Between Everything and Nothing Joe Meno, 2021-06-22 A New York Times Book Review Editor's Choice this harrowing true story of two young men from Ghana and their quest for asylum highlights not only the unjust political system of their homeland but the chaos of the United States failing immigration system Long before their chance meeting at a Minneapolis bus station Ghanaian asylum seekers Seidu Mohammed and Razak Iyal had already crossed half the world in search of a new home Seidu who identifies as bisexual lived under constant threat of exposure and violence in a country where same sex acts are illegal Razak's life was also threatened after corrupt officials contrived to steal his rightful inheritance Forced to flee their homeland both men embarked on separate odysseys through the dangerous jungles and bureaucracies of South Central and North America Like generations of asylum seekers before they presented themselves legally at the U.S. border hoping for sanctuary Instead they were imprisoned in private detention facilities released only after their asylum pleas were denied Fearful of returning to Ghana Seidu and Razak saw no choice but to attempt one final border crossing Their journey north to Canada in the harsh unforgiving winter proved more tragic than anything they had experienced before Based on extensive interviews Joe Meno's intimate novelistic account builds upon the international media attention Seidu and Razak's story has already received
