Arnhem Doctor:

Arnhem Doctor Stuart Radcliffe Mawson, 1981 A Bridge Too Far Cornelius Ryan, 2010-02-16 The classic account of one of the most dramatic battles of World War II A Bridge Too Far is Cornelius Ryan's masterly chronicle of the Battle of Arnhem which marshalled the greatest armada of troop carrying aircraft ever assembled and cost the Allies nearly twice as many casualties as D Day In this compelling work of history Ryan narrates the Allied effort to end the war in Europe in 1944 by dropping the combined airborne forces of the American and British armies behind German lines to capture the crucial bridge across the Rhine at Arnhem Focusing on a vast cast of characters from Dutch civilians to British and American strategists to common soldiers and commanders Ryan brings to life one of the most daring and ill fated operations of the war A Bridge Too Far superbly recreates the terror and suspense the heroism and tragedy of this epic operation which ended in bitter defeat for the Allies G. van Hasselt's arnhemsche oudheden ,1804 Children of Arnhem's Kaleidoscope Graham Wilson, 2012 It was hot There was sudden stillness in the late afternoon air and the surface of the small waterhole shone with unnatural smoothness Fresh pig tracks at water's edge suggested pigs just gone Two bubbles popped to the surface near the edge of the pool just decaying vegetation said my mind I should have smelt crocodile A story of a missionary family in remote aboriginal Australia What is it about the Northern Territory that fascinates I have only to mention its name in conversation and people turn to listen Why for 180 years has it drawn people from all over to come stay longer than they imagined and often never leave This book is a memoir of a family's life in a remote aboriginal community in Australia's Northern Territory something the equivalent of remote Canada or Alaska where few people go The place Oenpelli now Gunbalanya is near Kadadu National Park made famous in Crocodile Dundee This story tells of changing world as a missionary family and an aboriginal community become part of modern Australia This our family's story growing amongst the people animals and places and colours of this this strange land alongside an aboriginal community going through its own changes citizenship alcohol uranium mining land rights outstation development and community self management It is a memoir of growing up in one of the most isolated parts of Australia in a small aboriginal missionary community in the Northern Territory something the equivalent of the remote Canada or Alaska It is the landscape featured in the movie Crocodile Dundee It tells of the huge change in this place in the last half century with the coming of land rights and aboriginal self determination It also tells of my mother and father's lives and Christian beliefs which motivated their contribution to this change It is a story of my memories and love for this remote and beautiful place in which I lived as a child then worked as an adult and of many NT characters who gave me the memories It is also the story of me working as an adult across many parts of the NT and about the hardy outlandish characters that inhabit this place It also tells of my own experience of surviving attack by a large crocodile in a remote swamp It also provides a foundation for my novels in the Crocodile Spirit Dreaming Series The places in these books are the places in which I lived and worked and many of the stories came little changed from people I knew In particular my experience in surviving a crocodile attack of a large saltwater crocodile which mauled my leg as told in this book forms part of the central role of the crocodile as a predator in this novel series The role of my father in opening road transport including building a crossing of the East Alligator River developing outstations for aboriginal communities learning to fly on missionary wages and establishing an aviation service along with assisting the aboriginal peoples of this land to gain royalties from mining is a story that deserves to be told as a major part of NT history Along with his tireless work the contribution of many others is also an essential part of the story

Proposed Airborne Assaults in the Liberation of Europe James

Daly,2024-10-30 The bitter fighting in the so called Falaise Argentan Pocket in August 1944 during which the Allies encircled and destroyed a substantial part of Hitler s forces in northern France following the D Day landings marked the last major battle of the Normandy campaign Despite this tens of thousands of German soldiers managed to escape through the infamous Falaise Gap It was as the Allies continued to pursue the retreating enemy forces that the planners considered or drew up a number of further airborne operations As James Daly reveals three operations namely Lucky Strike Transfigure and Axehead might well have been part of the last of the fighting in the breakout from Normandy itself The first of these Lucky Strike was intended to see General Montgomery s 21st Army Group strike to the north east in the direction of the River Seine where bridges near Rouen were to be taken by the British 1st Airborne Division Transfigure was to be a major operation with the aim of using the First Allied Airborne Army against the French road network with the object of cutting the German lines of retreat across the Seine Axehead meanwhile was a plan to establish an air head on the eastern bank of the Seine In this assault the British 1st Airborne Division along with infantry Sherman DD amphibious tanks and specialised engineers would establish crossings of the Dives Touques Risle and Seine rivers As the Allies advanced further east into the Low Countries further Allied airborne assaults were suggested In Operation Linnet for example airborne forces were to capture and hold Tournai on the Escaut river in the western part of German occupied Belgium In the event they were all cancelled usually as the Allied forces reached the intended dropping zones before the airborne forces could take off In particular several of these operations bear very strong resemblance to elements of the Market Garden plan and show early signs of the mistakes Operation Comet for example included a glider coup de main for the bridges at Arnhem Nijmegen and Grave why did this disappear for Market Garden These operations and their planning show that far from being an operation that went wrong in September 1944 the flaws in the Arnhem plan were evident much earlier They also show that divisions between the Allies emerged much earlier and ran much deeper than originally thought

G. van Hasselt's Arnhemsche oudheden Gerard van Hasselt,1804 Arnhemsche oudheden Gerard van Hasselt,1803 A Doctor's Dream Buddhi Lokuge,Tanya

Burke,2014-09-01 When Dr Buddhi moved to Arnhem Land to run a health program for Aboriginal children he had no idea he would face the challenge of his life Six months into running the 5 million dollar program he realised it was going to fail and that s when the trouble began In the face of powerful opposition from high profile experts he listened to the elders and took the slow road Through painstaking observation and working in partnership with patients and the community together they found a way to overcome a neglected disease as debilitating and stigmatised as leprosy This is a powerful story of redemption and an honest and inspiring account of a family living and working in remote Aboriginal Australia to give voice to forgotten people Could not put it down It is one of the best things I've read in years in this area full of profound insights encapsulated in a great story Professor Peter Drahos Australian National University

Arnhem Antony Beevor, 2018-05-17 THE SUNDAY TIMES 1 BESTSELLER The great airborne battle for the bridges in 1944 by Britain's Number One bestselling historian and author of the classic Stalingrad Our greatest chronicler of the Second World War Robert Fox Evening Standard _____ On 17 September 1944 General Kurt Student the founder of Nazi Germany's parachute forces heard the growing roar of aeroplane engines He went out on to his balcony above the flat landscape of southern Holland to watch the air armada of Dakotas and gliders carrying the British 1st Airborne and the American 101st and 82nd Airborne divisions He gazed up in envy at this massive demonstration of paratroop power Operation Market Garden the plan to end the war by capturing the bridges leading to the Lower Rhine and beyond was a bold concept the Americans thought it unusually bold for Field Marshal Montgomery But could it ever have worked The cost of failure was horrendous above all for the Dutch who risked everything to help German reprisals were pitiless and cruel and lasted until the end of the war The British fascination with heroic failure has clouded the story of Arnhem in myths Antony Beevor using often overlooked sources from Dutch British American Polish and German archives has reconstructed the terrible reality of the fighting which General Student himself called The Last German Victory Yet this book written in Beevor's inimitable and gripping narrative style is about much more than a single dramatic battle It looks into the very heart of war _____ In Beevor's hands Arnhem becomes a study of national character Ben Macintyre The Times Superb book tirelessly researched and beautifully written Saul David Daily Telegraph Complete mastery of both the story and the sources Keith Lowe Literary Review
