The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science, Art, and Finance ,1858 Arts and Science at Toronto Craig

Brown,2013-02-07 The University of Toronto's Faculty of Arts and Science is older than the university itself Chartered in 1827 as King's College it officially opened in 1843 with four professors and twenty seven students In this lively and engaging book Robert Craig Brown vividly recounts the 150 year history of the faculty's staff students and achievements Brown takes readers on a sweeping journey through the development and growth of the faculty through wartime and peace depression and prosperity He covers teaching and research in the vast array of subjects offered administrative and financial concerns and the Faculty's significant contributions to higher education in Canada Throughout Brown traces how the faculty evolved past its early defining traits of elitism and exclusivity to its current form a remarkably diverse body with students of all ages backgrounds and academic interests

Geographical Thought Lalita Rana,2014-01-01 Geographical thought at any point in time is a manifestation of the prevailing viewpoints and methodological approaches in vogue The development of geography has a history of evolution of over 2000 years The discipline has been crafted over time to incorporate ideas from various schools of thought and several other disciplines from ancient to modern times The existing methodology and the subject matter of Geography is a reflection of this assemblage and evolution The nature of development remained more philosophical up to modern period The First edition of this book published in 2008 was an attempt towards compilation of relevant study material on evolution of Geographic thought in a systematic way up to the modern period The book has been revised with the addition of two elaborated sections i.e one each on the Classical and the Contemporary tradition in geography However the major thrust of present book is on the nature of geographic developments in its contemporary phase More recently the anthropocentrism and a concern about methodology are more evident in the development of discipline
