Scottish Art since 1960 Craig Richardson, 2017-07-05

Craig Richardson here addresses key areas of cultural politics and identity in a way that not only illuminates the development of Scottish art but teases out another strand of the plurality of developments which led to the success of artists throughout the UK in the 1990s It is of the highest relevance whether one s perspective is that of the development of the Scottish art British art or European art of this period The book adds significantly to our knowledge of the art of this period in a way that will aid not only our historical understanding but our understanding of the dynamics of art practice today Providing an analysis and including discussion interviewing artists curators and critics and accessing non catalogued personal archives towards a new chronology Richardson here examines and proposes a sequence of precisely denoted exemplary works which outlines a self conscious definition of the interrogative term Scottish art Among the artists whose work is discussed are John Latham Simon Starling Alan Johnston Roderick Buchanan Glen Onwion Christine Borland William Johnstone Joan Eardley Alexander Moffat Douglas Gordon Alan Smith Graeme Fagen Ross Sinclair and many others The discussion culminates in a critically original demonstration of the scope for further research and practice within the subject facilitating national cultural debate on the character of Scottish national visual art

Conceptual Art After Modernism Robert Bailey, 2025-05-30 This study provides a new interpretation of art after modernism by foregrounding the importance of conceptual thinking as a pervasive force for change in art and art history since 1950 Robert Bailey shows how distinctions between art and art history gave way as conceptual thinking provided artists and art historians with a common means to reassess what art could be and do in the world Bailey assesses the results of artful and scholarly inquiries combining creative activity with intellectual rigor to proffer new approaches to a variety of social and environmental concerns ranging from questions about human identity including race class gender and sexuality to activist efforts to redress everything from abortion access to migrants rights to climate change This book provides both a historical overview of these developments and close analyses of key works and texts spanning 1950 to the present and encompassing broad geographic scope with special attention paid to Indigenous art The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history and contemporary art
