the Arts Jason C. White,2022-08-01 This concise guide aims to increase what we understand by innovation in the arts and identify and support opportunities and strategies for the unique ways in which artists and arts administrators think about engage in and pursue successful innovation in their diverse creative practice Innovations in the Arts are often marginalised from a research perspective in part because of the lack of a sound and compelling theoretical framework to support and explain process distinctions from business and management innovation This book identifies three key concepts art innovation art movement innovation and audience experience innovation supported by formal theory for each concept presented and evidenced through case studies in art history In this way the book enables readers to identify explain and support their innovation efforts as visual literary and performing artists and arts administrators It also explores strategies for pursuing innovation in practice Drawing attention to the unique ways in which artists and arts administrators think about and engage in innovation this readable book will be an essential reading for students in all aspects of the creative and cultural industries and an essential guide to developing and promoting innovation in the arts for practitioners and researchers alike Against

Creative Writing Andrew Cowan,2022-09-13 The rise of Creative Writing has been accompanied from the start by two questions can it be taught and should it be taught This scepticism is sometimes shared even by those who teach it who often find themselves split between two contradictory identities the artistic and the academic Against Creative Writing explores the difference between writing which is what writers do and Creative Writing which is the instrumentalisation of what writers do Beginning with the question of whether writing can or ought to be taught it looks in turn at the justifications for BA MA and PhD courses and concludes with the divided role of the writer who teaches It argues in favour of Creative Writing as a form of hands on literary education at undergraduate level and a form of literary apprenticeship at graduate level especially in widening access to new voices It argues against those forms of Creative Writing that lose sight of literary values as seen in the proliferation of curricular couplings with non literary subjects or the increasing emphasis on developing skills for future employment Against Creative Writing written by a writer is addressed to other writers inside or outside the academy at undergraduate or graduate level whether creative or critical

New Insights in the Health Benefits of Art

Olivier Beauchet,Auriane Gros,Andy Hau Yan Ho ,Ian Koebner,2024-06-11 In 2019 the World Health Organization demonstrated with a scoping review that art based activities regardless of their characteristics have promising health benefits More specifically practicing art based activities was demonstrated to contribute to core determinants of health to play a key role in health promotion and prevention especially with regard to the onset of mental illness and age related physical decline and to assist in acute and end of life care This report also underscored first a lack of robust data on art s health benefits meaning data obtained with gold standard experimental study designs i e randomized control trials and second that certain topics e g social health and populations e g older community dwellers have been underexamined In addition little is known about both the mechanisms of art s health benefits and how to implement an art based activity for health purposes in practice

Arts-based and Contemplative Practices in Research and Teaching

Susan Walsh,Barbara Bickel,Carl Leggo,2014-11-13 This volume presents a scholarly investigation of the ways educators engage in artistic and contemplative practices and why this matters in education Arts based learning and inquiry can function as a powerful catalyst for change by allowing spiritual practices to be present within educational settings but too often the relationship between art education and spirituality is ignored Exploring artistic disciplines such as dance drama visual art music and writing and forms such as writing witnessing freestyle rap queer performative autoethnograph and poetic imagination this book develops a transformational educational paradigm Its unique integration of spirituality in and through the arts addresses the contemplative needs of learners and educators in diverse educational and community settings
