The Popular & the Canonical David Johnson, 2005 This volume ranges from the Second World War to the postmodern considering issues of the popular and the competing criteria by which literature has been judged in the later twentieth century. As well as tracing the transition from modernism to postmodernism the authors guide students through debates around the pleasures of the popular and the question of inter relations between mass and high cultures. Drawing further upon issues of value and function raised in Aestheticism and Modernism. Debating Twentieth Century Literature 1900-1960 they examine contemporary literary prizes and the activity of judgement involved in English Studies. This text can be used alongside the other books in the series for a complete course on twentieth century literature or on its own as essential reading for students of mid to late twentieth century writing. Texts examined in detail include du Maurier's Rebecca, poetry by Ginsburg and O'Hara, Dick's Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep?, Puig's Kiss of the Spiderwoman, Beckett's Waiting for Godot, Heaney's New Selected Poems 1966-1987, Gurnah's Paradise, Barker's The Ghost Road.

The cultural politics of contemporary Hollywood film Chris Beasley, Heather Brook, 2019-01-21 Adopting and developing a cultural politics approach this comprehensive study explores how Hollywood movies generate and reflect political myths about social and personal life that profoundly influence how we understand power relations. Instead of looking at genre it employs three broad categories of film. Security films present ideas concerning public order and disorder, citizen-state relations and the politics of fear. Relationalities films highlight personal and intimate politics bringing norms about identities, gender and sexuality into focus. In socially critical films particular issues and ideas are endowed with more overtly political significance. The book considers these categories as global political technologies.
