Volume 1: 1855-1894* William F. Halloran, 2018-11-27 William Sharp 1855 1905 conducted one of the most audacious literary deceptions of his or any time Sharp was a Scottish poet novelist biographer and editor who in 1893 began to write critically and commercially successful books under the name Fiona Macleod This was far more than just a pseudonym he corresponded as Macleod enlisting his sister to provide the handwriting and address and for more than a decade Fiona Macleod duped not only the general public but such literary luminaries as William Butler Yeats and in America E C Stedman Sharp wrote I feel another self within me now more than ever it is as if I were possessed by a spirit who must speak out This three volume collection brings together Sharp's own correspondence a fascinating trove in its own right by a Victorian man of letters who was on intimate terms with writers including Dante Gabriel Rossetti Walter Pater and George Meredith and the Fiona Macleod letters which bring to life Sharp's intriguing second self With an introduction and detailed notes by William F Halloran this richly rewarding collection offers a wonderful insight into the literary landscape of the time while also investigating a strange and underappreciated phenomenon of late nineteenth century English literature It is essential for scholars of the period and it is an illuminating read for anyone interested in authorship and identity William Sharp and "Fiona Macleod" William F. Halloran, 2022-02-24 William Sharp 1855 1905 conducted one of the most audacious literary deceptions of his or any time A Scottish poet novelist biographer and editor he began in 1893 to write critically and commercially successful books under the name Fiona Macleod who became far more than a pseudonym Enlisting his sister to provide the Macleod handwriting he used the voluminous Fiona correspondence to fashion a distinctive personality for a talented but remote and publicity shy woman Sometimes she was his cousin and other times his lover and whenever suspicions arose he vehemently denied he was Fiona For more than a decade he duped not only the general public but such literary luminaries as George Meredith Thomas Hardy Henry James William

Butler Yeats and E C Stedman Drawing extensively on his letters his wife Elizabeth Sharp s Memoir and accounts by friends and associates this biography provides a lucid and intimate account of William Sharp s life from his rejection of the dour religion of his Scottish boyhood his turn to spiritualism to his role in the Scottish Celtic Revival in the mid nineties The biography illuminates his wide network of close male and female friendships through which he developed advanced ideas about the place of women in society the constraints of marriage the fluidity of gender identity and the complexity of the human psyche Uniquely this biography reveals the autobiographical content of the writings of Fiona Macleod the remarkable extent to which Sharp used the feminine pseudonym to disguise his telling and retelling the complex story of his extramarital love affair with a beautiful and brilliant woman The biography illuminates not only the talented and conflicted William Sharp but also the cultural landscape of Great Britain in the late nineteenth century From late Pre Raphaelitism through the yellow nineties and on to the excesses of the early twentieth century Sharp dabbled in all the movements that comprised what some have called the Age of Decadence
