Art And Piety In The Female Religious Communities Of Renaissance Italy:

Art and Piety in the Female Religious Communities of Renaissance Italy Anabel Thomas, 2003-09-29 Anabel Thomas challenges the accepted assumptions about art works in religious establishments populated by women. They claim that these works did not have gender specific qualities and that religious women played no role in commissioning such imagery or in influencing its design and purpose. Through case studies she establishes that in fact artistic imagery did figure prominently in conventual communities and she also identifies its various institutional roles. Based on archival findings that are published here for the first time, Thomas's groundbreaking study contributes to a growing literature that reexamines the role and influence of gender on religious imagery in the early modern period. Women, Art and Observant Franciscan Piety Kathleen Giles Arthur, 2025-10-01 Caterina Vigri, later Saint Catherine of Bologna, was a mystic, writer, teacher, and nun artist. Her first home, Corpus Domini in Ferrara, was a house of semi-religious women that became a Poor Clare convent and model of Franciscan Observant piety. Vigri's intensely spiritual decoration of her breviary, as well as convent altarpieces that formed a visual program of adoration for the Body of Christ, exemplify the Franciscan Observant visual culture. After Vigri's departure, it was transformed by d'Este women patrons, including Isabella d'Aragona, Isabella d'Este, and Lucrezia Borgia. While still preserving Observant ideals, it became a more elite noblewomen's retreat. Grounded in archival research and extant paintings, drawings, prints, and art objects from Corpus Domini, this volume explores the art, visual culture, and social history of an early modern Franciscan women's community. "Women, Patronage, and Salvation in Renaissance Florence" Stefanie Solum, 2017-07-05 Long obscured by modern definitions of historical evidence and art patronage, Lucrezia Tornabuoni de' Medici's impact on the visual world of her time comes to light in this book, the first full-length scholarly argument for a lay woman's contributions to the visual arts of fifteenth-century Florence. This focused investigation of the Medici family's domestic altarpiece, Filippo Lippi's Adoration of the Christ Child, is broad in its ramifications. Mapping out the cultural network of gender, piety, and power in which Lippi's painting was originally embedded, author Stefanie Solum challenges the received wisdom that women played little part in actively shaping visual culture during the Florentine Quattrocento. She uses visual evidence never before brought to bear on the topic to reveal that Lucrezia Tornabuoni, shrewd power broker, pious poetess, and mother of the Magnificent Lorenzo de' Medici, also had a profound impact on the visual arts. Lucrezia emerges as a fascinating key to understanding the ways in which female lay religiosity created the visual world of Renaissance Florence. The Medici case study establishes at long last a robust historical basis for the assertion of women's agency and patronage in the deeply patriarchal and artistically dynamic society of Quattrocento Florence. As such, it offers a new paradigm for the understanding and future study of female patronage during this period. Women, Art and Architectural Patronage in Renaissance Mantua Sally Anne Hickson, 2016-02-17 Analyzing the artistic patronage of famous and lesser-known women of Renaissance Mantua and introducing new patronage paradigms that existed among those women, this study sheds new light the social cultural and religious impact of the cult of female mystics of that city in the late fifteenth and early sixteenth century Author Sally Hickson combines primary archival research contextual analysis of the climate of female mysticism and a re examination of a number of visual objects particularly altarpieces devoted to local beatae saints and female founders of religious orders to delineate ties between women both outside and inside the convent walls The study contests the accepted perception of Isabella d Este as a purely secular patron exposing her role as a religious patron as well Hickson introduces the figure of Margherita Cantelma and documents concerning the building and decoration of her monastery on the part of Isabella d Este and draws attention to the cultural and political activities of nuns of the Gonzaga family particularly Isabella s daughter Livia Gonzaga who became a powerful agent in Mantuan civic life Women Art and Architectural Patronage in Renaissance Mantua provides insight into a complex and fluid world of sacred patronage devotional practices and religious roles of secular women as well as nuns in Renaissance Mantua

Nuns and Nunneries in Renaissance Florence Sharon T. Strocchia, 2021-04-27 An analysis of Renaissance Florentine convents and their influence on the city s social economic and political history The 15th century was a time of dramatic and decisive change for nuns and nunneries in Florence That century saw the city s convents evolve from small semiautonomous communities to large civic institutions By 1552 roughly one in eight Florentine women lived in a religious community Historian Sharon T Strocchia analyzes this stunning growth of female monasticism revealing the important roles these women and institutions played in the social economic and political history of Renaissance Florence It became common practice during this time for unmarried women in elite society to enter convents This unprecedented concentration of highly educated and well connected women transformed convents into sites of great patronage and social and political influence As their economic influence also grew convents found new ways of supporting themselves they established schools produced manuscripts and manufactured textiles Using previously untapped archival materials Strocchia shows how convents shaped one of the principal cities of Renaissance Europe She demonstrates the importance of nuns and nunneries to the booming Florentine textile industry and shows the contributions that ordinary nuns made to Florentine life in their roles as scribes stewards artisans teachers and community leaders In doing so Strocchia argues that the ideals and institutions that defined Florence were influenced in great part by the city s powerful female monastics Winner Helen and Howard R Marraro Prize American Catholic Historical Association Strocchia examines the complex interrelationships between Florentine nuns and the laity the secular government and the religious hierarchy The author skillfully analyzes extensive archival and printed sources Choice

Augustinian Art and Meditation in Renaissance Florence Antonia Fondaras, 2020-02-03 In Augustinian Art and Meditation in Renaissance Florence Antonia Fondaras reunites the fifteenth century altarpieces painted by Botticelli Piero di Cosimo Filippino Lippi and other masters for the choir of the Augustinian church of Santo Spirito in Florence Departing from a conventional focus on artist and patron the author illuminates the engagement of the Augustinian Hermit friars with the composition and iconography of these pictures and discusses how they were used to fashion the choir into a space suited to the friars institutional and spiritual ideals Fondaras includes a close reading of the choir s most compelling and original altarpieces which were grounded in the writings of Augustine and provided a focal point for the friars sophisticated meditative practices

Nuns and Reform Art in Early Modern Venice Benjamin Paul, 2017-07-05 Decorated by Giovanni Buonconsiglio Jacopo Tintoretto Palma il Giovane Sebastiano Ricci and Giambattista Tiepolo the church of the former Benedictine female monastery Santi Cosma e Damiano occupies an outstanding position in Venice The author of this study argues that from its foundation in 1481 to its dissolution in 1805 Santi Cosma e Damiano was a reform convent and that its nuns employed art and architecture as a means to actively express their specific religious concerns While on the one hand focusing on the basis of extensive archival research on the reconstruction of the history and construction of the convent this study s larger concern is with the religious reform movement its ideas concerning art and architecture and with the convent as a space for female self realization in early modern Venice

Push Me, Pull You ,2011-05-10 Late Medieval and Renaissance art was surprisingly pushy its architecture demanded that people move through it in prescribed patterns its sculptures played elaborate games alternating between concealment and revelation while its paintings charged viewers with imaginatively moving through them Viewers wanted to interact with artwork in emotional and or performative ways This inventive and personal interface between viewers and artists sometimes conflicted with the Church s prescribed devotional models and in some cases it complemented them Artists and patrons responded to the desire for both spontaneous and sanctioned interactions by creating original ways to amplify devotional experiences The authors included here study the provocation and the reactions associated with medieval and Renaissance art and architecture These essays trace the impetus towards interactivity from the points of view of their creators and those who used them Contributors include Mickey Abel Alfred Acres Kathleen Ashley Viola Belghaus Sarah Blick Erika Boeckeler Robert L A Clark Lloyd DeWitt Michelle Erhardt Megan H Foster Campbell Juan Luis Gonz lez Garc a Laura D Gelfand Elina Gertsman Walter S Gibson Margaret Goehring Lex Hermans Fredrika Jacobs Annette LeZotte Jane C Long Henry Luttikhuizen Elizabeth Monroe Scott B Montgomery Amy M Morris Vibeke Olson Katherine Poole Alexa Sand Donna L Sadler Pamela Sheingorn Suzanne Karr Schmidt Anne Rudloff Stanton Janet Snyder Rita Tekippe Mark Trowbridge Mark S Tucker Kristen Van Ausdall Susan Ward

Invisible Cultures Francesco Carrer, Viola Gheller, 2015-10-05 Cultural and social groups whose outlines are difficult to identify are often considered invisible Occasionally material remains compensate for the absence of historiographical records or literary sources concerning these groups sometimes communities or individuals mentioned in literary sources do not appear to have left material signs of their presence On the other hand there are groups or individuals whose existence has to be assumed in every historical period even though they are invisible in both historiography and archaeology Before trying to understand the lifestyle and historical agency of these invisible cultures it is necessary to highlight the reasons why the memory of certain marginalized individuals or socio cultural units disappeared or was obliterated in material culture and in literary sources The postgraduate conference Invisible Cultures Historical and Archaeological Perspectives brought together young scholars from various backgrounds and research interests to discuss these issues This volume presents the results of this debate through a series of selected papers from various interdisciplinary perspectives which analyse a variety of case studies leading to the identification of new theoretical and methodological perspectives aimed at returning voice and presence to the invisibles of history
