and scholars of Pacific Islands studies and the history of anthropology Art-Union, 1841 Vol for 1867 includes Illustrated catalogue of the Paris Universal Exhibition Journal of the Royal Society of Arts, 1874 Catalogue of the Montrose library.
