The Death of Industrial Civilization Joel Jay Kassiola, 1990-01-01 The Death of Industrial Civilization explains how the contemporary ecological crisis within industrial society is caused by the values inherent in unlimited economic growth and competitive materialism Kassiola shows that the limits to growth critique of industrial civilization is the most effective stance against what seems to be a dominant and invincible social order He prescribes the social changes that must be implemented in order to transform industrial society into a sustainable and more satisfying one

The Need for a New Economic System John Scales Avery, 2016-02-07 It is clear that our present economic system is unsustainable Never ending exponential industrial growth on a finite planet is a logical absurdity We are already using resources at a rate which it would take 1 6 planet earths to replace We are already undermining the ecological systems which support all of life Our present economic system has led to an unbelievable degree of economic inequality To maintain this inequality both between nations and within nations military force is used and democracy is replaced by oligarchy The future of human civilization is endangered both by the threat of thermonuclear war and by the threat of catastrophic climate change and both of the twin threats are results of our present economic system This book documents in detail the serious economic problems of today's world and it also proposes sustainable solutions

The Redesigned Earth John T. Tanacredi, 2019-12-12 This book provides insight into the basic aspects of ecology that impact or are affected by engineering practices Ecological principals are described and discussed through the lens of the influences that built structures have on the Earth's biological geological and chemical systems The text goes on to elucidate the engineering influences that have or will influence the face of the Earth These influences redesign the Earth either by destroying natural systems and replacing them with highly subsidized systems or by attempting to restore highly disturbed or contaminated systems with the basic natural systems that were originally present      Surveying Marbled Murrelets at Inland Forested Sites ,1990
