Blow The House Down A Novel:

Blow the House Down Robert Baer, 2006-05-30 Former CIA operative Robert Baer pushes fiction to the absolute limit in this riveting and unnervingly plausible alternative history of 9 11 Veteran CIA officer Max Waller has long been obsessed with the abduction and murder of his Agency mentor Though years of digging yield the name of a suspect an Iranian math genius turned terrorist the trail seems too cold to justify further effort Then Max turns up a photograph of the man standing alongside Osama bin Laden and a mysterious westerner whose face has been cut out feeding Max's suspicion When the first official to whom Max shows the photo winds up dead the out of favor agent suddenly finds himself the target of dark forces within the intelligence community who are desperate to muzzle him Eluding a global surveillance net Max in the summer of 2001 begins tracking the spore of a complex conspiracy meeting clandestinely with suicide bombers and Arab royalty and ultimately realizing the Iranian he'd sought for a decades old crime is actually at the nexus of a terrifying plot Showing off dazzling tradecraft and an array of richly textured backdrops and filled with real names and events Blow the House Down deftly balances fact and possibility to become the first great thriller to spring from the war on terrorism Also available as a Random House AudioBook and an eBook

Blow the House Down John Blackburn, 2018-01-30 The year is 1969 and in the British city of Randelwyck racial tensions are simmering the situation made worse by an acute housing shortage Legendary architect Sir George Strand has a solution two new state of the art high rise apartment towers linked by walkway bridges symbolizing the bridging of differences and a closer link between the divided citizenry But when a professor hints there may be a dangerous flaw in the blueprints he quickly winds up dead What is Sir George's real agenda and how is it connected to the centuries old legend of the Skulda John Blackburn 1923 1993 was regarded as one of the great British mystery and thriller writers of his time This first ever reprint of Blow the House Down 1970 one of his scarcest books includes a new introduction by Adrian Schober Sixteen other thrillers mysteries and horror novels by Blackburn are also available from Valancourt

Blow Your House Down Pat Barker, 2016-10-27 Blow Your House Down is swift spare and utterly absorbing you'll probably read it as I did in one tense sitting NEW YORK TIMES A courageous and disturbing novel ELIZABETH WARD WASHINGTON POST BOOK WORLD Despite its black humour it is a deeply political book BELINDA WEBB GUARDIAN A serial killer stalks prostitutes with profound and unexpected consequences in this riveting novel from the Booker Prize winning author of The Ghost Road A city and its people are in the grip of a killer who is roaming the northern city singling out prostitutes The face of his latest victim stares out from every newspaper and billboard haunting the women who walk the streets But life and work go on Brenda with three children can't afford to give up while Audrey now in her forties desperately goes on working the cars And then when another woman is savagely murdered Jean her lover takes desperate measures

Critical Perspectives on Pat Barker Sharon Monteith, 2005 These essays cover the work and career of Pat Barker providing insight into her novels from Union Street 1982 through the Regeneration trilogy 1991 95 to Double Vision 2003

The essays are organized into Writing Working Class Women Dialogue under Pressure Men at War The Talking Cure and Regenerating the Wasteland

Pat Barker John Brannigan, 2005 This book offers readings of Barker's innovations in narrative form her revisionist perspectives on history class and gender and her preoccupation with themes of trauma haunting and terror It also analyzes the reasons for her success and significance as a novelist The chapters draw on contemporary theories of critical realism gender and social identities memory and narrative in order to outline the debates with which Barker's work has consistently engaged

Contemporary British Women Writers Emma Parker, 2004 Essays illustrating the range and diversity of post 1970 British women writers Despite the enduring popularity of contemporary women's writing British women writers have received scant critical attention They tend to be overshadowed by their American counterparts in the media and have come to be represented within the academy almost exclusively by Angela Carter and Jeanette Winterson This collection celebrates the range and diversity of contemporary post 1970 British women writers It challenges misconceptions about the nature and scope of fiction by women writers working in Britain commonly dismissed as parochial insular dreary and domestic and seeks to expand conventional definitions of British by exploring how issues of nationality intersect with gender class race and sexuality Writers covered include Pat Barker A L Kennedy Maggie Gee Rukhsana Ahmad Joan Riley Jennifer Johnston Ellen Galford Susan Hill Fay Weldon Emma Tennant and Helen Fielding Contributors DAVID ELLIS CLARE HANSON MAROULA JOANNOU PAULINA PALMER EMMA PARKER FELICITY ROSSLYN CHRISTIANE SCHLOTE JOHN SEARS ELUNED SUMMERS BREMNER IMELDA WHELEHAN GINA WISKER

The Contemporary British Novel Since 1980 James Acheson, S. Ross, 2019-06-12 Written by some of the world's finest contemporary literature specialists the specially commissioned essays in this volume examine the work of more than twenty major British novelists including Peter Ackroyd Martin Amis Iain M Banks Pat Barker Julian Barnes A S Byatt Angela Carter Janice Galloway Kazuo Ishiguro Hanif Kureishi Ian McEwan Salman Rushdie Zadie Smith Graham Swift Rose Tremain Marina Warner Irvine Welsh and Jeanette Winterson Focusing mainly on authors whose first novels have appeared since 1980 the essays provide expert and original analysis of the most recent trends in the theory and practice of contemporary British fiction and are organized by these 4 major approaches realism postcolonialism feminism and postmodernism

The 1980s: A Decade of Contemporary British Fiction Philip Tew, Emily Horton, Leigh Wilson, 2014-02-27 How did social cultural and political events in Britain during the 1980s shape contemporary British fiction Setting the fiction squarely within the context of Conservative politics and questions about culture and national identity this volume reveals how the decade associated with Thatcherism frames the work of Kazuo Ishiguro Martin Amis and Graham Swift of Scottish novelists and new diasporic writers How and why 1980s fiction is a response to particular psychological social and economic pressures is explored in detail Drawing on the rise of individualism and the birth of neo liberalism contributors reflect on the tense relations between 1980s politics and realism and between elegy and satire Noting the creation of a heritage industry during the decade the rise of the historical novel is also considered against broader cultural changes Viewed from the perspective of more recent theorisations of crisis following both 9 11 and the 21st century financial crash this study makes sense of why and how writers of the 1980s constructed fictions in response to this decade's own set of fundamental crises

Our House Gerry Smyth, Jo Croft, 2006 Space has emerged in recent years as a radical category in a range of related disciplines across the humanities Of the many possible applications of this new interest some of the most exciting and challenging have addressed the issue of domestic architecture and its function as a space for both the dramatisation and the negotiation of a cluster of highly salient issues concerning amongst other things belonging and exclusion fear and desire identity and difference Our House is a cross disciplinary collection of essays taking as its focus both the prospect and the possibility of the house This latter term is taken in its broadest possible resonance encompassing everything from the great houses so beloved of nineteenth century English novelists to the caravans and mobile homes of the latterday travelling community and all points in between The essays are written by a combination of established and emerging scholars working in a variety of scholarly disciplines including literary criticism sociology cultural studies history popular music and architecture No specific school or theory predominates although the work of two key figures Gaston Bachelard and Martin Heidegger is engaged throughout This collection engages with a number of key issues raised by the increasingly troubled relationship between the cultural built and natural environments in the contemporary world

Bring the House Down Charlotte Runcie, 2025-07-08 Intimate real and really funny This one has teeth Kiley Reid New York Times bestselling author of Come and Get It and Such a Fun Age A theatre critic at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival writes a vicious one star review of a struggling actress he has a one night stand with in this sharply funny feminist tinderbox Alex Lyons always has his mind made up by the time the curtain comes down at a performance the show either deserves a five star rave or a one star pan Anything in between is meaningless On the opening night of the Edinburgh Festival Fringe he doesn't deliberate over the rating for Hayley Sinclair's show nor does he hesitate when the opportunity presents itself to have a one night stand with the struggling actress Unaware that she's gone home with the theatre critic who's just written a career ending review of her Hayley wakes up at his apartment to see his scathing one star critique in print on the kitchen table and she's not sure which humiliation offends her the most So she revamps her show into a viral sensation critiquing Alex Lyons himself entitled son of a famous actress serial philanderer and by all accounts a terrible man Yet Alex remains unapologetic As his reputation goes up in flames he insists on telling his unvarnished version of events to his colleague Sophie Through her eyes we see that the deeper she gets pulled into his downfall the more conflicted she becomes After all there are always two sides to every story A brilliant Trojan horse of a book about art power misogyny and female rage Bring the House Down is a searing insightful and often hilarious debut that captures the blurred line between reality and performance

U.S. News and World Report, 2006 Contemporary British Novel James Acheson, 2005-12-14 Written by some of the world's finest contemporary literature specialists the newly commissioned essays in this volume examine the work of more than twenty major British novelists Peter Ackroyd Martin Amis Iain M Banks Pat Barker Julian Barnes A S Byatt Angela Carter Janice Galloway Abdulrazak Gurnah Kazuo Ishiguro James Kelman A L Kennedy

Hanif Kureishi Ian McEwan Caryl Philips Salman Rushdie Zadie Smith Graham Swift Rose Tremain Marina Warner Irvine Welsh and Jeanette Winterson The book will be of interest not only to students teachers and lecturers but to the general reader seeking help in approaching the often baffling novels of the recent past Key Features Literary critical isms are described in clear jargon free language Focuses on British fiction since 1980 giving coverage of established authors such as Angela Carter and Ian McEwan as well as little addressed novelists such as James Kelman and Zadie Smith Essays are by leading scholars in contemporary fiction The 1990s: A Decade of Contemporary British Fiction Nick Hubble, Philip Tew, Leigh Wilson, 2015-05-21 How did social cultural and political events in Britain during the 1990s shape contemporary British Fiction From the fall of the Berlin Wall to the turn of the millennium the 1990s witnessed a realignment of global politics Against the changing international scene this volume uses events abroad and in Britain to examine and explain the changes taking place in British fiction including the celebration of national identities fuelled by the move toward political devolution in Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales the literary optimism in urban ethnic fictions written by a new generation of authors born and raised in Britain the popularity of neo Victorian fiction Critical surveys are balanced by in depth readings of work by the authors who defined the decade including A S Byatt Hanif Kureishi Will Self Caryl Phillips and Irvine Welsh an approach that illustrates exactly how their key themes and concerns fit within the social and political circumstances of the decade British Working-Class Fiction Roberto del Valle Alcalá, 2017-08-24 British Fiction and the Struggle Against Work offers an account of British literary responses to work from the 1950s to the onset of the financial crisis of 2008 9 Roberto del Valle Alcal argues that throughout this period working class writing developed new strategies of resistance against the social discipline imposed by capitalist work As the latter becomes an increasingly pervasive and inescapable form of control and as its nature grows abstract diffuse and precarious writing about it acquires a new antagonistic quality producing new forms of subjective autonomy and new imaginaries of a possible life beyond its purview By tracing a genealogy of working class authors and texts that in various ways defined themselves against the social discipline imposed by post war capitalism this book analyses the strategies adopted by workers in their attempts to identify and combat the source of their oppression Drawing on the work of a wide range of theorists including Deleuze and Guattari Giorgio Agamben and Antonio Negri Alcal offers a systematic and innovative account of British literary treatments of work The book includes close readings of fiction by Alan Sillitoe David Storey Nell Dunn Pat Barker James Kelman Irvine Welsh Monica Ali and Joanna Kavenna Fiction, Crime, and the Feminine Rédouane Abouddahab, 2011-01-18 The form of art called fiction has always been the privileged framework providing the perfect alibi for facing framing and containing the Other s desire and the strange libido attached to violence in other words there is an ambivalent dimension inherent in the scenarios and fantasies we enjoy by proxy Are not the fairy tales of our childhood full of images of death and violence whose fascinating presence is paradoxically meant to make us feel all the more safely tucked up in bed After all the wolf or the Little Red Riding Hood the monstrous killer or the unfortunate victim are but fictitious characters mere shifting positions they are not me therefore thanks to the willing suspension of disbelief process any reading I may shift into their speech or thoughts on the fictional screen a stage both for projection of and protection from such forbidden enjoyments Crime fiction has also for a long time been the genre for such containment Ever since Victorian craniology criminal violence has remained as resistant as ever to scientific measurement even to the more recent techniques of investigation of the brain Where women are concerned they were first and mostly fascinating victims but they also nowadays feature in the role of the criminals adding to the first fascination the mystery of a woman's desire beyond the pale of societal expectations Indeed more and more pieces of crime fiction nowadays refuse to grant the simple pleasures of old what if for example the text refuses to comply to the whodunnit convention What about those stories that instead of closure will diffuse a mist a sense of unrest by their emphasis on the inexplicable lure of violence In other words gone are the days of the satisfaction granted by traditional closure and return to a solidly structured society made safe again by the disposal of the scene of violence But writing as such is also to be taken into consideration and what forcefully determines the writing is not only the historical trauma whose active presence in the fiction cannot be denied but especially some unresolved traumatic event or exclusion that makes one write and through the writing quest bliss but that also makes one renounce the attachment to the inevitably lost bliss
